

Offers Plan For "Hospital Care For Two Cents Per Day"

"Hospital Care for Two Cents a Day" is the title of a pamphlet describing "a new and easy plan for providing hospital benefits" put out by Hospital Savings Association of North Carolina, Incorporated, Chapel Hill. Felix A. Grisette, Executive Director, uses his persuasive powers in the following fashion.

Every year thousands of people in North Carolina find it necessary to enter a hospital, either because of illness or an accident. Unfortunately these misfortunes come when we least expect them. Many times hospital bills run into hundreds of dollars, a sum which is difficult and frequently impossible for us to pay.

Very likely you do not need hospital care now. Perhaps you have not been sick for years and feel that you won't be for many more. But there are thousands in hospitals today who once felt as you feel now. At least one person in six can not escape.

Even if you should be so fortunate as to never need hospital care, would it not be comforting to know that you always were protected from the heavy financial burden of a hospital bill? The Hospital Saving Association of North Carolina, Inc., is a new, non-profit association which will provide all essential hospital care for its members. The Association is not an insurance company.

Any group of employees may become members by signing application blanks and paying the small membership dues. Your wife (or husband) and children may also join with you. In order to join, at least three-fourths of the others working with you must also join. If you are not employed with a large group of other workers, you may still become a member if you will persuade at least nine of your friends or neighbors to form a group and join with you. In other words, one individual alone can not join. He must be a member of a group.

The membership fee is 15 cents a week for individuals over 16 years of age, or 40 cents a week for the entire family of husband, wife, and children under 16 years of age. These weekly payments are possible only if you will agree to have your employer deduct your dues from your pay envelope. If no payroll deductions is possible, the member will be required to pay his dues at least three months in advance.

Hospital care for 21 days if necessary in any one year. You may enter a hospital more than one time in any year, provided the total number of days you remain there does not exceed 21. (It is very seldom that you will need more than 21 days of care.)

Ward accommodations.
General nursing care.
Routine laboratory examinations.
Operating room fees.
Delivery room fees (in complicated maternity cases.)
General anesthetics.
Routine medications and dressings.

A credit of $3.00 per day toward private room accommodations if you prefer a private room.
All other customary routine hospital care.

The attention and service you receive from the hospital will be exactly the same as though you were paying the bill. You will also be relieved of the embarrassment of having the hospital question you about your ability to pay the bill or the necessity of paying something in advance at the time you enter.

The benefits cover all types of illness and injury, including complicated maternity cases, except venereal diseases, contagious diseases, mental disorders, and hospital cases which are covered by the Workmen's Compensation Law.

The benefits are available immediately after your first payment is made for accidents and emergency sickness. For all other illness the benefits are available within 30 days from the date of your first payment of dues.

You may be admitted to a hospital at any time your physician says you need hospital care. When the doctor who is attending you tells you that you must go to a hospital, you and the doctor will choose the hospital to which you wish to go. Upon entering the hospital you will show your membership card, and if you have paid your dues to date, you will be cared for until your physician says you are able to leave. As soon as you are identified as a member, you will not be required to undergo the embarrassment of putting up an advance deposit. No embarrassing questions will be asked you about whether or not you can pay your bill.

Membership in the Association does not provide for the payment of fees of doctors, surgeons, private nurses, dentists, or of any specialist.

Protect Cattle From Parasites

Mite Threat Occurred In Drought Area Last Year But Cattlemen Are Getting Situation In Hand

The cattle-scabies parasite took advantage of last year's drought—but its "recovery" probably will be short-lived. The movement of cattle last year within drought areas caused the spread of scabies. Many animals became very weak from lack of water and food and consequently could not be dipped. By next year most cattlemen in Colorado and Kansas, where scabies became prevalent, hope to have offset any gains which the scab mite made on their ranches. Infected cattle lose weight, grow slowly, and often die as a result of this parasite.

More than 115,000 cattle in seven southeastern Colorado counties—quarantined by State officials—are being dipped twice this fall in chemical solutions which have been effective in suppressing scabies. The United States Department of Agriculture is co-operating with the State officials, local veterinarians, and cattlemen in combatting the disease. Many western Kansas cattlemen are also dipping infected cattle.

About 30 years ago cattle scabies was common in the western range country and caused heavy losses. Since then officials of the Department, State veterinarians, and cattlemen have reduced the extent of the infected area—once covering 12 western States. The principal remaining infected areas are in western Nebraska, southeastern Colorado, and western Kansas.

Radio Programs Help To Farmers

Timely Farm Topics Are Discussed During Each Program By Some Member Of Faculty Of Extension Dept. At State College

Two of the season's most timely farm topics, preparing turkeys and hogs for market, are scheduled in this week's programs of Carolina Farm Features, a daily radio service prepared by the State College Agricultural Extension Service.

On Monday R. E. Nance, professor of animal husbandry at State College, continued his discussion of a week ago with a talk on "Killing and Curing Pork." In a previous broadcast, Professor Nance described preparations which should be made for slaughtering hogs.

C. J. Maupin, extension poultry specialist at State College, will point out the most approved practices for marketing turkeys on the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets in a broadcast on Friday. Two weeks previously he Anyone under 65 years of age may become a member. There is no physical examination required but the member must certify that he is in normal health and that he has not been told by a physician that he needs to go to a hospital.

The member may go to any hospital which is affiliated with the Association. In view of the fact that the Association is sponsored by the North Carolina Hospital Association and the Medical Society of North Carolina, virtually every hospital in North Carolina will be affiliated. As a matter of convenience it is presumed that the member will prefer a hospital located in his own community. If, however, the member wishes to enter an affiliated hospital in some other community he may do so and receive same kind of treatment, subject always to the rules and regulations of such hospital.

If the member should wish to go to a hospital which is not affiliated with the Association, he will be given a credit of $3.00 a day on his bill in such hospital. This arrangement also applies to hospitals outside of North Carolina.

Members may rest assured that the Hospital Saving Association of North Carolina will protect their interests. The Association is controlled by a board of directors composed of 12 leading North Carolina citizens who represent physicians, hospitals, and the general public. None of the officers nor directors receive any salary. The charter of the Association provides that it can't make a profit. It is only because of this non-profit feature that the Association is able to give its members so many benefits at such a low price.

gave a discussion which concerned the first steps for a grower to take in getting his turkeys ready for market.

The program for the balance of the week of November 4-9 includes:

Thursday, Home Demonstration Department; Friday, C. J. Maupin, "Marketing Turkeys"; and Saturday, L. G. Willis, "The Red Leaf of Cotton."

Included on the program for the week of November 11-16 will be a talk on Monday, November 11, by Dr. C. D. Grinnells on some phase of animal husbandry, and a talk on Friday, November 15, by Prof. R. S. Dearstyn on poultry.

Parasites Found In Most Chickens

Seventy Per Cent Of Birds Examined At Disease Laboratory At State College Have Intestinal Parasites Of Some Kind

Seventy per cent of the fowls examined in the State College poultry disease laboratory are infested with one or more kinds of intestinal parasites.

Such parasites are liable to impair the health and efficiency of any poultry flock unless the poultry takes active steps to control them, warns H. C. Gauger, extension poultry specialist at State College.

The solution of the parasite problem lies more in rigid hygiene and sanitation rather than in medicinal treatment of the birds, Gauger pointed out.

Unless the premises are kept clean, he explained, the birds will become re-infested at frequent intervals and any medicinal treatment would have to be repeated again and again.

Eggs from the tapeworms pass out in the droppings from the birds and infest insects. When the chickens eat these insects, the young tapeworms which have hatched out attack the intestinal linings of the birds and lay more eggs to develop into worms.

There are times, however, when deworming medicine should be given the birds. Gauger recommends capsules which can be given the infested birds. Capsules are more effective than powder mixed with the feed.

He pointed out that internal parasites harm the fowls in many ways. They absorb food needed by the birds. They injure the intestinal linings and prevent the normal assimilation of digested food by the birds. The poisonous products of the parasites are also harmful, he says.

Chevrolet Official Favors Early Sale Of Auto Plates

The action of the State of Michigan in making 1936 automobile licenses available November 1 will be of tremendous importance as a factor in hastening economic recovery, W. E. Holler, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co., asserted in a letter which he sent today to Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, thanking the governor for the change of procedure about.

"It would be hard to overestimate the importance of this step," said Mr. Holler, discussing his letter. "Not only from the standpoint of the automobile industry, but from that of the public itself, it means a great deal. The fact that next year's license can be bought right now will result in thousands of sales to persons who would otherwise wait until January 1 to buy new cars."

"For the first time, we shall be able to make the most of the opportunity to sell automobiles as Christmas gifts. The practice of giving the family a motor car for Christmas has been growing in popularity the past few years, and this action on the part of the State should lend it additional momentum, for it removes the last remaining objection to the plan.

"A result which may not be generally appreciated until later is that the increased business between now and January 1 will put additional money in the pockets not only of those selling cars, but also of the countless thousands in the manufacturing end of the business, as well as of the merchants and tradesmen with whom their wages are spent. It is in effect a contribution from the State to every working-man's Christmas stocking."

"And yet, it is a concession which it costs the state nothing to make, for under the old arrangement, the sale of automobiles simply dwindled to almost nothing the last two months of the year. As it is, selling and licensing of new models will go on through November and December, and the license bureau will be relieved of some of the January rush."

"In light of the effect it will certainly exert on the general economic situation, the change to a progressive step which ought to be taken throughout the country. It is to be hoped that other states will follow Michigan's lead in this example."
