

FAMOUS OUTLAW HAS BEEN SEEN NEAR KINSTON

REPORTED THAT JONAS HOUSTON WAS SEEN IN THAT VICINITY EARLY THIS MORNING
SEARCH STARTED

Police tonight endeavoring to locate him. Houston escaped from Hood County, Georgia, where he was being sought. He was seen near Kinston, N. C., Aug. 15. Considerable excitement was caused in certain circles here today when word was received by the local police officials that Jonas Houston, the famous outlaw who escaped from authorities in Blount county, had been seen near this city early this morning. The police have started a thorough search for Houston and it is believed that the latter cannot escape, as authorities in neighboring cities have also been notified to be on a watch for him.

Houston, it is stated, has served time for a number of offenses. Some time ago, he was brought into court and given the alternative of either leaving the State or going to jail. He left, but returned and was placed in jail. It is reported that he was serving a four-year sentence in Edgecombe county.

His escape from that county was of a sensational nature. He fled the shackles from around his ankles and escaped without being detected. He is said to be a desperate character and ready to shoot at the drop of the hat. The police have been told to be careful in their approach and handling of the criminal if he is caught. It is alleged that he has shot several men in recent years.

WORTHY OF HIS FATHER

Several months ago, on the night in the north of France, the eldest son and heir of Albert, king of the Belgians, was enrolled as a private in the Twelfth regiment of the Belgian infantry of the line. Prince Leopold, duke of Brabant, a manly, good-looking lad of fourteen, and as yet under both his education and his training, his father's words, "I cannot finish my work in the course of this war, I rely on my son to do it," represented more than a mere formula.

U.S. TROOPS ARRIVE AT THE BORDER

TROOPS AT BROWNSVILLE ARE REINFORCED BY ADDITIONAL MEN FROM TEXAS CITY

MEXICANS QUIET

Reported that Disturbances Have Been Quelled and That Outlaws Have Retreated into the Interior of Their Country.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 16.—Several hundred United States regulars from Texas City arrived here today to reinforce the companies stationed at Fort Brown. More troops are expected this afternoon and it is reported that about 2,000 in all will be stationed at the fort. Some of these will be dispatched to the smaller towns near here in order to protect the citizens from the invasion of bands of Mexicans from across the river.

The Mexican outbreak appears to have ended, as no new disturbances have occurred during the last three days. Reports from San Benito, Mercedes, Donna, Harlingen and other of the smaller towns near here are to the effect that everything is quiet. Small detachments of troops are stationed at each of the above places.

Bands of Mexicans, which for the last few weeks have been gathering along the border on the Mexican side are said to have retreated into the interior.

NEGRO ENTERS HOUSE

Kinston Lady in Serious Condition as the Result of Bright Which she Received Last Night.

(By Wire to the Daily News)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 15.—Wally Mrs. Herman Goodwin was asleep at her home last night, a negro entered her room and so frightened her that she went into a dead faint, remained unconscious for almost three hours, she was finally revived but her condition today is such as to be considered quite serious.

Mrs. Goodwin was awakened by some faint noise that she interpreted as entering entrance to her room. She had lifted the screen out of the window and entered the room by this means. When the lady awoke, she was standing on a chair, close to her bed. Although she was entirely alone in the house, Mrs. Goodwin called for her husband, and shouted to him to bring his gun. This frightened the negro and he leaped out of the window, suggesting that Mr. Goodwin was really in the house. When she saw the negro leave, Mrs. Goodwin faintly away and was found in this condition by her next-door neighbors, who had heard her screams.

HUMAN SKELETON IS FOUND

Workers Stumble on It While Digging Gravel Near Battle Lake, Minn.

Battle Lake, Minn.—While hauling gravel from the Thore Glens farm northwest of here, workmen discovered a human skeleton. The bones were in good state of preservation and were of mammoth size. The teeth were intact and about twice the size of the average man's. Some of the teeth looked as though they had been filled with cement, but in all probability were found at the time of death and the enamel had decayed, leaving the darker colored interior exposed.

1,250,000 MEN FOR U.S. ARMY

The United States has plenty of material for a voluntary army of one and a quarter million men, and all that is now needed are plans for utilizing it, Major General Leonard Wood declared here today in a statement as to the preparedness of the nation for war. The chief thing needed, he said, was officers, and advocated training students in their junior and senior years along the same lines as now were being used at the military academy.

UNWELCOME TRIBUTE

"Why didn't you vote for my father?" "We wanted you home for little while," replied Farmer Corneal. "We regard you as one of the best speakers in the country, and here's no sense nor justice in letting an unappreciative congress monopolize your eloquence forever."

DOLLY SEES LONG SERVICE

St. Louis Delivery Horse Had Been in Harness for Thirty-two Years.

St. Louis.—Dolly, a delivery horse which had been in the service of the Kane grocery store in Allen for 32 years, died recently.

The horse was so well acquainted with the route and the customers during her many years of service that she did not need to be told where to make stops, and drivers could make their deliveries without touching the lines.

The horse was a pet of Kane who died a few years ago. In compliance with Kane's request the horse was laid to rest in the funeral procession.

TRIED STEAL MOTORCYCLE

Thieves Took Machine Belonging to Gordon Dillon. Left it Later on Bonner Street.

Thieves last night stole a motorcycle from the home of Gordon Dillon, made their escape with the machine, but later left it on Bonner street, where it was found this morning. The motorcycle was stolen out of Mr. Dillon's yard some time early this morning. Sam Reid, who lives on Bonner street, heard men trying to start the machine in front of his house at an early hour today. As he came out of the house, the men who were with the motorcycle, made their escape. Their identity has not yet been learned.

COSTLY ANIMAL PESTS

Australia is cursed with certain pests, such as rabbits, wild dog, kangaroo and blowfly. Large sums of money are spent in an endeavor to lessen the number of rabbits. It is estimated that in Victoria alone 160,000,000 were put to death in 1913. It is generally admitted that the rabbits eat as much as one sheep, and many graziers have long since realized that they cannot profitably run sheep on properties infested with rabbits. Natural enemies, such as foxes and wild dogs, which are troublesome in certain districts, tend to keep the rabbits in check, assisted by the wire setting lines that leadriders are erecting. Kangaroos have caused considerable damage in the northwest part of Western Australia, where ranch owners are said to have paid for thousands of sheep.—From Report of United States Consul Magalhães at Melbourne.
