Catholic Church Will Be Dedicated On Sunday

Bishop Eugene Joseph McGuinness Will Celebrate Solemn Pontifical High Mass, Bishop Of The Diocese Of Raleigh

EXPLANATION OF RITES OF CHURCH

New Edifice Will Be Called Sacred Heart Of Jesus; Significance Of Name Explained By Father Frank Howard

The dedication of the church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus at Southport will begin at 10:00 A. M. Sunday with a Solemn Pontifical High Mass, celebrated by Bishop McGuinness. The dedication services will be performed by the Right Reverend Monsignor John P. Treacy, Director of the Propagation of the Faith, of the Diocese of Cleveland, Ohio. Monsignor Treacy will also deliver the sermon for this occasion.

In connection with this important occasion, Rev. Frank J. Howard, rector of the local mission, has prepared an enlightening article explaining the naming of Catholic churches and the confirmation service. It follows:

Catholics always give a name to a church. This is to honor the one named and to place the church under that person's particular heavenly protection. These names are taken from some Person of the Blessed Trinity, or Some Mystery of the religion, or in honor of some saint. Thus, to honor the Blessed Trinity, a name may be Holy Redeemer, Holy Comforter, or The Blessed Trinity itself. A name in honor

Pioneer In Aviation Returns To Place Of Early Studies

Southport has never made any claims of connection with the early stages of airplane development, nevertheless the town has grounds for such claims. This is through the fact that in November 1908, Horace Keane, a graduate of the Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago, came to Southport and spent some time with Mark Ferguson, local engineer and naturalist. The two employed their time studying the flight of birds, the one and only object behind that visit being to apply the principles of bird flight to the construction of conveyances for man.

Keane, now 57-years-old, is vice-president in charge of engineering for the Zodiac Aircraft Corporation at Lodi, N. J. For the past week he has

Daylight Saving Time Going On

Daylight Saving Time, which means little to people in the South who don't listen to the radio, started yesterday morning at 3 a. m.

As a result, all the radio programs are moved back to an hour earlier, which does not always meet the approval of people here.

There has been some intimation that the whole country will soon be put on Daylight Saving time, as was the case in the last war, but as yet there has been nothing concrete in this direction.

Possibility Of REA Extensions In This County

Superintendent Of Brunswick Electric Membership Corporation Says That Applications Being Received

JUNE 1ST SET AS DEADLINE

Applications For Membership And Figures Of Pre-Allocation Survey Must Be Turned In Before Then

There is a possibility for electric service being furnished to citizens of communities in this county which are not now being served by REA lines. Superintendent E. D. Bishop was in the office today and stated that there is a possibility of extending the REA lines, but that this will depend upon immediate action on the part of those who want electric service. The first step, he said, is to secure membership applications in order that pre-allocation maps may be made and submitted to the REA not later than June 1st. REA officials at the home office at Charlotte will be glad to furnish any needed information regarding these projects.

Boxing Bouts Monday Night

Last In Series Of Boxing Programs Will Be Staged In Southport Gymnasium Monday Evening

The third and last intramural boxing program of the current year will be staged in Southport gym Monday night beginning at 8 o'clock.

Johnnie Simmons, who has had charge of arranging these bouts, announces the following pairings, but says that it is likely that there will be some changes and additions: Billie Barber vs Johnnie Fullwood; John Carr Davis vs Franto Mollycheck; John Floyd vs Clarence Clemmons; Bobby Thorsen vs Afton Smith, Jr.; Skippy Stiller vs Tommie Willis; Dudley Sutton vs Frank Hazelton; Glenn Jones vs Joe Sam Loughlin; Douglas Jones vs Rudolph Sellers; Olaf Thorsen vs Joe Young Christian; Donald St. George vs Billie Willis.

In the last program Billie Barber outpointed Corby Newton in a clever three-round bout that was plenty close. Both boys were clever. John Floyd evaded the deadly left hand of Clarence Clemmons and so was able to win the decision of the judges after three rounds. Bobby Thorsen was given the decision over Ralph Potter largely on the strength of a good left and plenty of aggressiveness.

In the first of the three bouts between heavier boys, Reece Swann defeated Glen Jones, piling up points after the latter had obviously tired. Douglas Jones never recovered from a first round blow struck unintentionally by Rudolph Sellers as they were coming out of a clinch, and their bout was stopped in the second heat with the decision going to Sellers. Dan Smith lashed out with two hard rights that dazed John D. O'Daniel early in the first round of their match, and Referee Robert Thompson stopped it.

Seniors Work On Class Day

Students At Shallotte Are Now Practicing Original Class Day Exercises To Be Presented May 14

The Senior class of Shallotte high school began practices for their class day exercises last week.

The class has chosen a pageant called "Memories" written by the sponsor of the senior class, Miss Ida F. Creech. For the past several years Miss Creech has written the pageants for the class day exercises and they have proved to be very successful. The main thought of the play is an attempt to portray a mother's love and hope for her son who has gone through the grades and receives his graduation diploma from Shallotte high school.

The pageant will consist of pantomime, dance and song with well chosen characters to take part. This presentation of "Memories" will be presented Wednesday, May 14, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Peanut Growers Of This County Against Control

Brunswick Lists A Total Of 26 Against The Three Year Program, While Only 24 Vote In Favor Of Rule

N. C. GROWERS VOTE FOR CONTROL PLAN

Over 90 Per Cent Of The North Carolina Growers Vote In Favor Of The A.A. Plan Of Peanut Control

By a margin of 26 to 24, peanut growers of Brunswick county refused Saturday to favor a three year program for control on peanuts. There were 142 eligible voters in this county.

The peanut growers throughout the state of North Carolina voted over 90% in favor of a three year control on peanuts. The peanut allotment mailed to the growers under the Agricultural Conservation Program will automatically become their marketing quota and each peanut grower will be allowed to sell all of the peanuts he produces on the acreage allotment he has received. Due to regulations allowing growers to grow peanuts and sell them for oil purposes without penalty, there is no peanut allotment set up for new growers. Peanuts for the last several years sold for oil purposes have been bringing approximately $30 per ton while peanuts that have been sold to cleaners to be used for the edible trade have been selling around $60.00 to $70.00 per ton.

The control program on peanuts is designed to stabilize the price for peanuts grown for edible purposes. Peanut growers will receive a peanut allotment card to sell their peanuts on similar to the allotment card used by tobacco growers. Growers selling peanuts to the cleaners to go to the edible trade without a peanut allotment card will pay a tax of 3c per pound on such peanuts.

Gulf Stream Party Reports Big Ones Out There Tuesday

Large Amberjack Is Landed, But The Big Ones That Got Away Were The Fish That Caused Optimism

The Gulf Stream fishing may now be considered as going full blast. The fish are out there, that much is sure, and parties may have expectations of getting something whenever the weather will permit of a trip being made.

Yesterday the Sea Girl of Captain H. T. Watts made the lightship for the first time this season. The party consisted of Inspector Ed Ferrell of the FBI in Washington, B. C. Jones, J. W. Roberts and L. D. Rowland, also of Washington. So far as game fish counts, they brought in only one amberjack, a 17-pounder, and seven large blue fish. Against this they reported getting their hooks into three 60-pound cabio, all three of which broke away. Not wishing to return virtually empty handed, they drifted for half an hour and engaged in bottom fishing. This produced 200-pounds of the largest blackfish that the party had ever seen. With two hooks on their lines, these blackfish or tautogs (some call them sea bass) came aboard two at the time.

Although the one amberjack and seven mackerel were not much in the way of game fish, the party appeared immensely pleased and are fishing offshore today for blues and trout. Even if they did not catch the big fellows yesterday they saw them. Arranging for the trip down from Washington, Inspector Ferrell wrote the Chamber of Commerce secretary sometime ago that he believed the fish were on Frying Pan, and he just wanted to see if he was right in his guess. The whole party expressed the belief that there will be great fishing from now on.

Opposition Looms For Incumbents On Tuesday

Local Mayor Is Mighty Courteous

Charlotte lays claim to the title "The Friendly City", but it hasn't a thing on Southport. In fact, we believe that Southport went Charlotte one better last week. Here is the story:

Several Wilmington ladies were in town visiting friends for the day. They parked their car in front of the friend's house, returning to find one of their tires flat. The hostess called one of the local garages for help, and who should turn up to fix the tire but the mayor. He said the garageman didn't have anyone to send, so he volunteered to help the ladies out of their predicament.

What about it, Charlotte? We'll bet that even your mayor Douglas can't hold a candle to our Mayor Erikson!

Price Funeral Services Sunday

William Ayers Price, Respected Farmer Of Near Southport, Laid To Rest In Bethel Cemetery

Funeral services for William Ayers Price, prominent farmer of near Southport, were conducted at Bethel Baptist church Sunday afternoon by Rev. Woodrow Bullard of Wilmington and Rev. Mr. Johnson of Bolivia. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Price died at his home Thursday morning following a brief illness.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by seven sons, J. D. Price, F. D. Price and W. C. Price, all of Southport; Warren Kimball Price, W. A. Price, Jr., Benjamin H. Price and L. E. Price, all of Philadelphia; and four daughters, Mrs. Carl Ward, Bolivia; Mrs. S. V. Russ, Mrs. W. O. Smith and Miss Aletha Price, Southport.

Mr. Price was a member of the Ft. Johnson Council J. O. A. M.

Much Interest In Yachts That Have Been Stopping

The Marmont, costly yacht of Lamont du Pont of Wilmington, Delaware, was here Thursday with Mr. du Pont and a party of eight guests aboard. About an hour was spent strolling about town by the party while the boat was being serviced.

Yachts have been coming through from Florida very rapidly during the past two weeks, in most instances only the crews are aboard, the owners having had to hurry back to their business by plane, train or car.

Commodore W. K. Vanderbilt has also passed through during the past few days. He was traveling aboard a small chartered yacht. The Alvah, the palatial craft on which he and Mrs. Vanderbilt travel
