

The Lighter Side Of Life

Our Helpmate

An emergency call came in last week from our armed forces. It seems that the boys over on coast patrol duty haven't anything to read and would greatly appreciate a supply of current magazines to help them while away some of their leisure time.

of those who may want to enter. Because of the unusual weather for this time of year it will be hard to set a date for the show very far in advance.

"War-sages" are again the order of the day. Following up their success with war stamp corsages on St. Valentine's day, the young girls of the Methodist Sunday School are making them for Easter, this time prettier than ever.

Plans are being made for the annual spring flower show sponsored by the Woman's club. Appropriately enough, vegetable gardens will be stressed this year along with flower gardens.

DINNER PARTY

Miss Doris Price was guest of honor at a dinner party at her home last week on the eve of her departure for Cooper Hospital in Camden, S. C. where she will go into training for nursing.

CIRCLE NO. 3

Members of Circle No. 3 of the Women Missionary Union of Southport Baptist church, held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Spencer, with Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Connie Lupton as joint hostesses.

APPENDECTOMY

W. E. (Tony) McKeithan, of Southport, underwent an operation for removal of his appendix Tuesday at Doshier Memorial Hospital.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Carrawan have returned home from Washington where they have been visiting relatives for the past ten days.

Mrs. J. D. Traylor was called to Birmingham, Ala., last week on account of the illness of her father.

Mrs. Chauncey Walker, Sr., of Atkinson, spent last week here with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Corring.

Julian Southerland, of Norfolk, Va., spent part of this week here with his mother, Mrs. H. W. Southerland.

Mrs. Chauncey Walker, Jr., and son, Chauncey, 3rd., of New Orleans, La., moved here last week and are occupying the upper apartment at the home of Mrs. Lee Hewett.

Mrs. David Adams had as her guests on Sunday her sisters, Mrs. Long and Miss Robinson, of Shalotte.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Williamson and children, Bettie Sue and Curtis, spent several days in Chadbourn last week.
