serious crimes are committed by persons under 25 years of age, it does not reflect any discredit upon all the youth of this particular time. For, it was emphasized, the situation is not a new one, and criminals have always been young.

Ultimate Objective

Employment in North Carolina increased 10.2 per cent during 1939 as compared with 1938, the State Department of Labor reported the first of this week.

An Aid To Business

When the census enumerator calls at your place of business or your home in 1940, it will be well to remember that he is not there to pry into your business or your personal affairs.

Bigger Army And Navy

Increasing the number of men in the standing army and in the navy of the United States, it occurs to us, might accomplish the dual purpose of affording Uncle Sam better protection against possible foreign invasion.

Staggering Blow To Tobacco Growers

The British embargo on the import of American tobacco has dealt a staggering blow to the Virginia and North Carolina tobacco growers.

Not An Indictment Against All Youth

A contemporary has pointed out the fact that although more than half the

GOING THE ROUNDS

Thanks to the continuous stand-by and give-it-a-boost attitude of Bill Sharpe in matters relative to the lower North Carolina coast,

FAN MAIL

The Brunswick County Chamber of Commerce has been receiving a lot of fan mail from throughout North Carolina.

PULLING TOGETHER

H. H. Thomas of the Caswell Carolina Corporation stopped us on the street one day this week and remarked that he believed that Brunswick county was now attracting more attention and notice than any other county in the state.

MAKING THREATS

Frank L. Johnson of Statesville, who is the Secretary and Treasurer of the North Carolina Soft Drink Bottlers Association,

WE PUZZLED GEORGE

The other morning we got up at 1:00 a. m., in order to have an uninterrupted session with our typewriter and get ready for the days loafing.

DANDY BOOKLET

Our good friend, Dr. E. W. Well of State College, with Dr. I. V. Shunk of the same institution collaborating, has sent us a dandy little pamphlet or booklet entitled, A New Forest Climax.

4-H County Council Meeting On Saturday Morning, January 27th, at 10 o'clock a meeting will be held in the home agent's office for the purpose of organizing a 4-H County Council.

Our own contention that the paving of the river road would remove an annoying factor encountered by the thousands of visitors to Orton, seems to be well supported by the Carolina Motor Club officials.

For quite a while now in my tri-weekly radio broadcasts I have been plugging Orton Plantation and the Southport area as a likely place to go, feeling a little guilty, however, because of the dirt road.

council and county officers will be elected from and by this group.

The county and local 4-H leaders are invited to attend in order to become better acquainted with the girls and with 1940 plans for 4-H club work.

Club officers are as follows: Bolivia school: Elizabeth Lewis, Helen Willetts; Leland school: Elnora Gainey, Myrtle Sanders, Ethel Douglas; Lockwoods Folly grammar school: Alline Hewett, Iola Varnum, Nellie Hewett; Shalotte school: Vernie Hewett, Eloise Sellers, Madeline Robinson; Southport school: Odell Smith, Helen Evans, Norma Swain; Waccamaw school: Mary Frances Dodson, Ora Mae Watts, Opal Norris.

POULTRY SHORT COURSE Extension Poultryman, Clifton F. Parrish, has announced February 13 as the date for the poultry short course for this district.

Eighteen members enrolled in a kitchen contest during 1939 which ends with the October scoring

KITCHEN CONTEST If any of the club women are interested in improving their kitchens during 1940 and would like suggestions, or plans for built-in and home-made conveniences they should notify the home agent during January or February.

A second scoring will be made in October. Those making the greatest improvements will be presented with prizes on achievement day in November.

Despite the zest and interest aroused by working in competition with others, the greatest benefit of the contest will be that derived by each individual, who has improved a kitchen—her workshop. Correct height of working surfaces, Good lighting, convenient cabinets and storage space, convenient water supply, floors that save energy, a convenient arrangement and pleasing color-schemes—any one or several of these might be your problem, so why not get started on it this year?

1940. These do not compete with the one-year improvements. Those enrolled already are:

Mrs. Frank Mintz, Mrs. C. E. Ward, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. Mame McFarland, Mrs. Jack Wilton, Mrs. Ernest Peterson, Mrs. U. R. Johnson, Mrs. W. J. Freeman, Mrs. W. W. Knox, Mrs. E. O. Woodbury, Mrs. Stacy Rhoads, Mrs. Ernest Parker, Mrs. J. I. Dodson, Mrs. Lofton Mintz, Mrs. Mildred Vereen, Mrs. Besair Ray, Mrs. G. L. Norment, Miss Lilla Mae Newton.

Lady Jane: "Have you given the goldfish fresh water, Janet?" Janet: "No, mum. They just finished the water I give 'em the other day yet."

Man in uniform: "Good morning, I'm from the Electric Company, and I understand there's something in the house that won't work."

Mrs. Jones: "Yes, there is, but upstairs."

On a card in the front window of a suburban home appeared the following notice: "A piano for sale."

In the window next door to other card appeared with just one word: "Furrah!"
