Cutter Back in Port.
New Bern—The coast guard cutter Pamlico, Captain J. C. Cantwell in command, arrived in port late yesterday afternoon after spending a week cruising around in Pamlico Sound and its tributaries. While away, the Pamlico paid Washington and Behaven a visit. The weather conditions on this last cruise were ideal and the cutter sighted not a single boat in distress. She leaves this afternoon for another cruise in local waters.

Lawyer Wants Whedbee's Job.
New Bern—If Judge Harry W. Whedbee, of Greenville, resigns his seat on the Superior court bench and enters in the race against Congressman John H. Small, it is more than probable that one of New Bern's well known attorneys will be among those who will seek to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Whedbee. During the past few days rumors galore have been going the rounds to the effect that Judge Whedbee will make a try for the office now held by Congressman Small. So far Judge Whedbee has not expressed himself in regard to the matter but his friends claim that they know and that he will certainly make the run. For various reasons the New Bern lawyer who has his eyes on the judgeship, has not sanctioned the making public of his name but declares that he will be ready for this to be given out within a few days.

Doctors to Meet at Kinston.
Kinston—The Lenoir County Medical Society will on March 8 entertain the Medical Society of the Second district, at its regular meeting, according to announcement by Dr. Z. V. Moseley, secretary of the local society, today. There will be possibly 150 physicians here for the occasion, said Dr. Moseley. They will come from a number of counties and include some of the best known medics in this part of the country. The business session will last only two or three hours, but a social program to be arranged by the Kinston M. Ds. will fill the day up nicely for the visitors.

Many Cases Grip.
Kinston—There are more cases of grip here now than at any time during the winter, physicians say, Kinston having been fortunate enough to escape an epidemic at the time when almost the entire eastern half of the country was coughing and sneezing. The weather is typical pneumonia weather.

Three Deaths from Pneumonia.
Magnolia—Clara Johnston died yesterday. His death is the third to occur in the same family in the last few days, his wife and daughter having died a few days ago, all succumbing to pneumonia, and there are still three others of his children very ill.

Five Hundred for Jews.
Elizabeth City—Following address made by I. M. Meekins of this city and Dr. L. A. Mendoza of Norfolk, a collection amounting to nearly five hundred dollars was taken at the Alkrama yesterday afternoon for the fund for the relief of suffering Jews in the warring nations of Europe. This week a personal canvass of the city will be made to solicit funds from those who were not present at the mass-meeting yesterday, and it is confidently expected that the amount of the contribution will be very substantially increased during the week.

OUTDOOR CHILDREN NEEDED, SHE SAYS

Make Better Men and Women,
Mrs. E. T. Seton Assorts.

MUST LEARN NATURAL LAWS
"If You Catch Humanity Young Enough Chance of Letting in the Light is Greater," Declares Wife of Nature Writer—Lauds New Movement.

MRS. ERNEST T. SETON.

attitude toward women. If boys and girls are brought up side by side with certain fundamental ideas of equality there will be no time when the man, having attained his majority, will have to reconstruct his ideas concerning the equal partnership of men and women in the various relationships of life, social, marital and civic.

"Nowadays a boy in many instances is permitted to feel when he comes into young manhood that his mother's opinions no longer have the same value they did when he was a growing boy. He thinks she doesn't understand the important things of life. Later, when his reason begins to operate, he has to fight the inheritance of a secret sense of man's superiority or regard hopelessly fixed in his view of humanity as a whole.

"One of the important things in the education of a boy is first of all to let him know the physical aspect of the country he lives in, the out of doors world about him and the natural laws that govern everything in it.

"And how important it is that the girls know outdoor life too! Therefore, that the training shall be fundamentally alike up to the point where it naturally separates, it is important that girls as well as boys shall have much of outdoor life in their younger years.

"A great deal of the value of outdoor life and work comes from the recovery of past knowledge of how to do things. It is a working out of the problem of development—a getting back to the source of creation in acquiring knowledge and efficiency in doing things.

"I see this outdoor movement as a vast picture. At the bottom is darkness, and ascending are layers of increasing light until the sun rays out its full glory above. Struggling, moving and growing all through these layers is humanity—souls in all stages of development. If you catch humanity young enough the chance of letting in the light is greater.

"If we are to develop in America distinctive schools of art, music and handicraft we must lay the foundations on those things which were distinctly American—woodcraft, outdoor life in general, the beautiful customs of the North American Indians and their art and picture writing. These we must first understand.

"Our woodcraft work is founded on the fundamental natural laws which were known to the North American Indians; hence many of their designs and symbols have been used in seeking to get back to the big constructive principles that govern human life. For instance, much symbolism is used. These symbols have their proper meaning for the passerby and their deeper spiritual significance for those who seek it.

"For our people to get the full benefit of the occasional respite from the workaday world that camping trips give they must know the wild by heart, and this can best be done by studying it when young; hence the importance of woodcraft work for boys and girls."

THOUSANDS AWAITING GIRL.

Child Was Lost When Her Grandparents Willed Money to Her.
Spokane, Wash.—Somewhere in the inland empire is a little girl between eleven and twelve years of age for whom thousands of dollars are waiting. A widespread search is now being made by Mrs. Lena Johnson of Elm, J. Ida, a distant relative, who has the fortune in trust.

Disowned by her own parents, the mother took the girl when a baby to Mrs. Johnson, who was a relative, and asked her to find a home for the child. Mrs. Johnson brought the baby to Spokane in 1904. A few weeks later a home was found by Dr. Mary Latham, who was then head of the Spokane Children's Home society. The home was that of a farmer living somewhere near Spokane. A year later all of the records of the society were destroyed by fire.

In their old age the parents of the mother of the little girl repented of their attitude against their daughter, and when they died some time ago their will showed that all of their money had been left to the granddaughter.

WIRELESS LINKS TWO OCEANS

Battleship in the Atlantic Talks to Another in Pacific.
Washington—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced that for the first time a wireless message had been successfully transmitted from a naval vessel in the Atlantic to one in the Pacific.

The experiment was successfully tried when the battleship Wyoming, off Cape Henry, Va., exchanged messages with Admiral Cameron McKittrick, Winslow, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, on board the cruiser San Diego in Guaymas harbor, west coast of Mexico. The messages were easily deciphered. By air line Guaymas is approximately 2,000 miles from Cape Henry.
