FARM QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: Are there any forage or hay crops that I can plant in July.

Answer: Yes. The two best ones for this State are cowpeas and soybeans. Plant them at the rate of one to one and one-half bushels of seed per acre. Sudan

FARM QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: Should I cull my poultry flock at this season now that the birds have fallen off in laying?

Answer: It is good business to dispose of your non-profitable birds rather than keep them and add to your feeding cost. At this time of the year, the flock owner should have decided upon the number of birds to be carried over for next year, bearing in mind that the late moulters are the profitable producers. Birds in a moult, or out of egg production at the present time have not,
