Many Towns Ruined By Patronizing The Mail Order Houses

Some persons admit that they ought to trade at home. They admit that the mail order business is injurious to the best interests of the city in which they live. But they say to themselves: "It won't make any difference to the city or county if I just send a few dollars out of town; it'll never be missed."

That's a mistake that many people make. If you make the above statement to yourself, the chances are that there are a number of others who think the same. Suppose EVERYBODY should think that way! In a month our stores would be bankrupt. In six months we would n't have any stores. The business men would be moving to other cities. Our business streets would grow up in grass. Our churches and our schools would deteriorate.

"Oh," you say, "that is an exaggerative statement." But it is not. There are several towns in the country that have been wiped off the face of the map by the mail order houses.
Are we going to add Washington to their list, or are we going to keep our money at home, and help build a better community?

It is up to you to decide. EVERY DOLLAR COUNTS.

"Caught With the Goods"

Shame, Fear, Doubt and a Guilty Conscience all come wrapped up in the mail order package. We should never be ashamed to look a neighbor in the face. In a community like ours, all are neighbors and friends, working together. Our interests are common. We are all in BUSINESS together. OUR business is home-town development. Unlike the overcrowded city, our community has a soul. We tamper with our community-soul whenever we boycott home interests. Then let us keep our conscience clear, let us so LIVE that we can at any time look our neighbors in the face, knowing that no action of ours is holding back the progress of our own home town.
