Kappa Sigma Group From State College At Long Beach This Week On House Party

An interesting group of young people at Long Beach this week is Kappa Sigma house party from State College. They are occupying in the Danford Ocean View apartments.

Many of these young folks have been coming over to Southport daily and making friends among the folks here. Asked who comprised the party, which numbers about 40, they stated they could not remember the names of all, however, they listed the following:

W. J. Brooks, Red Springs; Anne Cutts, Raleigh; Richard Boyd, Durham; Adelaide Linehan, Raleigh; Richard Saulsbury, Scotland Neck; Nellie Truslow, Chestertown, Md.; W. M. Clark, Lexington; Ann Williamson, Marietta, Ga.; Jeff and Pete Cloud, Wadesboro; Jane Jeter Boatwright and Vernon Jeter, Raleigh; J. M. Pharr, Concord.

Amelia Eure, Raleigh; William Barnhardt, Charlotte; Cathy Cole, Richmond, Va.; Turk Pharr, Concord; Beth Yarborough, Florence, S. C.; Gordon Watts, Charlotte; Edith Allison, Statesville; Mr. and Mrs. William Neal, Raleigh; E. C. Yow, Fayetteville; Carolina Crowder, Raleigh; Archie Booker, South Boston, Va.; Bettie Bowles, Statesville; Wilson Maloy, Cheraw, S. C.; Bettie Cloud, Wadesboro; Bob Ganey, Wilmington; Sally Truelove, Wilmington; Henry West, Monroe; Malcolm McKenzie, Rockingham; Mr. and Mrs. Nick and Lydia Gardner, New York City.

Several of the party, including what was said some of the best looking girls, elected to go freshwater fishing with W. B. Keziah yesterday afternoon. The others chartered the Idle-On of Skipper Hulan Watts and the Major of Captain Victor Lance for deeper fishing.

Cafe Re-Opening Is Gala Affair

Hundreds Of Guests Attended Open House At Popular Southport Waterfront Restaurant Friday

Several hundred people gathered Friday night for the formal opening of Mack's Cafe. A fish and spaghetti supper with cold drinks and hot coffee was served free.

About 300 persons registered in the guest book and this probably failed to represent all who were in the building and to whom supper was served. Many others did not enter the building, owing to its crowded condition. But even those who did not go in joined with those who did in singing praise of the attractive and up-to-date dining room that Southport now has.

Nearly every section of Brunswick county was represented at the supper. Folks turned out strongly from some of the neighboring towns and there was a good gathering from Long Beach and Holden Beach.

Mack's Cafe, operated for several years by its owner, G. W. McGlamery, has always had a fine reputation for its food and general management. Now, completely overhauled and with much new equipment it is in a position to render still greater service to the public in a most pleasing manner.

Mack also donated a couple of nice prizes in a drawing by his guests. In this drawing a beautiful Silvertone Clock Radio was drawn by Little Miss Marcia Ann Disaver, daughter of Floyd Disaver. Mrs. James Arnold drew a servicable 12-inch electric fan.

Officers Capture 1100-Gallon Still

After watching it for three days in the hope of capturing the operators who did not show up, Chief of Police J. H. Coleman of Shallotte and Deputy Sheriff Dayton McLamb raided and captured a large still near Supply Monday morning.

The outfit was of copper and was of 1100-gallon capacity. Along with the still the officers got 150 gallons of mash and 11½ gallons of whiskey.

Chief Coleman said that the operators had evidently been tipped off to the fact that the outfit was being watched and they were lying low.

Man Who Regained His Health In Brunswick Enjoys Birthday Party At Holden Beach

Coming to Brunswick county ten years ago in very poor health V. L. Ward, originally of Gates county, celebrated his 73rd birthday at Holden Beach this week. Although he is well fixed and does not need to work, Mr. Ward is able to and does work every day. This summer he is behind the counter at the J. & K. beach resort store at Holden Beach every day of the week.

Friends at the beach gave him a real birthday party with a real birthday cake and all of the trimmings. The 14 girls of Girls Scout Troop No. 9, who were having their regular summer outing at Holden Beach, took the lead in giving Mr. Ward the birthday party. When a reporter saw him Saturday Mr. Ward was looking on his party as a big event in his life, thanks to the friends he has in Brunswick and the Girls Scout Troop No. 9 of Wilmington.

VISITING IN BOSTON

Mrs. G. C. Hickman and her mother, Mrs. B. A. Robeson, of Winnebow, left Thursday for Boston, Mass., for a few weeks vacation while Mrs. Hickman is with her husband, who is a member of the crew of the Coast Guard and serving on the cutter Mendota.

FROM LEXINGTON

Dr. and Mrs. Milton Black and daughters, Diane, Beryl and Betty, have moved from Lexington to their beautiful summer home at Long Beach. Mrs. Black and the young ladies will be there through September and Dr. Black will drive down each week-end. The families of Joe Slink, James Swicegood and Jimmie Mause, all of Lexington, are also at cottages at Long Beach.

IN PENNSYLVANIA

Misses Margaret Bellamy, Virginia and Ethelda Varnum, of Holden Beach, have been spending two weeks in Pennsylvania with Mrs. Lucy Buttersaugh, sister of Virginia and Ethelda. They are returning today.

ALLEN'S AT BEACH

Dr. George Allen and family from Lumberton moved into their cottage at Holden Beach Saturday. Dr. Allen keeps a cabin cruiser at the beach. With his family at the beach he will commute between his office and Holden Beach each week-end.

VISITS THE BEACH

Miss Maude McCrackan, chief of social service at Duke University, has been spending the past week at Holden Beach as the guest of a number of University people.

ABOUT

Kerr Scott tells us today of his undying friendship for the tobacco farmer.

It was different in 1939 when North Carolina's Tobacco markets crumbled. The situation was desperate . . . tobacco prices broke below 11 cents . . . it was like the midwest in drought time. The farmers of this State sought to keep the markets closed until an adequate marketing system could be worked out.

At the request of the Federal Government, the then Commissioner of Agriculture, now Candidate Kerr Scott—the so-called friend of the tobacco farmers—hurried to Washington for a conference.

Let us quote from the reliable TIME Magazine (October 9, 1939, Page 9):

"North Carolina's big handsome Commissioner of Agriculture William Kerr Scott, suggested sadistically that the markets ought to be re-opened, the farmers left to squirm."

Kerr Scott wasn't running for Governor then!
