DRAMATICS PLAY

On Friday, December 16, the Scarlet Masque Dramatic Club of Suthport high school presented a one-act comedy entitled "Sweet 16" to the assembly.

The play was a backstage comedy, that is, its action was set in a dressing room. Its plot was built around three one-act plays which were being presented on "English 16" night in a college town. Many amusing situations occurred in preparing to present them.

The play was enjoyed by all. The cast of characters was as follows: Madge Temple—Doris Clette; W. P. D. Carlton, Jr.—John Lancaster; Joe, Edmund Newton; Bud, Tom Gilbert; Stoop, William Holden; Lloyd, John Hall; Sue, Margaret Carr; George, Tom; Harold Aldridge; Ada, Annie M. Watts; Bill, Buster Northrop; Tom, Teddy Lewis; Kay, Marion Frink; Ralph, Oscar Sellers; Jerry, William Holden; and Stoop, William S. Holden.

EXAM WEEK

Our examination schedule is well under way in the high school and all examinations will be over by Thursday afternoon.

HOLIDAY

School will adjourn, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, for the Christmas holidays. School children will then have until January 2, 1939, as a Yuletide holiday.

WHITE CHRISTMAS

Contributions of food, clothing and toys are being accepted here at the school for the purpose of distribution among the poor of our community so that they might have a Merry Christmas.

Sings Praise Of Winter Legumes

Blair Says Small Grains And Legumes Make Livestock Feed, Enrich Soil And Prevent Erosion

Idleness breeds evil in soils as well as human life, says E. C. Blair, agronomist of the State College Extension Service, in connection with the publication of a new extension circular entitled "Green Fields in Winter." Blair tells in the circular how small grains and winter legumes will make feed for livestock, enrich the soil, and prevent erosion. "The winter landscape in North Carolina presents too many barren fields that should be growing something the year round," he says. "Winter grain and hay crops do not interfere with spring planted crops, are inexpensive to grow, and require little labor to plant.

Winter legumes will increase the yield of corn from 20 to 25 bushels an acre under average conditions, the agronomist stated. The effect of the legume then continues two or three years longer.

Group 2 of the Baptist Church Union of Bolivia Baptist Church entertained Group 1 at a weiner roast Thursday afternoon in the church grove. The roast was the result of a contest in which the group having the greater percentage attendance within a given time was to be entertained by the losing group. Those enjoying the roast were: Mrs. Glenn Tucker, Miss Bessie Willets, Mrs. B. R. Page, Misses Betha, May Belle and Myrtle Hillburn, Misses Elizabeth, Rosalind and Sue Page, little Marjorie Phelps, Guilford Hillburn, Randall Page, Milton and Edward Murrell, Glenn Tucker, Robert Randall and Norman Chadwick and little Kenneth Tucker.

ATTEND FUNERAL

B. R. Page was called to his old home in Fayetteville Thursday to attend the funeral of his step-mother, Mrs. Wiley Page, who resided at the old Page home on Massey Hill Ave. Eighty years of age and in excellent health until few days before her death, the news came as a shock to all who knew her. Mr. Page was accompanied to the funeral by his brother, Lonnie T. Page, of Wilmington. Her beloved pastor, Rev. Scott Turner, with the assistance of other preachers, conducted the funeral in the Massey Hill Baptist church. She was laid to rest beside her husband in the family cemetery. The floral contributions were expressive of the high esteem in which she was held by friends and relatives.
