LANDING STRIP AT LONG BEACH

much progress is being made in the general development at Long Beach. The demand for building lots has grown into large proportions. Much building is already underway and just as soon as material becomes a little more available it is predicted that the beach will grow by leaps and bounds.

COAST GUARD MAY TAKE OVER USE OF FORT CASWELL

These inferences are drawn from the letter below written by Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal to Senator Bailey under date of March 12:

"I have your letter of February 24, 1946, with reference to the buildings and land located at Fort Caswell, North Carolina.

"The Coast Guard has expressed an interest in this property and it is tentatively planned to make it available to them for their use. If it should be determined that this property is surplus to the needs of the Coast Guard, it will be transferred to the War Assets Corporation for disposal. In that event we shall be glad to notify W. B. Keziah of Southport, North Carolina."

Highway Commission be invited to come to Brunswick county for a joint-hearing on the road matter with the commissioners. There was no second for this motion, and Mr. Bellamy again expressed his feeling that to press matters for improvement of the Grissettown-Ash road at the present time might mean that neither road will be given consideration.

Some heated exchanges took place during the course of the controversy, with several citizens expressing their ideas with regard to the particular road they favor.

What further steps the Grissettown-Ash delegation plans to take were not disclosed.

Before they adjourned, the commissioners named the following rabies inspectors for Brunswick county: Northwest, George F. Ganey; Town Creek, Goley B. Lewis; Smithville, C. M. Crapon; Lockwoods Folly, Lindsey Clemmons; Shallotte, Carl Long; Waccamaw, W. D. Evans.

SAYS COMMUNITY ALREADY NAMED

Evans' store. My uncle, D. L. Russell bought Belvidere from Mr. Dixon MasRae. That was one of the old colonial estates, at one time owned by Gov. Benjamin Smith. Washington on his tour of the South spent the night with Gov. Smith at his baronial estate of Belvidere. Washington came from Wilmington in a barge (I think). Anyway 13 young girls dressed in white wearing regalias bearing the name of the 13 original states, met him at the foot of the landing and escorted him up to the house. Gov. Smith had a race track and a moat around the house.

"Now there is another near by noted place, whose name could be used, "Bellville," no distance from the highway.

"Now another thing, those bridges on Eagle's Island are named wrong. The one next to the Brunswick River, should be Alligators while the larger one nearer Wilmington is Redmond not Redman. You see, my uncle owned all that section of Eagles Island, and he had the places straight, so please do get the Highway Commission to get it all straight, for if ever a law suit should arise in reference to those sites, there will be some trouble getting things adjusted."
