JAMES L. MAYO PROPRIETOR
CARL GOERCH EDITOR

WASHINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA, MAY 16, 1916.

Tomorrow is the Big Day!

If you haven't decorated your store yet, it's time to get busy.

Just as a reminder, we might inform those two hundred of Washington's prettiest girls, that there are a number of bachelors enrolled in the membership of the Elks.

Old Jupe, Phylus had his little session yesterday, which was greatly appreciated, especially by the farmers. But for the sake of every Elk in North Carolina, Jupe, old boy, make it a point to visit some other city besides Washington during Wednesday and Thursday.

We sincerely hope that the paragraphers will refrain from any reference to the death of the automobile racing driver, Carl Linberg, as "the fall of Lemberg."

"Of course the reason Sir Edward Carson didn't get soaked was the fact that he had an Elster with him," sagely observes the Greensboro News. True enough, beloved friend, but don't forget that he also landed on Cork when he returned to Ireland.

Judging from the list of names published in the Daily News, there appears to be little doubt but that the big majority of the merchants favor closing their stores half a day a week during the summer months.

No one can doubt the fact that the Casement case meant much to Casement.

Raleigh is having a clean-up week. Night work will undoubtedly be greatly assisted by that city's new white way.

Those people who are claiming that Bryan is for Wilson, will soon be saying that Roosevelt has been selected to manage Wilson's campaign.

"THE ANKLE GAZERS."

It wasn't so very long ago that the mention of the State of Texas brought forth thoughts of the wild and woolly west, cowboys, gun fights and all those kind of things. Texas is fast losing that reputation, however, and the new laws that are being made and enforced in the State are beginning to border on the opposite extreme.

The Charlotte Observer reprints the following article from the Temple (Texas) Mirror, which goes to show just exactly how "kiltured" the Texans are growing:

The Dallas police force has declared war on ankle gazers. Bums who stand around the street corners with nothing to do but train their trilling lamps on the divinely shaped pedals of fair and beautiful hosed ladies, will wind up at the police court. A sweeping order has gone forth, the regular force has been augmented with plain clothes men, and a strenuous campaign has been launched to chase this evil into a hole somewhere and stop up the hole.

That is right get the ankle gazers; they are vile and vulgar. A man who has nothing more to do in this world than "triddle" at a passing woman, is a poor ornament to civilization, but he would make a very pretty jail bird.

IT'S UP TO US.

It is up to Washington to "do herself proud" tomorrow. It is up to us to show the hundreds of visitors an entertainment which will long be remembered by them. It is up to us to make them "talk Washington" for a good long time after they leave here.

In order to do this, it is up to each and every citizen to do his part. We can all clean up any rubbish or litter that may happen to be around our homes or business houses; we can decorate for the occasion, and show the visitors that we appreciate their presence and we can resolve to do our utmost to make their stay here a pleasant one.

The convention means much to Washington. If it is carried through successfully, it will be a big advertisement for the city and its people. In other words, it will put Washington on the map to thousands who have never seen or heard of the place.

THE AUTOMOBILE TRAMP.

A new sort of tramp has appeared. He is the "auto tramp." He neither treads the dusty highways nor rides on break beams, but gets about the country in an automobile.

"It's the easiest thing in the world," says a tramp, appropriately named Charles Paradise, who recently finished a 1,600 mile tour from Miami, Fla., to New York, and is now en route for San Francisco by the same careful method.

"All I do is stand at the side of the road and wave my hand at a machine. Then, when it stops I ask if there's any room and if they mind giving me a lift. I haven't met a grouchy one yet."

He makes 150 to 200 miles a day. He enjoys the most agreeable mode of travel known to civilization, without having to worry about the price of gasoline. If the car breaks down or blows a tire, he simply gets out and hails another one.

Such "tramping" is based on an amiable weakness of human nature. An automobile owner is proud of his car and willing to share its enjoyment with friend or stranger, even with a hobo, if the hobo is cheerful and moderately presentable. Mr. Paradise' tribute to the motorists if one of which they may be proud. Whatever their faults, they are not "tightwads." Not the least of the motor car's virtues is this very quality of making its owners open-hearted dispensers of hospitality.

Remedy Prescribed By Many Doctors

Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs Proves Most Efficient.

Dr. W. A. Evans, writing for the Chicago Tribune, makes the assertion that practically everyone, at some time or other, suffers from constipation. This applies regardless of age or condition in life.

The congestion of stomach waste in the bowels is evidenced in various ways: bloating, eructation of foul stomach gases, sick headache, languor, all indicate constipation, and call for prompt attention, not only to relieve the present discomfort but also to avoid possible disease that follows neglect of this important function.

Harsh cathartics and violent purgatives should not be employed, as these afford only temporary relief, while they serve to shock the entire system. A mild laxative such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is far preferable and is now the remedy generally used and prescribed by many doctors. It is free from opiate or narcotic drugs, acts easily and pleasantly, without griping or other pain and is a safe, effective family remedy.

MR. CHAS. SCHELL.

Mr. Chas. Schell, 132 Church St., Grenada, Miss., writes that he found relief himself by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and now keeps it on hand for family use. A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should have a place in every family medicine chest. A trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

MANY COMING FROM NEW BERN

(New Bern Sun-Journal)

There is not the least doubt but that fully one hundred local Elks will go to Washington on Wednesday to attend the annual meeting of the State Association which is to be held there on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The local members of the Antlered tribe are anxious to win the cup which will be presented to the lodge having the largest number of members in the parade to be held on Wednesday evening and are planning to make a big showing.

As an added attraction for the day, Max Smith, the local wrestling champion, will wrestle with Joe Willis, Washington's champion. The Norfolk Southern Railway Company will operate a special train from New Bern. This will leave here at 6:45 and will leave Washington at midnight.
