VILLA FORCES MEN TO JOIN AT POINT OF PISTOL

With U. S. Army Headquarters in the Field in Mexico, April 1, (via Courier to Columbus, N. M.)—According to many Mexicans, most of the comparatively few men with Francisco Villa are serving him against their wishes. It is said Villa impressed many of his followers, forcing them to accompany him on the raid into Columbus and since, under penalty of death, this argues that he will have mighty little success in any attempt to rouse the country through which he is fleeing against the pursuing columns. The cry, "The Gringos are coming," that Villa is probably spreading through the valleys and along the hillside of northern Mexico, and which is expected to prove a source of danger to the Americans, is having and will have no effect, if prominent natives of the country are to be believed.

Conscription in Violent Form. "Villa made men and boys go with him at the point of the pistol when he came up this way last time," said an old resident yesterday. "They didn't want to go. They are sick of war. But they were afraid to resist. It was conscription in a violent form. "What was true of the people along his last line of march is probably true of the people everywhere else throughout the republic. Villa may be able to add a few to his following by the same methods, but I do not believe he will raise any considerable army as has been reported. The reports that trickle in from the far-flung American front do not indicate that Villa is adding to his crew. In his flight down along the Casas Grandes valley he was seen by many persons and, while their estimates of the number of his men vary, it seems to be agreed that he didn't have over 300.

SAYS U. S. CAN HOLD NORWEGIAN TRADE War's End Should Not Stop Dealings, Bryn Thinks. RELATIONSHIP IS GROWING.

Norwegian Minister to United States H. H. Bryn Declares Outcome of European Conflict Will Mean That America Will Be Depended Upon For Trade.

New York.—The United States should retain the greater part of the trade with Norway acquired since the war, according to H. H. Bryn, Norwegian minister to the United States. Addressing the new Norwegian American chamber of commerce at the Waldorf Astoria recently, he intimated that the outcome will almost entirely depend upon this country. "The commercial relations between the two countries have grown very rapidly," Mr. Bryn said. "It is not to be expected that trade will continue. It was interrupted because Norway was shut out from ground east of S. H. Peters and his family lived there many months before he built a home above ground. The storehouse ran up the slope and to persons passing over the road the appearance of a great wall was visible. Hundreds of persons visited this cave before and wondered who the owner of it was, as it was not marked by timbers. When the war years came a little spring in the cave which furnished the water for the family ceased and the house at times, and in recent years when the rain became violent the cave filled with water. The powder later but a lease almost over the cave.

S. H. Peters was but little younger during the war years than was required to build a solid home of the same size. So he has seen the first lines of most of the war. The plaster was the only one to be seen here. Today it is the only one to be seen in the whole city.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Bread Tea, or as the German folks call it "Hammerger Brust Tee" at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure cough, as it opens the pores of the skin, relaxing congestion. Also loosens the mucus, thus driving a cold from the system. Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil. When your back is sore and lame or lameness or rheumatism has you bothered up, don't suffer. Get a small bottle of oil, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone. Don't say "oh, oh!" This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

LIFE IN A SUB NOBEL

Garber, Okla.—The falling of five feet of cement porch of a farmhouse a half mile north of Garber brings to light the unique home of a pioneer of this section. Under this porch was a cave. The cave was dug in 1851. At a point along a little ravine a sandstone ledge cropped out, and there S. H. Peters tunneled under and excavated two large rooms, with a sandstone ledge about three feet thick for a roof. The rooms extended sixty feet under the ground, and at the lowest place there was perhaps eight feet of dirt on top. To the back room a skylight 2 by 5 feet was opened. The rooms were plastered and white coated, and the roof was white washed, making it hot enough for one to read newspapers in any part of the cave. It was very dry at that time, and coffee kept in the cave

GERMANY HAS SOLVED THE BABY AND HEALTH PROBLEMS

By CARL W. ACKERMAN, United Press Staff Correspondent Berlin, via Amsterdam, April 3.—Germany's infant death rate has not increased, as was supposed in Germany's neighbor countries. On the contrary, it has fallen off materially. Also, Germany's general health is better. S. S. McClure, the American newspaper and magazine man, has been investigating the matter and these are his conclusions: Every belligerent country wants all the babies it can get, to make up for losses in battle. There was talk in Germany recently of offering a premium for babies. This has been found unnecessary. Mr. McClure says; Germany has solved the problem otherwise. This has been accomplished, he explains, by doubling the mothers' "maternity wages" and by discovery that by the addition of vegetables, apple sauce and oatmeal to the babies' diet and the reduction of their allowances of milk, at the age of five months, the infants' health benefits so greatly that far fewer of them die than heretofore. The American's inquiry has covered both Germany and Belgium. "It is astonishing," he says, "what has been done toward saving the babies' lives. There seems to have been no difficulty in getting them born. The problem has been how to keep them alive afterward. "Formerly, and people were too poor to buy milk. Now, in Germany and Belgium, it is obligatory to make an allowance of one litre daily to each mother.

"Soldiers' wives each receive a 20-cent daily cash allowance. Eight weeks before the birth of a child this allowance is increased 50 per cent, and after the child has been born there is an additional 50 per cent increase if the infant is nursed. "Berlin's normal milk supply is 1,000,000 litres daily. Today two-thirds as much as this is available. In Berlin alone there are 10,000 cows. Their milk goes to the babies. "The doctors take such excellent care of mothers that the infant death rate has slumped from 19 per 100—the pre-war rate—to 11 per 100, at present. "Illness among school children has shown a heavy decrease. Insurance companies report less illness among the people generally than before the war. "The meatless days and the absence of luxurious foods are simply making a healthier people. It is marvelous. It has been to Brussels. I have seen Brand Whitehead, Gen. von Bissing and others and I learn that infectious disease is almost unknown in Belgium. There has been a tremendous decrease in the number of tuberculosis cases. "Ninety-seven per cent of the Belgian communes show a lower death rate than ever before. The explanation is that the people eat less meat, and furthermore the supervision of the milk supply makes it possible for everyone who needs it to obtain it in adequate quantities. "Therefore, why a premium on babies?"

trading with those countries who had dealt with for years. For example, you know, is a country that dislikes a change. The trade is established here now and is growing. It is difficult to break it off.

The new organization, which wants it understood that it is not a hypothetical one, drew about 200 to its first dinner. The name is explained by the fact that over in Christiania a similar organization has been formed under the name of the Almonden Norwegian chamber of commerce and trade and working to improve its trade.

President Gustav Malmstrom, secretary, said to the members of the organization at the main table was Norway, and it is not general. Christiania, then, and Norway in common. It is a trade of ships for other things. It is a trade of ships for other things. It is a trade of ships for other things. It is a trade of ships for other things.

"Tell us the secret of your wonderful merchant marine," we suggested, and he replied that it was the fact that Norway was a free country, and that for their enterprise and their political aim.

MERIDEN PASTOR BARS TEASING OF YOUTHFUL LOVERS

Meriden, Conn., April 3.—The Rev. R. M. Hancock, pastor of the South Meriden Episcopal church, today is hailed as a local authority on love, courtship and marriage. His views, as given in a lecture before the Women's Christian Temperance Union, are as follows: "Love making should be encouraged by parents under proper restriction. "Young people should not be teased about being in love. "Many girls mistake love for fascination. "A man should not court a girl during the best days of her life if he doesn't love her. "Hasty marriages should be discouraged. "Second marriages sometimes are more successful than first. Moreover, what's a man to do with four children and no wife? "A man should have a home for his wife and not ask her to live with elder or younger people in the first stages of her wedded life. "It's becoming harder every day for a woman to catch a man. Men are not marrying like they used to."

2,000 BABIES IN PARADE TODAY

New York, April 3.—Two thousand and potential Presidents of the United States and First Ladies of the Land, ranging in age from six months to a couple of years and all riding in perambulators, will kick and gurgle and goo-goo and howl their way up and down the length and breadth of Harlem to advertise the Baby Carnival this afternoon.

Mrs. John Parroy Mitchell, wife of Mayor Mitchell and the wives of Borough President Marcus M. Marks of Manhattan, and Douglas Matheson of the Bronx, will select a prize infant.

It is timidly suggested by the present reporter of this event that his friend, young Mr. Donald Pierce, aged 24 months, blue-eyed and exceedingly fat, not to say roly-poly and bounding, will be the most distinguished one present. Donald not only was the first baby in the United States to wear a yaller "Votes for Women" banner on the buggy in which he does his best toe and heel kicking, but he is, also, an inventor.

Donald's suffragist mother paraded him in so many parades and got so tired doing it that Donald, in a tongue only wee chaps like Don can get across to fond parents, suggested that she have Mr. Pierce, whom Donald seemed to recall having seen around the house at meal times, build a collapsible chair of steel and canvas and rivet it to the perambulator so Mother could sit down between spells of parading. This little thing Mr. Pierce did, with the result that Donald is one of the most experienced paraders in New York, not excepting the Ancient Order of Hibernians or the O'Flaherty Man.

HAS 4 BABIES: WANTS MORE PAY

West Coaster, Pa., April 3.—Mary Martha, Ruth and Benjamin are the names given to quadruplets that have just arrived in the home of William Paschall. The infants weigh from three to four pounds each and have eleven older brothers and sisters, the eldest of whom is fifteen years old. About two years ago twins were born to Paschall and his wife. The mother and her four new infants are reported doing well.

Paschall, who is a teamster, has informed his employers that the addition to his family compels him to
