WOMAN'S CLUB

Earl L. Brown was the speaker at the literature meeting of the Woman's Club meeting in the home of Mrs. Harold George on the third Wednesday in April. He spoke of some of his early experiences in the Philippines, and of the Moro women with which he came in contact while building a bridge for the Army on the island of Mindanao.

The talk by Col. Brown was followed by a social hour during which punch and varied sandwiches and cakes were served by Mrs. R. C. Daniel presiding at the punchbowl. Other guests were Mrs. L. C. Ferguson, Mrs. R. C. St. George, Mrs. Arthur Weeks and Miss Margaret Parkhill.

E. M. McEachern was the speaker before the same group at the regular business meeting at the Library on Wednesday afternoon of this week. His subject was "Water Safety" and he broadened his subject to include not only safety on large bodies of water but safety concerning water in the home. "It is very often the small portions of water which cause our high accident rate," said Mr. McEachern.

At a business session following Mr. McEachern's talk Mrs. C. Ed. Taylor, president of the club, brought up several matters of interest to the club members. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. McEachern. It was decided to buy a Bible for the local high school. A report was heard from the lunch room, for which the Woman's Club is buying milk. A library report was also given. Officers for the coming year were elected in March, and the committee chairmen were elected at the Wednesday meeting. Mrs. A. K. Vitou was elected citizenship chairman; Mrs. James Harper, literature chairman; Mrs. Helen Bragaw, garden chairman; Mrs. Arthur Weeks, ways and means chairman; and the library trustees, Mrs. W. S. Styron, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. E. I. Brown, and Mrs. Jessie Harper.

Mrs. H. B. Smith and Mrs. Landis Brown served punch and cakes to those present.

Summer Classic

FINE detail distinguishes this classic dress in crown tested rayon. Notice the clever use of scalloped tucks on the blouse and pockets. Pastel colored clothes need frequent freshening, so be sure to find out the method of care recommended for each garment you buy. Informative labels attached to many rayons will give you this information. Look for labels on rayons when you shop.

Press the cardboard. If the tie is silk, a pressing cloth or tissue paper should be used between fabric and iron.

Many ties may be freshened with a little sponging. The part most likely to be soiled is where the fold of the fabric comes under the chin. Prompt sponging with cleaning fluid and perhaps also with a cloth dampened in water may remove the soil. At this place also the tie is likely to become worn. If the tie is of sufficient length to allow for shortening, the remedy for wear is to take up the seam in the center a half inch or so which will bring the worn place under ways—as a bright scarf for a child, a pocket handkerchief, a tie, belt (by stitching onto still belt—the fabric may be used in other ing), buttons (by covering button

Many a necktie, now hanging limp and soiled enroute to the rag-bag, could instead take its place in the Easter Parade with some skillful home cleaning and pressing, according to clothing specialists. New neckties, like many other items of men's wear, are low in supply and up in price. Salvage your old neckties, especially prewar ties of true silk. Many of these silks are fast in color, so wash successfully, but the specialists advise first testing a bit of fabric cut from the underside of the tie. If the fabric is not washable, the tie may be dipped in non-inflammable cleaning fluid.

The lining of the tie frequently gives trouble in cleaning and pressing. Anchor it in place, because it is likely to slip out of position and become lumpy during washing and cleaning. In pressing, the lining may mark the outer fabric. To avoid these difficulties, run basting threads up and down the tie to hold the lining in place before washing or dipping. Remove basting when the tie is ready for pressing, and slip a piece of cardboard, cut in the shape of the tie, between the lining and outer

TO THE VOTERS Of Brunswick County:—

It has been my privilege to serve you as a member of the Board of County Commissioners during the past four years, and for the last two years as chairman of that body. I sought the nomination and election because I sincerely believed that I could serve as an honest and capable member of the board, and for the duration of my term it has been my purpose to render the kind of service that I pledged you when I first appeared before you as a candidate.

I come before you again with the same purpose and the same determination. This time I can offer one other qualification: Four year's experience dealing with the most important business affairs of our county.

During my term in office there have been many questions to come up over which there was considerable argument and discussion. I have tried always to be fair in my judgment, and each decision I have made has reflected my honest conviction in the matter. I know that I might not have been right every time, but I have always been as fair as I knew how.

Brunswick county is a big place, and although I wish that I could see all of you voters in person before the Democratic Primary on May 25, this will be impossible. Let me assure you that I shall appreciate your vote and support, and if nominated and elected I will fulfill the duties of the office I seek to the very best of my ability.
