 Your old friend Fibber McGee takes a well-earned vacation after his broadcast of June 28 and beginning the following Tuesday, July 5, a brand new series of thrilling adventure stories, co-starring Henry Hunter, Universal pictures favorite, and Betty Winkler, one of radio's prettiest and most popular actresses, will take over his spot.

Henry Hunter

The series, title "Attorney at Law," will be a new version of the present day-time series by that name fostered by the same sponsor. The new programs, each of which will be complete in itself, will be penned by Milton Geiger, one of radio's finest writers, who authors many of those plays heard on Rudy Vallee's program.

Henry Hunter, new star of the show, has been featured in some thirty motion pictures the last few years, including "The Road Back," "Nobody's Fool," "Sutter's Gold" and many others. Miss Winkler, who will play opposite him, has been heard on the Fibber McGee program and has starred on a number of other shows including her own "Girl Alone."

Hattie Noel, Eddie Cantor's colored comedienne, is being screened by 20th-Fox studios in Hollywood for a possible role in the next Cantor production. It's a seven-pound girl at the Norris Goffs in Hollywood. Goff is "Abner" of "Lum and Abner" . . . Stuart Erwin, the movie funny guy, is reading a country boy sketch for the microphone . . . George McCall, the "Hollywood Screenscraper," reports that movie companies are feuding over the rights to film the life of George Gershwin . . . Anne Jamison, named the most promising star in radio in a nation-wide poll, has been featured on "Hollywood Hotel" for three years but only last fall began to sing under her own name . . . Only fourteen voices and no instruments are heard on those "Vocal Varieties" shows over NBC.

Uncle Ezra points out that for sound effects hot water must be used to get the proper effect when the sound of hot coffee or tea being poured is desired . . . Wonders what would hot water being poured sound like . . . Hot water? . . . NBC is offering a program designed to please people who don't like music, called "Music Is My Handicap" . . . Hal Kemp's latest movie featured his band in a number titled "I'm Taking a Shine to You" . . . and now Hal is on the air for a shoe polish sponsor . . . Major Bowes has had a ship-to-shore phone system installed on his new yacht and can talk directly to friends while cruising.

Malcolm Meacham, network leading man, does higher mathematics and plays Bach to relax . . . Too much traffic . . . Meredith Willson, "Good News" music director, will vacation in England . . . Phil Baker and Ben Bernie will settle their long-time golf feud while they vacation in July and August . . . Edith Davis, who plays the colored maid in "Betty and Bob," is a Chicago socialite and wife of a famous surgeon . . .
