WASHINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA, FEB. 23, 1916.

PHOOLISH PHEELINGS.

When, after you've married "the prettiest girl in the the world," you see her remove her wig and her false teeth for the first time.

Things to be grateful for: That parents don't call their children after the names of some of the Pullman cars.

The Columbia State isn't so very far off the truth when it says "Our understanding is that the last American shipment of food for the starving Belgians was the best the Germans ever ate."

Listen to the Fayetteville News: "Negroes are coming this way, yells the Washington News. 'Escaped convicts headed for Kinston, says the Kinston News. Will someone stop the racket?' These negroes belong to us fellows over here and if we choose to have them running seventeen different directions at the same time, why that's our little frolic.

The frequency with which bombs are being found in various cities has caused us to carefully peer under our desk every morning when we get down to work.

We trust that after what one of our local residents had to say about New Bern's Booby Beauties, Crumpler, of the New Bern Sun-Journal will hold his peace forever more.

Talking about "phoolish pheelings," we had ours yesterday. One of the ladies of the city, whom we had never had the pleasure of meeting, came into the office with a news item. We took our feet off the desk, put down our pipe and greeted her. "So this is Mr. G— Well I never!" And the tone in which she said that made us feel about fifteen inches tall.

OUR "CIVILIZATION."

Mixed in with accounts of the progress of the various forces in Europe, readers of the newspapers frequently come across articles telling of some vile atrocities that have been committed by one or the other of the different armies. We read of the cruel treatment that is accorded to prisoners, of the massacre of women, old men and children and of the outrages committed against young girls. It is hard to believe that men of today can be guilty of such acts.

Many newspapers carried a full-page advertisement Sunday in which the British government gave a detailed description of some of the horrors committed by German soldiers. German's "civilization" has always been set as the standard of the world. There is less crime committed in the German empire in time of peace than in any other country. And yet, when her men are given the opportunity they behave like savages of the worst type.

Germany makes the same statement regarding the armies of the allies. There is probably considerable truth in the charges made on both sides. We have been guilty of deeds of the same nature, if reports of the activities of the Northern armies during the Civil war are to be believed.

And yet, we are all proud of our "civilization," of our "refinement" and of our "ideals." What do they amount to after all? They are only skin-deep and when the opportunity is presented, when there is no fear of consequences, we behave like barbarians—like beasts. We lose every vestige of decency or of self-respect and we fall into the habits that our ancestors of the stone age used. Civilized? Certainly we are civilized when there is danger of being punished for any violation of the laws of civilization. But otherwise—

Talk about inconsistency! How did the parents of this alleged spy, Lincoln, whose name has been in the papers recently, ever have the nerve to tack "Ignatius" to such a distinguished surname?

EXPENSIVE RIVERS.

According to Congressman Frear, who has started a fight against the rivers and harbors "pork barrel," the government has spent on the improvement of the Mississippi, Ohio and lower Missouri rivers more than $200,000,000, an average of about $44,000 a mile. And in the face of this vast expenditure, he finds that less than one-tenth of the old river commerce remains. The actual traffic on these three rivers, he says, for an average haul, throughout their length, reaches less than 1,000,000 tons.

The total tonnage of the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri, he claims, is only five per cent of the commerce handled in the harbor of Buffalo every year, and a trifle more than two per cent of that handled by the Superior-Duluth harbor in 1913.

The question naturally suggests itself, if the commerce of our big rivers steadily decreases in spite of huge expenditures, is it worth while? Many experts still have hopes of reviving and multiplying the former glories of these streams. And possibly they are right. The moral, of course, is that the government should take rivers and harbors out of politics and adopt a definite policy of waterways improvement, to be carried out by a permanent nonpartisan board of experts.

Senator Overman declares that the Democratic slogan this year will be: "Democrats for peace; Republicans for war." And on the face of that, it seems strange that practically all of the Republicans are in favor of the president's preparedness program while there is a split in the Democratic party over the issue.

That Camel blend turns the trick!

Get the new flavor and new satisfaction the blending of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos provides in Camel Cigarettes. You'll prefer that blend to either kind smoked straight! Prove this to yourself by comparing Camels with any cigarette at any price!

Smoke Camels to your heart's content because they are freed from tongue-bite and throat-parch; because they leave no unpleasant cigarette after-taste. Quality is so apparent in each puff, smokers do not look for or expect premiums or coupons.

That new mellow-mildness, that new "body" puts an entirely new idea of cigarette satisfaction into your mind!

Camel Cigarettes

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 30 for 10c; or ten packages 200 cigarettes in glassine-paper-covered cartons for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

STRANGLER BY BEEFSTEAK.

His First Meal in Twenty Hours is Fatal to Conroy.

Hartford, Conn.—After having fasted twenty hours Daniel Conroy, forty-seven, a wood turner, accepted the invitation of his friend, John Henry Southwick of 48 Cedar street, a packer, to partake of a beefsteak dinner at the Southwick home.

Hardly had Conroy started his hearty meal when a piece of steak caught in his throat and he began to choke so violently that Mrs. Southwick summoned a physician. Before the doctor arrived Conroy had strangled to death.

FOR CHILDREN'S COUGH.

You cannot use anything better for your child's cough and cold than Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar mixed with healing and soothing balsams. It does not contain anything harmful and is slightly laxative, just enough to expel the poisons from the system. Dr. King's New Discovery is anti-septic—kills the cold germs—raises the phlegm—loosens the cough and soothes the irritation. Don't put off treatment. Coughs and Colds often lead to serious lung troubles. It is also good for adults and the aged. Get a bottle today. All Druggists.
