There Are Some Tips On Essay

Some Valuable Pointers Are Given For Benefit Of Students Trying For $100 In Cash Being Offered By Forestry Department

the county-wide school essay contest on "Why We Should Protect Our Forests From Fire" is already evidence of great interest on the part of the children, teachers and general public.

The Brunswick County Chamber of Commerce secretary is already being deluged with requests for school children for information and data that will enable them to write humdingers in the essay.

As much as it would be a hard task to write all of these, children the information they ask for and as it would be unfair to advise some children and not others, Secretary W. B. Keziah, giving here a few suggestions that may be helpful to the children in stressing points of their essays.

When woodland is burned over a great deal of fertilizing element necessary to plant life is lost. Along with it goes much water, which if not injured by the fire would have ultimately been of much value to the landowner.

When succeeding fire goes further, impoverishing the land and making it less fit for the growing of timber or anything else.

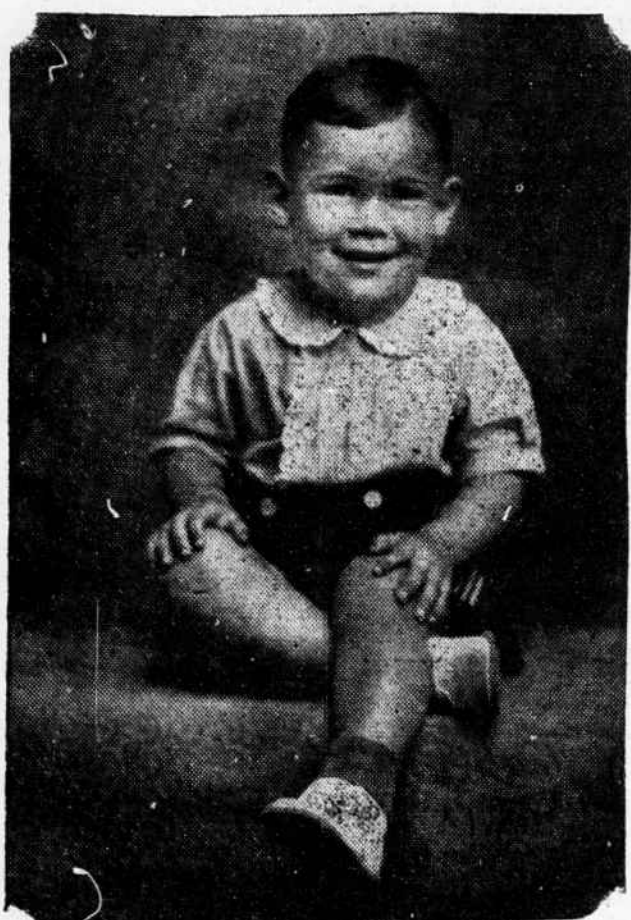

Well forested areas catch and retain rainwater, supplying this naturally to trees and plant life, affording a reliable source of supply to the flow of streams, and the wooded area is large enough. This prevents the streams from drying up and the perishing of millions of game fish.

Burned over areas become bare and baked. Rainwater which falls on such areas is practically swept away into streams, creating temporary floods. On account of the inability of rain to penetrate in such areas such of the water growth as is spared by the fire, and what new growth is started, is of poor quality and of small value.

All large fires result in the burning of much bird and animal life, and many of these are very valuable as game. When they perish in a fire we lose a valuable asset in addition to the timber that is destroyed.

This Is Clean-Up Week For City Of Southport

Special Arrangements Are Being Made For Removal Of Trash And Unsightly Rubbish Before The Coming Week-End

GETTING READY FOR VISITORS

Easter Usually Brings Many Outsiders Into Town, And City Officials Want To Be At Best

This is clean-up week in Southport, and Mayor John D. Erickson has asked all citizens of the town to cooperate in cleaning up all trash and unsightly rubbish before the holiday week-end.

The clean-up campaign comes a bit earlier than usual this year, because Easter is early. The idea is to get things in good shape before the usual influx of Spring visitors who usually begin coming in about the time of Easter week-end.

In mapping out the schedule for the trash trucks this week, arrangements have been made to dispose of an unusual amount of rubbish, and as many extra men as necessary will be added to the city force, according to Mayor Erickson.

Gause Is Named Horton Manager

Announcement was made Tuesday from State Headquarters for Lieutenant Governor Wilkins P. Horton that Chas. E. Gause, Brunswick county tax collector, has been appointed county manager for the Horton gubernatorial campaign.

This information came from Judge Daniel L. Bell, state manager for Mr. Horton.

Although the only elective office ever sought by Mr. Gause was membership on the county board of education, he is thoroughly familiar with the political set-up of the county and plans to wage an aggressive campaign for his man.

A list of all names on the old registration books, not shown by the poll books to have voted, will be published or advertised and such as are thus published or advertised will have to appear during the regular registration period and show their right to remain registered. After the names have been relisted on new registration books, separate primary registration books will be made by the County Election Board Chairman.

A new registration must be held in all precincts where the poll books of 1936 and 1938 cannot be found.

There will be special Easter music at both the morning and evening services at Southport Baptist church Sunday. At the evening hour the three choirs of the churches will combine their efforts in rendition of special selections.

Traces History Of Names Of Ft. Caswell Batteries

Visitors to Fort Caswell frequently ask the names of the various great concrete batteries, one of which has been converted into two great outdoor swimming pools, fed by the warm salt water.

As the names of the batteries appear to be of general interest, W. B. Keziah, secretary of the Brunswick Chamber of Commerce, has dug from old history the name of each, with brief data relative to the men for whom it was named. This information is as follows:

Battery Caswell—Named for Richard Caswell, first governor of the State of North Carolina, an officer in the Revolutionary Army and an outstanding member of the Continental Congress.

Battery Swift—Named for Captain Alexander J. Swift. He was a member of the U. S. Army Engineers and was employed in the construction of Fort Caswell. He died of diseases contracted in the field during the Mexican War.

Battery Bagley—For Ensign Worth Bagley, United States Navy. He was killed in action at Cardenas, Cuba, May 11, 1898, and was the first American naval officer to be killed in the Spanish-American War. Ensign Bagley was a brother of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the U. S. Ambassador to Mexico.

Battery Shipp—For First Lieutenant William E. Shipp, of the Tenth Cavalry. He was killed at the battle of San Juan, in Cuba, during the Spanish-American War.

Battery McDonough—Named for Surgeon William S. Madison, Third United States Infantry. He was killed in action with Indians near Fort Howard, Wisconsin, on May 14, 1821.

Only One Change Made In County Election Board

McKinley Hewett Takes Place Of The Late S. W. Watts On The Brunswick County Board Of Elections

McKinley Hewett Takes Place Of The Late S. W. Watts On The Brunswick County Board Of Elections

George T. Ruork Has Been Chairman Of Brunswick County Board Of Elections For Many Years

G. T. Ruork of Shallotte, veteran member of the Brunswick county board of elections, and Robert Milliken, secretary of that body, have been reappointed by the state board of elections.

McKinley Hewett of Shallotte is the Republican member of the board. He was named to succeed the late S. W. Watts, who served for years as minority representative on the board of elections.

One of the far reaching changes in the election laws made by the 1939 General Assembly has to do with setting up a new system of registration in primary elections.

Heretofore, only the general election registration book has been used for both primaries and elections. Under the new law there will be separate registration books for primaries and elections.

The voters will be entered on the primary registration book of the party of which he is a member and hereafter only the primary registration books will be furnished the registrars for the primaries.

There will be either a complete relisting of voters or a new registration in each county in the state, as may be determined by the County Board of Elections of each county, at the meeting of such on Saturday, March 23rd.

In those counties in which a new registration is ordered the books will be open during the usual registration period before the May primary.

In the new registration the voter will be registered on the general registration book and also on the appropriate primary registration book in accordance with his party affiliation.

Independents will not be registered on any primary book.

In those counties in which a relisting of voters instead of a new registration shall be ordered, the Chairman of the County Board of Elections, with such assistance as may be necessary, will begin on April 2nd to transcribe to new general registration books the names of all persons shown by poll books, to have voted in the elections or primaries of 1936 and 1938.

A list of all names on the old registration books, not shown by the poll books to have voted, will be published or advertised and such as are thus published or advertised will have to appear during the regular registration period and show their right to remain registered. After the names have been relisted on new registration books, separate primary registration books will be made by the County Election Board Chairman.

Political Situation Now Beginning To Warm Up

Gulls Come Ashore To Beg For Bread

Latest fad for Southport is feeding the gulls.

For some unaccountable reason these birds whose normal habitat is the water, or the air immediately above the water, have been coming ashore for several weeks. Apparently they were very hungry, and when local people began to feed them they returned in droves.

The sale of bread has received a boost, for this appears to be a favorite diet for the gulls. They greedily grab up chunks of bread and flap off screaming with delight over the prize to which they have been able to beat their fellows.

Southport Boys Join The Navy

Three Local Boys Left Last Week For Norfolk, Va., Where They Will Receive Preliminary Training

Henry L. Swan, 20, son of Capt. and Mrs. C. N. Swan; Samuel W. Holden, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Holden; Bryant Potter, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Potter all of Southport, were enlisted in the U. S. Navy on March 12 at Raleigh. These young men were transferred to the Naval Training Station at Norfolk, Va., where they will undergo two months training prior to being assigned to duty on board some ship in the U. S. fleet.

These young men were accepted for enlistment through the U. S. navy recruiting station, located in the post office building at Wilmington, the office to which Brunswick county is assigned for recruiting purposes.

BOARD MEETING

Two Men Now In Race For The Democratic Nomination For Register Of Deeds; Rumors Of Others To Enter Race

REPUBLICANS BUSY WITH ORGANIZATION

Mintz Makes No Announcement Concerning His Race For Representative; Frink Grooms For Solicitorship

The political tempo quickens this week with the announcement of the second candidate for the Democratic nomination for Register of Deeds, announcement of the appointment of a county campaign manager for gubernatorial candidate and with rumors galore.

Burnice Russ comes out in the open this week with an announcement for the county office. B. J. Holden, former clerk of court, made his announcement for the same office two weeks ago. As things stood up now, this will be a crowded race, with at least two other candidates expected to announce.

Chas. E. Gause has accepted the managership of the Horton for governor campaign in Brunswick, making the lieutenant governor the only gubernatorial candidate so far to announce a local representative. Indications are that he is making a strong bid for the nomination, and it appears probable now that he will be in the second primary.

As for the rumors, they have mainly to do with the race for representatives to the lower house of the North Carolina General Assembly. Attorney R. I. Mintz who has been freely mentioned as a likely candidate refused this week to commit himself, but said that he might have an announcement of interest within the next few days.

This may be looking pretty far into the future, but one man sure to be a candidate two years hence is S. B. Frink, who says that he will seek the nomination as district solicitor, the job now held by David Sinclair.
