MORE THAN ONE U-BOAT OFF COAST ENGLAND IS READY TO STIR UP ALL KINDS OF TROUBLE

England Is Enraged And Bitter Feeling Shown Toward U. S.

(By United Press)
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The possible disagreement between Great Britain and the United States as a result of German submarine depredations off the American coast, is forecast by the Daily Chronicle. On every hand, the most bitter feeling is expressed over the latest activities of the U-boats off the coast of New England. The press this morning gave column after column of the strongest kind of editorial matter, urging the government to put an end to the submarine warfare at all costs. The general sentiment appears to be that the United States should at once send an ultimatum, forbidding any further acts of the kind that were committed yesterday. Some of the papers urge that Great Britain "insist" that this be done.

ENTIRE FLEET OF GREECE HAS JOINED THE REVOLUTIONISTS

(By United Press)
ROME, Oct. 9.—The entire Greek fleet has joined the revolutionists, it was reported today. The entire government is in a turmoil today. The masses are clamoring anew for war and the papers are urging that Greece cast her lot with the allies. The country is seething with excitement. The aero-fleet of the country joined the allies several days ago. Many Greek soldiers are already fighting with the country. It is apparent that a declaration of war must come from Greece within a very short time.

(By United Press)
COLOGNE, Oct. 9.—It is not impossible that Gerard is conveying peace proposals to America. Before departing from Berlin, he conferred at length with the foreign office. It is believed here that it is time for Washington to intervene in behalf of peace.

This statement was officially passed by the German censor and is therefore believed to be tremendously significant.

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS TO RECEIVE BICKETT ON FRIDAY

(Special Correspondent)
The Washington & Annapolis Railroad has announced through Mr. A. D. MacLean, president, that it will operate a special train to Aurora on Friday, October 13th. The train will leave Washington on Friday morning at 10:30 and returning will leave Aurora about 4 p. m.

One of the greatest meetings ever held in Beaufort county will take place on that day. It has been advertised through the press and in almost every nook and corner of the county, that Aurora expects every citizen in the county to come down that day and be her guest. For weeks committees have been appointed making arrangements for this affair, and preparations have been made to lavishly entertain all who come. The big barbecue in the county will be given, and they have quit counting the number of baskets of various edibles that have been secured. Automobiles from various sections will come, and word has been sent that a large party of citizens from Craven and Pamlico will be on hand. A large brass band will furnish music for the occasion.

All of the foregoing is being done to receive and greet Hon. Thomas Walter Bickett, democratic nominee for Governor who speaks at Aurora on Friday at noon. Not since the days of Vance and Aycock has the State been stirred by such great speeches as this democratic chieftain is making, and he is receiving as great ovations as either of his two distinguished predecessors. Bickett is making a speech that inspires and captivates. He don't say harsh things, but convinces by his logic and eloquence.

Aurora wants you to come down. It wants Democrats, Republicans, Bull Moose and Socialists. It wants people who like to look at a fine

Police officials searched the home of Joe Perry, colored, yesterday and found three gallons of liquor, in pints and half-pints. They also discovered a barrel of wine. Perry took to his heels and the officers had an exciting time catching him. The negro ran through fields, jumped fences and eluded the officers for an hour. They finally caught up with him near Dr. Taylor's farm. His tongue was hanging out and he was utterly exhausted when he was trapped. He will be given a jury trial.

SURVIVORS SAY THAT "U-53" DID NOT SINK VESSELS YESTERDAY

ALLIED WARSHIPS ARE RUSHING TO THE SCENE. NO AMERICAN LIVES WERE LOST, OFFICIALS BELIEVE.

(By United Press)

Boston, Oct. 9.—The German submarine that halted the American steamer, Kanan, off the Massachusetts coast, was other than the "U-53," which landed at Newport, R. I. on Saturday. Officers of the Kanan made this declaration when their vessel reached port. Their statement was delivered after viewing photographs of the "U-53" which were taken during the hurried visit of the U-boat at Newport.

This is taken as conclusive proof that more than one German submarine operated off the New England coast Sunday.

After studying the photographs, both officers and men of the Kanan stated that the submarine that halted them was a different type of craft. They believe that the huge American flags, painted at the bow and stern of their craft and the letters, "U. S. A." on the side saved them from destruction. After viewing the Kanan's papers, the submarine disappeared beneath the waves.

The captain declared that she had hardly departed when a wireless call for help was heard from the "Westpoint," some distance away. This is additional evidence that other U-boats are operating off the coast.

Dripping with brine, which stood out like sweat from the steel sides, from prodigious efforts in rescuing the passengers of the six torpedoed merchant ships, the four United States destroyers arrived at Newport before dawn this morning and brought the first stories of the war that had been brought to America's very doorstep. They carried 216 survivors. The crew of the sunken British steamer, Kingstons, is still unaccounted for. All were saved on the other vessels.

Terror has seized the Atlantic seaboard. Sailing schedules have been cancelled. Ships huddle close to the three-mile limit. Fears are expressed for those ships that are known to be in "the danger zone."

The vessels that were sunk by the submarines were the Strathene, British freighter, the Westpoint, British freighter, the Stephano, British passenger liner, the Kingstons, British freighter, the Bloomerslijk, Dutch freighter, and the Christian, Kauboen, Norwegian freighter.

WARSHIPS RUSHING TO THE SCENE.

Allied warships are rushing to the new submarine zone. The crackling of the wireless of three British warships has already mingled with that of the American destroyers, that are out at sea on a mission of mercy and rescue. Reports indicate that there is a certainty of more of the submarines striking terror along the great international highway, the transatlantic lane, over which has flowed a steady stream of munitions and supplies for the allies. This lane is now apparently in the grip of the submarines of the Kaiser's navy. Six unarmed merchantmen are already lying on the ocean's bottom, south of Nantucket.

COMPLIED WITH THE LAW.

Asbury Park, Oct. 9.—Secretary Daniels today reported to President Wilson that the German submarines had complied with all the rules of international law. A formal report will be made later. The president will make no statement until complete facts are at hand.

TO TAKE AFFIDAVITS.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Affidavits will probably be taken from American survivors of the ships that were sunk by the submarines, it was announced by the State Department today. The department desires the fullest information before determining what course this country must take. Secretary Lansing has refused to discuss the matter.

PANIC IN WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 9.—Submarine activities have started a near panic in Wall street. Prices broke from three to sixteen points off at the opening of the exchange.

MUST BE A SUPPLY SHIP.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The navy department is convinced that the U-53 is conveyed by a supply ship.

GRAVE ISSUES AGAIN FEARED.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The shadow of a grave international issue has again arisen. England is expected to protest vigorously against the admission of submarines to a neutral port. It is feared that the activity of the submarines may take the proportion of a complete blockade of American ports. A crisis with Germany would immediately re-occur in the event that an American life was lost on an American ship torpedoed.
