SPEAKERS.—W. Kerr Scott, left, Commissioner of Agriculture for the State of North Carolina, was the principal speaker at a political rally held last night at Waccamaw high school. On the right is Congressman J. Bayard Clark, who will speak tomorrow (Thursday) night at 7:30 o'clock in the courthouse at Southport.

Landing Strip Is Now Being Constructed On Bald Head

Wilmington Man Given Exclusive Rights To Commercial Air Transportation To And From Island

FISHING WILL BE LARGELY UNAFFECTED

Plans Are To Fly In Sports- men For Fishing From The Beach And For Duck Hunting In Season

Hunting and fishing rights to portions of Bald Head island have been given by Frank O. Sherrill to Carl Dunn, Wilmington airfield operator, and Mr. Dunn started operations this week on the construction of a landing strip for planes on the island. He plans to fly duck hunters and fishermen to the island when the strip is completed.

It is understood that Mr. Dunn and his associates plan to convert the old Coast Guard mounted patrol base into a hunting and fishing lodge. His field of operations are on the eastern beach and Middle and Bluff islands. The agreement gives the Wilmington men exclusive commercial privileges of aircraft operations to and from the island and also for hunting.

For fishing the general public may use the island much the same as formerly. Bald Head island proper is little affected. Likewise the proposition to have Bald Head island made into the home of the United Nations, should this develop, will not be affected.

Last week Representative Vogels of Mecklenburg county, expressed his intention of introducing a bill at the next session of the General Assembly, providing for the State of North Carolina to buy Bald Head island and offer it as a home for the United Nations. So far as is known here it may be months before any action is taken towards the several places that have been suggested as the possible future home of the United Nations. Bald Head island, however, has received widespread notice as a very desirable location.

Hearing Monday For Bert Jacobs

M. L. Holden Also Held In Connection With Attempt To Do Away With Osborne Piggott

Following the arrest of Bert Jacobs, Shallotte township man on a charge of cooperation and conspiracy to murder, Osborne Piggott, M. L. Holden, prominent farmer of Shallotte township, was also arrested on an identical charge.

The two men are alleged by officers to have placed two sticks of dynamite in the car of Piggott, the stuff being wired to explode when Piggott attempted to start his car. When Piggott attempted to start his engine the starter failed to work and an investigation revealed the explosives.

The case was worked up by State Highway Patrolman C. J. Ferguson, who secured the assistance of Harry Fales, Wilmington finger-print expert. The finger prints of both Jacobs and Holden are said to have been found on the Piggott car. Jacobs was at first held in jail in default of a $5,000 bond. At ...

Sea-Going Deer Taken Saturday

The strangest catch of the season was reported Saturday by Derrel Lee Bowen and Harry Chadwick when they returned from an off-shore shrimping expedition with a live eight-point buck made fast to their hoisting gear.

The two Shallotte men sighted the big deer swimming about a mile off-shore and moved along side in their boat. Then began an exciting session of amphibious cowpunching as first one then the other tried to lasso the free-swimming buck. Finally an improvised tangled-noose settled into place and the men were able to hoist the animal aboard and to bring him ashore.

Funeral Sunday For W. E. Nelson

Northwest Township Farmer Died At James Walker Memorial Hospital Friday Evening

William E. Nelson, of northwest township, died in the James Walker hospital in Wilmington Friday night. He had been in bad health for some time.

Mr. Nelson, who was a farmer, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Tula W. Nelson; two daughters, Miss Luretha Nelson and Miss Liza Nelson; four sons, W. E. Nelson, Jr., Marion Edward Nelson, Olan Ray Nelson, and Herman Rudolph Nelson, all of Leland; three brothers, J. W. Nelson, of Leland, J. T. and W. D. Nelson; Mrs. E. P. Franks, of Wilmington, and Mrs. D. E. Mintz, of Leland; and one grandchild.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Nelson cemetery with the Rev. Walter Phelps and Rev. J. Benton in charge of the service. Active pallbearers were William Cook, Robert Babbs, Letha King, Rock Benton, Tate Gandy and Thomas Mintz. Honorary pallbearers included J. R. Ganey, A. W. Benton, Stephen Mintz, Rufus Williams, J. T. White and L. J. Mills.

Application For Dredging Basin

Engineers Office Has Received Application From D. E. Stanaland For Dredging Basin At Bon- apart Landing

According to a public notice distributed by the U. S. Engineers office in Wilmington, D. E. Stanaland, well known resident of Shallotte township, has made application for a dredging permit, intended to dredge approximately 3,000 cubic yards of material from a basin 6 feet deep, 100 feet by 150 feet, on the north side of the Intracoastal Waterway, Cape Fear River, to Winyah Bay, S. C., opposite lighted beacon No. 111, near Bonaparte Landing. The dredged material will be placed along the shore on property owned by the applicant.

Southport May Get Post Office Under Program

Dispatch From Washington Indicates That Appropriation For Construction May Be Forthcoming Soon

BUILDING SLATED TO COST $95,000

Believed Likely That Garrison May Be The Site Of New Structure When It Is Erected

A number of eastern North Carolina towns are slated to get appropriations for new postoffice buildings sometime in the near future, according to a Washington news dispatch of the past week.

Among these towns Southport, where a rented building. It is possible that the building, when the Post Office Department is ready to construct it, will be on the old Garrison lot. That property is already owned by the U. S. Army Engineers and acquisition by the Post Office Department would only involve the transfer of a deed from one department to another.

With 91-other towns in various parts of North Carolina listed to receive postoffice buildings at a total cost of approximately $15,000,000, the following places in southeastern North Carolina are slated to receive the construction sums listed:

Holly Ridge, $95,000; Jacksonville, $105,000; Maxton, $95,000; Southport, $95,000; Tabor City, $85,000; Warsaw, $85,000; Bladenboro, $85,000; Burgaw, $95,000; Carolina Beach, $95,000; Chadbourne, $85,000; Elizabethtown, $95,000; Fairmont, $85,000; Cherryville, $85,000; and Richlands, $85,000.

Prominent State Officials Speak

Scott At Waccamaw Last Night; Clark At South- port Thursday; Burney At Shallotte Saturday; Ballentine At Bolivia

Stepping up their campaign prior to the November election, the Democrats of Brunswick presented Hon. W. Kerr Scott, State Commissioner of Agriculture, to the voters of the Waccamaw section at the Waccamaw school last night. The coming of the agriculture official to Waccamaw was a happy selection for this farming section of Brunswick, and a large crowd turned out to hear him.

On Thursday night J. Bayard Clark, Congressman of the 7th district of North Carolina, will speak at the courthouse at Southport. Mr. Clark needs no introduction to the people of Brunswick and all voters who can possibly attend are invited to hear him.

On Saturday night John J. Burney, judge of the Superior court of this district, will speak at Shallotte school. Judge Burney, veteran of the first world war, is a favorite speaker among the ...

W. B. KEZIAN

We lay no claim to being a deer hunter, but D. B. Phelps, one of the Supply-Green Swamp Phelps, has developed in us a desire to go with him. His invitation that we be his hunting companion has the very attractive condition that we will have nothing to do but sit still in a boat and maybe hold a camera. He plans to paddle up or down some creek he knows of and show us a deer on the bank. Mind you, this is to take place in the daytime. No flashlight and no night hunting to invite a visit from the game warden with the request that we make a visit to the courthouse and say good morning to the judge.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Ennis Long filling station a mile west of Supply is the best lit-up place of business at night in Brunswick county. With a large and very attractive building, Mr. Long spent over $300.00 for outside neon lights. He keeps them on night until 11:00 o'clock and can be ...

AIR TRANSPORTATION PLANNED

AIRSTRIP.—Getting to and from Bald Head Island always has presented a major problem to persons who wished to visit this interesting tropical spot. Word was received this week that an air strip will be constructed on the island and that air transportation soon will be available.

Drug Store And Bank Make Swap

Upon Completion Of New Brick Building At Shall- lotte, Drug Store Will Move In And Leave Pres- ent Quarters For Bank

As a result of an agreement between the Waccamaw Bank and Trust company, the Shallotte Drug company and R. D. White, owner of the new brick building, the bank will occupy the quarters at Shallotte now used by the drug company and the drug company will move into the new addition to the building.

The change will take place as soon as the building is completed. The drug company, owned by Guy Culpepper, of Whiteville, and managed by Edward Redwine, was finding itself in need of larger quarters and made the proposition for the trade in locations. All of the brick work on the addition to the building is now completed. The front to the drug store quarters was torn down to make a solid front.

R. D. White owns the building.

Southport Boy Aboard Princeton

Thomas Fullwood, seaman, first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Fullwood of Southport, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Princeton, which is on duty with the 7th Fleet in the Pacific.

The Princeton was named the famous light carrier, which was sunk in the second battle of the Philippines. The new carrier recently returned the body of the late President Quezon, wartime leader of the Philippines, to his homeland.

The Princeton, now enroute to the Orient, will visit Japan and China before returning to the Marianas Islands for the Christmas holidays.

Fishermen Busy Along Streams Of Brunswick

Bear Joins His Amputated Foot

Last fall the Phelps boys living between Supply and the Green Swamp, set a trap for a bear that was doing damage in a cornfield. They caught the bear, alright, only to lose him. The powerful jaws of the trap so mangled the bear's foot that he broke away, leaving his amputated foot behind.

This week Oddie Phelps came on a big black bear in the same corn field. When one of these boys meets a bear the bear always gets the worst of it. Oddie shot and killed the animal. It weighed 350 pounds, not counting the one front foot that the trap bit off in the same field last year.

Fox Hunters At Shallotte Point

Western North Carolina Sportsmen Spent Morning Hours Hunting And Fish- ed In Afternoon

Three parties of western North Carolina hunters converged on the Anchor Hotel, at Shallotte Point, several days ago for five days of fox hunting. They brought with them over 100 fine Walker fox hounds and had daily chases each morning, spending the afternoon in fishing, at which they had fine luck.

One or two foxes were bagged each day of the hunt and from all information the party had a big time.

Several parties of western North Carolina deer hunters have reservations at the hotel for this week and next.

The fox hunters were: J. Lee Moody, June Dark, Paul Dunlap and W. H. Murray, from Siler City, Rufus Brooks, Will Brooks, Paul Brooks, Ralph Brooks, Roy Webster, Clem Dunlap and Pat Murrow, Boone; Charlie Moody, Romie Poe, Elmer Moore, Jr., Jack Phillips and Jack Beal, from Bear Creek.

Father And Sons Start Business

W. R. Holmes And Sons Begin Operation Of General Business At Shallotte

The Holmes Service, a new general business, has started operations at Shallotte with W. R. Holmes, former postmaster, and his three sons all actively engaged in partnership. The company is handling school and office supplies, radio sales and service, electrical equipment and will also engage in job printing and other affiliated activities.

Hubert L. Holmes is general manager of the business. With him and his father are his two brothers, James P. and William Holmes, Jr. All three of these young men are veterans of three or more years of service in the war and all have had business experience. William Holmes, Jr., will have ...

Legion Officials Hear Important State Officials

Judge William M. York, Of Greensboro, State Commander, Included On List Of Speakers For Meeting

WHITEVILLE ARMORY SCENE OF MEETING

Stressed Importance Of Making Determined Effort To Keep Legion Membership Up To Present Strength

Post Officers and committee chairmen, together with Division Officers, of this district of the North Carolina Department of The American Legion met in Whiteville Tuesday night to hear State and National representatives of the Legion outline the coming year's program in a visual manner.

Judge William M. York, of Greensboro, state commander of the Legion, Paul R. Younts of Charlotte and Raleigh, executive vice-commander, Mrs. Thomas W. Bird of Charlotte, state president of the American Legion auxiliary, B. A. Brooks, national representative of the Legion, and R. Mayne, Albright of Raleigh, state membership chairman, Roy Galloway, department vice commander, appeared on the program and outlined the Legion program.

Commander York and the others stressed the necessity of securing renewals of mem- berships, the securing of new mem- bers, especially among veterans of World War II and the ex- pansion and stabilization of the Legion program.

The meeting held here was one of a series of 20 being held between now and November 7th in various parts of the State.

Pointing out that there are now more than 300 Legion Posts in the State, Commander York said the North Carolina Department of the Legion last year had in excess of 67,000 members and that the goal for the coming year is 100,000 members.

"The Legion," Younts added, "has a potential membership of more than 400,000 in North Carolina and it is up to us as Legionnaires to get out and get every man and woman veteran to join their local Posts.

"We must also seek to do our utmost as Legionnaires by helping those who need help and this applies especially to our disabled comrades and the widows and orphans of those who made the supreme sacrifice for their country."

Mrs. Bird told of the work of the Auxiliary and outlined the program for the coming year.

Post commanders and representatives were present from Whiteville, Cerro Gordo, Tabor City, Chadbourne, Fair Bluff, Wilmington, Shallotte, Ash and Southport. Members of the Whiteville American Legion auxiliary served a turkey dinner.

Joe S. Mann of Whiteville, district Legion commander, presided over the meeting.

Short Session Of Court Held

Only One Hour Required To Dispose Of Cases Ready For Trial At Re- corder's Court Monday

Mondays session of the Recorder's court lasted only one hour with Judge John B. Ward and Solicitor J. W. Ruark finishing up all cases that were ready for trial in that time. The minute book shows the following record of the day's proceedings:

Caldwell C. Potter, aiding and abetting in larceny, probable cause found and defendant held for Superior court under bond of $250.00.

Woodrow Mintz, aiding and abetting in larceny, probable cause found and defendant held for Superior court under bond of $250.00.

Palbo Comadow, passing car in face of on coming traffic, judgment suspended on payment of a fine of $10.00 and costs.

Venison Added To County Diet

Hunters Report Unusually Good Luck During First Week Of Open Season; Game Warden Calls At- tention To Bag Limit

With deer hunting allowed every day in the week except Sundays from now until January 1, 1947, Brunswick county deer hunters got off to a good start last week.

Reports seem to indicate that anywhere between 50 and a hundred deer have already been killed, many of them large and beautiful animals. All are described as being very fat and in fine condition. The largest reported thus far was a 200-pound, 8-point buck, killed by C. T. Simons, of Leland. Another Leland party, composed of Foster Robbins, Boyd Parker, Harry Hillburn, Mr. Graves, T. L. Ganey, Mr. Carroll and Ed Leonard, got three fine bucks their first day.

The Phelps boys, at Supply, also report they got three fine bucks the first day. Many a home in Brunswick county got fresh meat by going to the woods after it since the season opened.

While hunting may be indulged in each week day, Game Warden H. T. Bownser calls attention to the law which says that ...
