

BABY HAS GREAT GRANDMOTHER, AGED ONLY 49

Here is a family record that is hard to beat:
Baby Jessie Viola Jeffrey, age four days.

Mrs. Veno L. Jeffrey, baby's mother, age fifteen years.
Mrs. Jessie May, mother of Mrs. Jeffrey, and baby's grandmother, age twenty-nine years.
Mrs. Leona Smith, mother of Mrs. May, and baby's great grandmother, age forty-nine years.

Venice, Cal., Sept. 11.—With the birth of Viola Jeffrey, Mrs. Leona Smith, not yet fifty years of age, became a great grandmother. The baby's mother is Veno L., wife of Russell W. Jeffrey, and is only fifteen years old. Mrs. Jeffrey is the daughter of Mrs. Jessie May, who is a grandmother at twenty-nine years. She, in turn, is the daughter of Mrs. Smith, who is at present looking after the comfort of her great-granddaughter.

Mrs. Jeffrey was only thirteen when she became a wife. Her husband is twenty-one. Her mother was only thirteen also when she wed. Mrs. Smith was married when she was fifteen years old.

WRIST WATCH IS HERE TO STAY

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 11.—The wrist watch will be more in vogue than ever before, lavallieres will remain popular for at least another year, and earrings and brooches will be worn more generally than for several years, according to speakers at the annual convention of the American National Retail Jewelers' Association here.

"The wrist watch not only is ornamental, but to many has become a necessity," said J. R. Tack, of Newark, N. J., second vice president of the association.

IS SUNSTROKE DISEASE OR IS IT ACCIDENT?

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Whether sunstroke is a disease or an accident today is causing municipal authorities $2,000 worth of worry. George Rau, a city employe, was stricken while at work. He sued the city to compensate himself for the "accident." The city disclaims responsibility.

MAN'S LOVE SO GREAT IT DRIVES WIFE FROM HIM

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—Peter Gerhard, a chauffeur, loved his wife Elsie so much that she left him; then it caused her to lose her position as a maid and him to lose his position as a chauffeur, and his love is not yet under control, according to testimony before Judge Graham.

Mrs. Gerhard, who is suing for a divorce, was before the court with a request to have her husband restrained from visiting her. She said he loved her so much he made her life a burden, so she separated from him. She obtained a position as a maid. Her husband stood in front of the place where she was employed all night in the hope of catching a glimpse of her. Her employers did not like him to stand there all night, so they discharged her. His employers discharged him because he neglected his work to watch before his wife's residence.

Gerhard told the court he is madly in love with his wife, but he would try to curb his desire to see her.

THEY'RE DOING IT EVERYWHERE

(The New Bernian)
Some time Thursday night several pint bottles of a good brand of whiskey, which had been confiscated by the police in raiding "blind tigers," were stolen from a locker at the city hall. The whiskey had been locked up and was being held as evidence against an alleged "tiger," but when an officer went to get it to carry it to the court house, it was found missing and the authorities are absolutely ignorant of how the thief succeeded in gaining entrance to the locker.

While only meagre clues were left for the officers to work on, every effort will be made to ascertain the identity of the thief and bring him to justice.

Keeping up with the procession is not enough for the General—he must lead. And lead he does—in volume, quality and price. The General's leadership is due to the enormous resources at his command—the five m's of modern manufacturing—men, money, mills, machinery and materials.

Men who have learned the roofing business through years of practical experience are in charge of every department of the business. Men who have made a life study of the blending of asphalts comprise the General's Board of Expert Chemists.

Money—the means to promote efficiency, increase out-put, reduce cost, prevent waste—is at the General's call in abundance.

Mills—the largest roofing mills in the world are the General's. They are advantageously located at points where cost of fuel, access to raw materials and quick distribution of finished products are most favorable.

Machinery—the most modern known to the roofing business, equips each of the General's enormous mills. Not a dollar is left unspent which would speed up production, increase quality or lower costs.

Materials—the food of the mills—is bought by the General in enormous quantities, and stored. This means the pick of the market and favorable buying, and no loss from idle machinery, due to shortage of materials.

Thus the success of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is no secret, but is due to a combination of resources and experience without parallel in the roofing business.

CERTAIN-TEED is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a scientific blend of soft asphalts, the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalts, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out so destructive to the ordinary roof.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it lasts longer.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roof, from skyscraper to small residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.
