Captain Bellamy stated that the interest in this Colonial Beach development has been growing at a surprising rate. In addition to his own construction the area will have a regular home building boom going at full blast by other property owners in 1947.

term of their service, while those who enlist after October 5 will receive benefits under the bill only for that part of their service which accrues prior to the termination of the war time emergency as will be determined by Congressional action. This could conceivably be a year, two years or three years. Thus men who enlist after October 5 will apparently be assured considerable benefits under the "GI" Bill.

Applicants accepted during the above period from Brunswick were Lester L. Edwards, Jr., Bolivia; and James B. Caison, Shallotte.

FIRE PREVENTION PROGRAM BEGINS MONDAY OCT. 7

official statistics show that 9 out of every 10 forest and woods fires are man-caused—started in some localities by people who deliberately set them for spite of personal gain, in others by people who carelessly throw away lighted matches or cigarettes or leave campfires—or grass or fern or debris fires—before they are dead out.

To save forests and jobs for Servicemen—and their favorite hunting and fishing and camping areas—everybody must be more careful with fire when clearing land or burning trash this year, and with matches, cigarettes, and picnic fires, according to forestry officials.

GROWING GRAPES POPULAR CROP FOR BRUNSWICK

which are black.

Niswonger suggests that 4 one-year-old bunch grapes be planted in the home garden, set 10 by 10 feet. Plant 2 muscadine grape vines about 20 feet apart. Practically all varieties of muscadines are sterile and there should be one male vine with one to eight varieties.

In the first year's pruning, Niswonger recommends that only one shoot be allowed to grow and develop into a trunk, taking off all other shoots.

When pruning bunch grapes in later years, pruning consists of having two canes of the previous year's growth tied to each of two wires, one running each way from the trunk, or 4 new canes, bearing 8 to 10 buds each. The new canes should be selected from starting nearest the trunk. Fruiting canes of the previous season's growth between the selected canes and trunk should be cut back to 2 buds.

The training of the muscadine grape on the arbor consists in developing 8 arms radiating to the top of the trunk on each of the wires crossing the center post. The unit of pruning is an arm of 1 to 8 years old, supporting several spurs with 4 buds each.

FORMER PERSONAL COOK FOR F. D. R.

Following the death of the late president his personal staff was naturally disbanded. Instead of going back to the Pullman people or the shipyards, Jake assigned himself to the easier job of cook aboard the 77-foot Argo, a yacht owned by E. L. Willis, of Columbia, S. C. He has been there practically all of the time since the late president died. Mr. Willis keeps the Argo moored in Lockwoods Folly River, just below the highway bridge, during the greater part of the year. The president's former cook may therefore be regarded as a full fledged resident of Brunswick county.

Captain John B. Norris a Brunswick county man, is skipper of the Argo and lives aboard her. He and Jacob constitute the ship's entire crew while the vessel is moored at Supply. The owner's family consists of only Mr. Willis and his wife. They very seldom use the vessel and then only for short periods. Jacob and Captain John have a fairly easy time of keeping the 77-foot craft. Jacob says that his wanderings and experiences are over and that he plans to stay with Mr. Willis and Captain John for the rest of his life. Weighing about 200-pounds and now 45-years-old, Jacob takes no chances. He is in perfect health. Still, once each month he undergoes a complete medical checking over, something that he learned from the president as being the wise thing to do under all circumstances. He always gets a report, but that does not keep him from going back to days later for another check-up.

Playground or Battlefield?

This looks like a battlefield. But you can see the same thing in too many of America's forest playgrounds. Over there it's bombs. Here it's forest and woods fires. Makes returned Servicemen feel right at home.

Yes, forest and woods fires! Fires that burn 31,000,000 acres every year—more than the whole State of New York. Fires that kill billions of little trees—tomorrow's timber—and enough big ones to build 215,000 five-room homes. Fires that denude vital watersheds, cause floods and erosion, scar Nature's beauty.

But here's the payoff. Nine out of ten forest and woods fires CAN be prevented . . . because they are caused by good, law abiding citizens—like you! So you can help save America's forests—and jobs and homes for her Servicemen—by being careful in all forest areas.

Remember this: Preventing forest and woods fires is better—far better—than fighting them. So read the rules on this page—then abide by them. Do your part . . . always.

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as the went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks . . . but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!
