JAMES L. MAYO, PROPRIETOR
CARL GOERCH, EDITOR

WASHINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA, SEPT. 13, 1916.

The evil that men do lives after them, and the good is oft interred with their bones. So let it be with Congress!

Well, there's one consolation anyway. If the poor people can't afford to drink milk, they can drink cream.

REV. N. HARDING'S WORK.

On next Sunday morning, Rev. N. Harding will celebrate his forty-third anniversary as rector of St. Peter's church. His congregation desire to make the occasion a memorable one for him and the attendance at the services will doubtless be extremely large.

Mr. Harding, without question, has done more good for this community than any person who has ever resided within the bounds of Beaufort county.

So why go into long columns of flowery discourse, which serve only to detract the mind of the reader from the character of the man? We will refrain from doing so, for we realize that every person—young and old—who knows Mr. Harding, also knows of his work and what he has accomplished better than anyone could ever hope to put it in print.

His long life of usefulness stands out as an example of unselfishness, brotherly love and devotion to God and man. It is an example which other men should follow, but we doubt if there are any of us good enough to even hope to attain the results which he has accomplished.

And all Washington could do no better, on Sunday morning, than to get down on their knees and say: "Thank God for such a man among us!"

THE ADVISORY BOARD.

At the April meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, this year, the following gentlemen—W. H. Stancill, W. H. Ellison, C. T. Harrison, W. M. Cooper, J. A. Hodges, O. B. Rawles, C. C. Williams, W. O. Ellis, O. B. Wynn and James Ellison—were appointed as an advisory board to the Washington Township Road Commission.

We are informed that T. R. Hodges declined to accept a position on the board, and that James Ellison was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The purpose of that advisory board was to do just what its name implies—to give advice relative to the road work in the township.

It appears, however, that in establishing the new route beyond the county home, the Road Commission did not consider that the opinion of the advisory board was worth anything to them, as we have been unable to find any member of the board who was called into consultation over the matter.

In appointing this board, we believe that the County Commissioners felt that they had named representative men of the township and that these men should be consulted with and some consideration given to their opinion in establishing routes and other details of the work of which the Road Commission had supervision.

But the entire matter appears to have narrowed itself down to a one-man job, and there is considerable doubt expressed as to the ability of that man.

THE INCREASE IN PRICE OF MILK.

Local dairymen gave notice, during the early part of the week, that the price in milk had advanced and would in the future be thirteen cents per quart to the retail purchaser. They claim that they have been selling milk lower than the dairymen in any other city in the State, and that the high cost of feed for cows, makes the increase in price imperative.

We have no doubt but that they are correct, for it is well known that the price of feed and fodder for cows has advanced considerably.

But we don't see why the dairymen in this part of the State cannot do the same as do the dairymen of Kansas and the other western States. There the farmers ship milk at twenty cents a gallon, and make a good profit out of it. Why? Because they raise their own feed, and don't have to pay the feed dealer his profit, nor the railroads for the cost of freight.

If the dairymen here did the same, we have no doubt but that the price of milk would not have to be increased in order to enable them to make a profit out of their work.

THE ELECTION IN MAINE.

Republicans, the nation over, are jubilant over the result of the primary election, which was held in Maine on Tuesday. They believe in the saying that "Maine points the way," and as Maine goes, so will the country go.

And the Democrats are equally jubilant because the Republican majority has been reduced considerably over what it was at the last election.

Let both sides rejoice as much as they please. But we believe that what Maine has done, and what the nation WILL DO, are two entirely different matters. Of course, the country may go Republican, but that won't be because Maine went Republican. And neither does it follow that the Republican majority in other States will be reduced in proportion to that in Maine. No one State is going to determine which way the people of the country are going to vote. It will take the entire country to decide the outcome of the election. And it isn't going Republican, because Maine went Republican, nor is it going Democratic because the Democrats secured a larger vote than they did at the last election.

UP SHE GOES! --- WHAT NOW? WHY, THE PRICE OF MILK! YIP!

"I see by the papers,"
Said Mrs. Moo Cow,
"Where the men are working
Only eight hours now.
So I, too, am going
To go on a strike.
And you folks can kick
As much as you like."

And the result of Mrs. Cow's decision is a raise in the price of milk. Local dairymen gave out the announcement at the beginning of the week. Here is the new scale of prices for the retail trade:
By the gallon, 50 cents.

By the quart, 12 1/2 cents.
By the pint, 7 cents.
Not only the retail consumer, but also the wholesaler will be forced to stand the raise. And the first thing that the drug stores did was to raise the price of milk drinks from 5 to 10 cents per copy. What the man, who buys his milk by the pint or quart, is going to do, is a problem. About all that is left for him, though, is to buy a pint and mix it with a pint of water. Then he can proudly boast to his neighbors that he is getting his milk for seven cents a quart. That seems to be about the only course open, in our opinion.

The Town Gossip

LAST NIGHT I HAD to go TO THE Chamber OF COMMERCE. AND MY wife DIDN'T WANT to stay AT HOME by herself. SO I took her TO THE movies AND LEFT her AND WENT on TO THE meeting. AND THERE was A LOT OF work BROUGHT UP. AND VARIOUS committees HAD TO make THEIR REPORTS. AND IT was FIVE MINUTES to ten BEFORE WE adjourned. AND I left IN A hurry BECAUSE I knew THAT THE show CLOSED AT ten o'clock. AND IF I didn't GET THERE by then, MY WIFE would have TO WALK home BY HERSELF. AND I got ALMOST THERE,

WHEN I happened TO REMEMBER THAT I had left MY PIPE UP IN THE Chamber. AND IF I didn't GO BACK after it I WOULD have to wait UNTIL MORNING. AND I expected THAT THEY would LOCK UP the rooms JUST AS soon AS THEY all left there. AND I was kinder UP AGAINST IT. AND IF I went BACK AFTER my pipe, I KNEW THAT MY wife WOULD HAVE to walk HOME by herself. AND IF I didn't GET MY pipe, I COULDN'T smoke IN THE morning. AND IT didn't TAKE ME MORE THAN a minute TO MAKE up my mind. AND I turned around AND WENT back AFTER THE pipe. I THANK you.

Smokers are pleased with this new kind of cigarette delight—"satisfy," yet mild!

No other cigarette ever did or can give them this new enjoyment. Because no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend!
