This is an important important consideration to keep River, especially on Bald Head in mind. The more you pay up Island, had inspired a feeling that the town was unsafe and it was abandoned.

At about the same time residents of Charleston, named for King Charles, of England, concluded that their town was also unsafe. Some of them moved up and across the river and aided in settling the new town of Wilmington. Still others of the inhabitants of Charlestown returned to England. Less than a year later they returned from England to the Carolina's, sailed up the Cooper River and founded a new Charlestown.

This is the Charleston, S. C., of today. The original Charlestown in the Carolinas was on Town Creek, in what is now Brunswick county. The location was about five miles above Orton and six miles above the town of Brunswick and St. Phillip's church. The site of Brunswick is now a part of the Orton Plantation.

REMANANTS OF GOST TOWN The walls of St. Phillip's church are today the most outstanding evidence of a once thriving town The walls are some 18 feet high and in the huge interior large trees are growing. At one time the writer counted seven squirrel nests in the trees that grow inside the walls. The doors, windows, floor and roof have, of course, long since vanished. Only the walls remain. Twenty yards away, partially surrounding the cemetery and the church, are the old Civil War breastworks. The church was occupied by armed forces during both the Revolutionary and Civil Wars, also during the Indian uprisings and attacks by pirates The river side of the church still bears the marks of cannon balls. In the cemetery, just outside the church walls, two Governor's Dobbs, of the Colonization period and Smith are buried, along with

Mrs. Housewife Clip This Point Schedule!

The State OPA Office in Raleigh today released the point-value timetable below for rationed food stuffs beginning March 1. These are the "point values" of all rationed foods—the price in "points" that you must pay at your grocery store. Clip this sheet and keep it handy. Keep a second sheet in your pocketbook when you go food shopping. "Point" shopping is easy—if you use your shopping guide, money, and "point value" table hand in hand.

I. Find out the not weight of the centents (from the label, if any).

2. In the line across the top of the chart, showing the weight in cunces and pounds, find the column in which this weight belongs.

3. Find the item in the listing of items in the column to the left.

4. The POINT VALUE of the item appears on the same line as the item and in the column listing the correct weight.

5.11 Point Values must be determined by weights. If no weight is marked the item that less must be determined by weights.

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS!

It is suggested that our housewives buy groceries once a week, or enough canned goods for the month at one time to avoid waiting for your groceryman to add up the POINTS and total cash. This rationing of canned goods is as new to him as it is to you, so naturally it is going to take a little time to become acquainted with this new set-up.

The buying at one time will be beneficial to both consumer and merchant.
