

State Will Get Its Fair Share Of Federal Fund

Senator Bailey Says That North Carolina Will Not Be Slighted In The Matter Of Distributing WPA Funds.

SAYS MINIMUM TO BE 18 MILLION

Declares That While The Report Is Not Official, He Honestly Believes North Carolina Will Get That Amount

Charlotte, Oct. 10.—North Carolina will be allotted not less than $18,000,000 and probably considerably more instead of the $8,000,000 announced as this State's WPA share in unofficial figures from Washington, Senator Josiah W. Bailey declared here last night.

"I had a telegram today from Washington saying the statement published in North Carolina papers from Washington that we would receive only $8,000,000 was not final and not official," said Senator Bailey. "I say Mr. Coan (State WPA administrator) in Raleigh and arranged with him for North Carolina's cause to be presented at once before the Washington officials."

"If we are not satisfied I shall ask the entire North Carolina delegation and the Governor to appear in Washington before these authorities and see that we receive our share of these funds."

Explains System

The senator declared he had no doubt that North Carolina would get at least $18,000,000 for its projects. "That is about what we are entitled to," said Mr. Bailey. "Under the plan agreed upon North Carolina is to receive 1.85 per cent of the entire works relief fund. That, of course, does not mean we will get 1.85 per cent of the entire $4,800,000,000, for in the first place $800,000,000 of that amount has already been expended on relief, some of it in North Carolina in FERA and ERA expenditures. It means we will get 1.85 per cent of that huge fund less the amount that has already been expended on relief."

"This is how it figures out," the senator went on to explain in more detail. "North Carolina has approximately 35,000 heads of families on the employable list and each of these is allotted a minimum of $550. Figure it out for yourself. You get around $18,000,000. That is about right. Of course, we will not get enough money to carry out all our projects, for we have applications for projects totaling about $100,000,000. Naturally, a lot of us will be disappointed."

Big Increase In Poultry Raising

This Industry In North Carolina Has Increased Into A $13,000,000 A Year Business For The Farmers

The poultry industry in North Carolina has grown into a $13,000,000-a-year business.

Roy S. Dearstyne, head of the poultry department at State College, reported that last year poultry was raised on 241,475 farms in the State.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that in January, 1935, there were 8,829,000 chicks, valued at $4,944,000, on the farms of North Carolina.

It was estimated that $3,300,000 worth of chickens were eaten on the farms last year, while $1,540,000 worth of birds and $7,072,000 worth of eggs were sold.

The value of poultry and its products in the state in 1934 was estimated at $12,953,000, Dearstyne said.

In former days, most North Carolina poultry was raised as a small side-line on the farms. Now much of it is raised by farmers and poultrymen on a regular commercialized basis.

Nevertheless, a large number of eggs and a fairly large quantity of dressed poultry is still being imported into the State, Dearstyne added. Moreover, consumption is lower than it should be.

This indicates that there is yet considerable room for expansion of the local poultry industry. Poultrymen are aware of this, and many of them are increasing their flocks, adding more equipment, and improving the quality of their birds.

Improvement of flock quality is important, Dearstyne declared, and he is urging the poultrymen to eliminate low grade fowls and introduce only purebred chicks free from disease.

Sometimes Best To Retain Cards

Tobacco Growers Warned Not To Sell Any Part Of Their Excess Allotment Until They Consult County Agent

Tobacco growers are being warned not to sell any part of their allotment cards without consulting their county agent.

The agents will advise the growers whether it will be profitable for them to sell the unused part of their cards, said E. Y. Floyd, of State College.

This year, growers who sell part of their allotment cards will not receive the adjustment payment.

Whether a grower should sell depends upon the amount he would receive as an adjustment payment, as compared with the total amount for which he can sell the unused part of his allotment card.

Since the adjustment payments are based on the amount of tobacco sold, and the price received, Floyd explained, only a qualified authority can determine the amount of each grower's adjustment payment.

Consequently, Floyd said that no grower can afford to sell any part of his card without consulting his county agent, and he should not sell any without selling all of the unused part.

Sales of allotment cards must be made through the county agent to be legal, Floyd added, and the agents have been instructed not to sell any part of a card unless they can sell all that has not been used by the grower to whom it was issued.

Farmers To Vote On Continuation

Corn-Hog Referendum To Be Conducted From October 17, Through 26; To Determine If New Contract To Be Offered

The corn-hog referendum will be held at the county agent's office from October 17 through October 26, according to county agent J. E. Dodson. The office will be open each day for voting from 8 o'clock to 5 o'clock.

The question to be voted on is, "Do You Favor a Corn-Hog Adjustment Program to Follow the 1935 Program, which Expires November 30, 1935?" All producers who grow corn or hogs in 1935 may vote whether they signed 1934 or 1935 corn-hog contracts or not. Each eligible person is entitled to only one vote regardless of the number of farms he may own or operate, no matter where located.

If the voter cannot cast his ballot in person on or before October 26, he may place his marked ballot in a sealed envelope with his name on the outside of the envelope for identification purposes, and mail or deliver it to the county agent before election for deposit in the ballot box on October 26.

The Secretary of Agriculture has called this referendum in order to determine whether the corn-hog owners desire an adjustment program for 1936. Unless the majority of growers vote to have a new program it is likely that the Agricultural Adjustment Administration will not offer a new contract. Therefore, it is very important that every producer vote in order that the Secretary of Agriculture may have an expression from the majority of the corn-hog producers.

Farmers Urged To Raise Stock

Farmers In North Carolina Spend More Than $1,000,000 Annually For Work Horses And Mules From Other States

Every year North Carolina farmers are buying outside the State approximately $1,000,000 worth of work stock that could be raised at home.

This is clearly a waste of money, in view of the fact that it costs almost nothing to raise a few horses or mules for home use, said Fred M. Haig, professor of animal husbandry at State College.

When a mare drops a colt in the spring, she need be away from work for only a few days. In fact, it is better for the colt and for the mare to keep her at work, except for a few days at foaling time, Professor Haig stated.

On farms cooperating with the AAA crop adjustment programs, there is a considerable quantity of land which has been removed from the production of cotton, tobacco, wheat, or other basic crops.

This land may well be used to raise feed for work stock, Professor Haig continued. Four acres will produce all the feed needed by a horse or a mule for one year.

The number of horses and mules in the United States has been decreasing steadily, with the price going up, he pointed out. In North Carolina, the number dropped from 408,000 in 1925 to 339,000 at the present time.

Good work stock will always be in demand, he observed, and the price will remain high as long as the supply is low.

Unless North Carolina farmers breed and raise more stock at home, he added, they will have to pay out large sums in the future for work animals, or else try to get along as best they can with an inadequate number of animals to do the work.

Three Victims Of Trickery Scheme

Man And Three Women In The Cherry Grove Section Get $206 Upon Promise That They Will Bring Luck To Farm Folks

Cerro Gordo, Oct. 6.—A few miles south of here near the Cherry Grove section of Columbus county three aged citizens were robbed last Monday of $206 by three women and a man who came along saying that they had power to bring the aged farm folk good luck.

The victims, Mrs. Sook Hanes and her sister, Miss June Strickland, each said to be about 70 years old, and Alex Hanes, 75, who has been suffering for some time following a paralytic stroke, said that the four strangers came to their home and told them that if they would show them some money they would bring them luck.

The total sum of their money, $206, was laid before the strangers in a cloth. The cloth was opened and the money looked at. Then it was apparently tied up again and given to the owners.

Escaped Convict Arrested In Dulah

Man Who Escaped From Caldonia Farm Captured By Officers Last Week And Returned To Prison Bars

Less than a week after he escaped from Caldonia farm in Halifax county, Alonzo Bozeman, former Columbus county convict, was again behind prison bars. Columbus officers arrested him in the Dulah section where he was visiting relatives last week, and returned him to Raleigh.

Bozeman escaped from the prison farm where he was serving a three year sentence for breaking and entering in connection with the robbery of the J. J. Norris filling station in the Iron Hill section.

He was taken without difficulty, offering no resistance.

Person county farmers paraded their pure bred cattle through the main street of Roxboro recently and held a speaking program following exhibition of the cattle.

Advise Against Selling Scrap

Farmers Who Sell Their Tobacco At Their Farms Without Such Sales Being Covered By Tax-Payment Warrants Violate Contracts

The Advisory Committee of flue-cured tobacco growers, in a meeting in Washington today, made recommendations to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration with respect to the sale of scrap tobacco and the 1936 program.

The committee made the following specific recommendations, following a conference with J. B. Hutson, Director of the Tobacco Division:

1. That immediate steps be taken to advise all flue-cured tobacco contract signers with respect to the terms of the contract concerning the sale of scrap tobacco. The contract provides that all sales, including scrap, must be entered on the allotment cards and covered by tax-payment warrants. Contracting growers who sell tobacco at their farms without such sales being covered by tax-payment warrants violate their contracts.

2. That growers whose base acreage is three acres or less be allowed to elect to plant their full base acreage and sell their base production without payments under the contract in 1936 or make the adjustment required of other growers and receive payments.

3. That a public meeting be held at some central point in the flue-cured Belt in December at which the plans for 1936 would be discussed and at which all interested growers would be given an opportunity to express their views.

Tentative plans with respect to scrap tobacco provide that a penalty of twice the value of the tobacco, or 4 cents a pound, whichever is greater, be assessed against growers who have sold scrap tobacco in violation of their contract. Growers who refuse to pay these penalties would have all future payments suspended, tax-payment warrants previously issued canceled, and they would be liable to an assessment by the Bureau of Internal Revenue of one-third of the value of all tobacco sales from the 1935 crop.

Those attending the meeting were:

E. Y. Floyd, Raleigh, N. C., in charge of the AAA tobacco program in North Carolina; J. T. Hall, Wooddale, N. C., chairman of the advisory committee; J. A. Brown, Chadbourne, N. C.; T. M. Lewis, Walnut Cove, N. C.; J. E. Winslow, Greenville, N. C.; R. Hunter Pope, Enfield, N. C.; Lionel Weil, Goldsboro, N. C.; S. K. Cassell, Blacksburg, Va.; and J. T. Lazer, Florence, S. C.

Suffers Injury In Plane Crash

Airplane Which Was Flying Over Tabor City Crashed From 20 Foot Elevation, Causing Injury To One

When an airplane in which he was riding as a passenger failed to make a successful take-off at the Tabor City airport Sunday, Kelly Jacobs, young man of the Mollie section, was painfully, but not seriously injured, as the craft fell from a 20-foot elevation and crashed into a small sapling.

The pilot of the single motored aircraft, S. W. Camden, of Danville, Va., was uninjured, as was the other passenger in the plane, Sam Hinson, also of Mollie.

A wing of the airship was torn off, and the propeller was broken. They were the principal damages to the plane, which has been undergoing extensive repairs this week.

Camden had been in Tabor City for more than a week taking up passengers. His plane was equipped to take up only one

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Third, Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical—only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the individual package. (Adv.)
