Approximately 600 Law Books Are A Special Gift To The Law School From Mrs. Gardner And Sister

WAKE FOREST, Mar. 30. — Approximately 600 law books, a special gift to the law school of Wake Forest College from Mrs. O. Max Gardner, wife of former governor O. Max Gardner and her sister, Mrs. Madge Webb Riley, arrived here from Shelby this morning.

President Thurman Kitchin announced the gift today after receiving notification from Governor Gardner.

nor Gardner. The books are from the library of the late Judge James L. Webb, father of Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. Riley and judge of the North Carolina Superior Court from 1904 until his death in 1930. The library contains no North Carolina reports, Mr. Gardner stated, "but represents the very rare collections of the English and American text books on many branches of the law, English Decisions and American Reports, in addition to a number of miscellaneous, historical and useful treatises."

This donation, Mr. Gardner points out, represents a gift made to Wake Forest from a Wake Forest man. Judge Webb entered the college in 1874 and left just before his graduation to assist the late Plato Durham as co-editor of the Cleveland Banner and aid him in adjusting the Cleveland County section of the state to the problems of Civil War reconstruction. In 1904 Governor Aycock appointed him Superior Court judge and he served for twenty-six years, holding court in each of the 100 counties of North Carolina.

MacArthur Pledges U. S. Blood To Australians

CANBERRA. — In a khaki blouse devoid of medals or even the insignia of rank, General Douglas MacArthur stood before the leader of Australia tonight and pledged the blood and power of the United States to an unremitting crusade for freedom.

Speaking at a dinner in his honor at Parliament House, the supreme commander of the American and Australian forces made his vow and bound up the destinies of the two nations in these crisp, fervid sentences: "There is a link that binds our countries together which does not depend upon a written protocol upon treaties of alliance or upon diplomatic doctrine. It goes deeper than that. It is that indescriable consanguinity of race which causes us to have the same aspirations, the same hopes and desires, the same ideals and the same dreams of future destiny.

"My presence here is tangible evidence of our unity. I have come as a soldier in a great crusade of personal liberty as opposed to perpetual slavery.

"My faith in our ultimate victory is invincible, and I bring you tonight the unbreakable spirit of the free man's military code in support of our just cause.

"That code has come down to us from even before the days of knighthood and chivalry. It will stand the test of any ethics or philosophies the world has ever known.

This year, in addition to the floral wonders of their place they are bringing out the great historical events that have transpired along the west bank of the Cape Fear and at Southport since the King of England granted all land of North and South Carolina to the Lord proprietors, about the year 1642.

More than half the whole folder is devoted to these historical events in Brunswick, everything being recited in a brief and graphic manner that makes the folder valuable to students of history, along with those who love nature.
