COTTAGES ALL FULL

A canvas of things at Holden Beach Saturday revealed that every cottage there was full up for the summer, excepting new ones and others on which repairs are being made. John and Kemp Holden, operators of the J. and K. Store, said that it looked to them that this will be by far the greatest season the beach has ever had.

WRITING BOOK

Mrs. VanDyke, teacher of physics and math at Flora MacDonald college, is spending a month at the Cranmer cottage at Long Beach. While there she is engaged in writing a book.

PLENTY OF TURTLES

Several large sea turtles have been caught at Holden Beach during recent moonlight nights. Jack Symrl, young artist from Camden, S. C., who spends much of his time at Holden Beach, happened on one on the strand that was so large that he and girl friend could not turn it over. It waddled back into the ocean.

AT HOLDEN BEACH

Give The East Its Governor

The 50-Year tradition of the Democratic Party of North Carolina should NOT be adjusted for the political ambitions of any man.

Kerr Scott lives in the West and he cannot rightfully claim to be an Eastern candidate. Alamance County has always been considered a part of the political west.

Thomas M. Holt was elected lieutenant-governor from Alamance County as a Westerner. The last three lieutenant-governors from the West have come from counties farther East than Scott's Alamance -- Elmer Long of Durham, Sandy Graham of Orange and Reg Harris of Person.

In 1944, Mr. Scott, now seeking the governorship as a candidate for the East, sought support to run for the U. S. Senate against Bob Reynolds of Buncombe, as a candidate from the West.

With Mr. Scott it is apparent East is West and West is East as the political whim of the moment dictates.

Don't break this 50-year tradition! Vote for Charles M. Johnson, high man in the first primary, and the only candidate from the East in the race for Governor.
