

New Dormitories Nearing Completion

RALEIGH—The two new dormitories, pictured above, are nearing completion at the State College and will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the institution's next academic term in September. The buildings, valued at $1,100,000, were constructed by the N. C. State College Foundation, which borrowed the money for the project from the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company after obtaining approval for the construction work from the board of trustees and the Council of State. The 1947 General Assembly appropriated funds to pay the Foundation for the buildings. Owen Tucker Hall is shown on the left, and Tucker Hall is pictured on the right. Tucker Hall was named in honor of the late Irvin B. Tucker, Sr. of Whiteville, an alumnus of State.

New Dormitory Named For Late Irvin B. Tucker

Whiteville Man Recognized At State College; Had Outstanding Public Record

One of the new dormitories at State College in Raleigh has been named Tucker Hall in recognition of an outstanding State citizen, the late Irvin B. Tucker, Sr. of Whiteville.

Announcement that this tribute had been paid the memory of Mr. Tucker was made by State College officials as the new structure was being constructed and prepared for use this year.

ROBINSON'S SOUTHPORT, N. C.

Dr. Baggett Is G. O. P. Elector

The Whiteville attorney was one of the outstanding citizens of the State. His career included service in many fields of endeavor.

In the State, he was probably best known for his eight years as United States District Attorney of the Eastern North Carolina District, while in national affairs, he was better known for his four years on the United States Parole Board.

He became a State figure when he ran for Lieutenant Governor on the Republican ticket as a running-mate of Judge I. M. Meekins.

Mr. Tucker was mayor of Whiteville for four years, city attorney for three years and among other posts he held were: President of the Whiteville Rotary Club, Rotary governor, chairman of the Columbus County Draft Board in the first World War, chairman of the district selective service appeal board in the recent war and member of the local board of school trustees. He was Master of the local Masonic Lodge for several years and was one of the founders of the Farmers and Merchants Bank.

Mr. Tucker died in 1943 at the age of 64.

Insurance Policy Now Covers Polio

While the medical profession turns more and more effort toward the cure and prevention of poliomyelitis, the insurance companies also are beginning to center their attention on the dread disease.

One of the newest insurance policies against polio was announced by United Benefit Life Insurance Company. This policy pays up to $5,000 for the treatment of poliomyelitis or any of seven other diseases common to children.

L. C. Bland has been appointed their representative in Brunswick county and anyone interested in protecting their children with this coverage may contact Mr. Bland at Shallotte, or at his home in Longwood.

OPEN'S NEW STORE

Making a specialty of handling bait for fishermen and also dealing in fish, shrimp, etc., Raleigh Gray of Supply is opening a new store at Holden Beach this week.

Whiteville Republican Leader Is Among Fourteen Whose Names Are Filed For Election

Dr. L. Baggett of Whiteville has been designated as the Republican Presidential elector from the Seventh Congressional District.

State Chairman Sim A. DeLapp of Lexington this week filed the names of the 14 electoral candidates for North Carolina.

Dr. Baggett, who has served the Republican party for many years as chairman in this county, ranks among the leaders in the State. His wife, Mrs. Carrie Butler Baggett, is the party's candidate for the State House of Representatives from this county in the November election.

Local Fishermen Make Big Catch

102 Bluefish Taken At Southport By Six Whiteville Men; Party Goes In The "Idle On" Skipped By Captain Hulan Watts

SOUTHPORT, July 29.—The "Idle On," skipped by the father of deepsea fishing in Southeastern North Carolina, Captain Hulan Watts, guided a party of Whiteville fishermen to the shoals off Southport Tuesday.

Messrs. Noel Dunicant, E. W. Harrison, W. H. Lewis, W. C. Black, A. W. Baldwin and Otis L. Washam's catch of 102 Bluefish proves that this species is running ahead of schedule this year and is proof that the north-west winds which have switched from the south are making these fast-striking game fish open up dinner-baskets. They are fast and hungry. A fine time was had by all aboard and everyone returned to Whiteville in great spirit.

The South Eastern North Carolina Fishing Rodeo entries are being swelled by the many fine catches made along the Southeastern seaboard in the last few days.

The Veterans Farmer Club of the Brunswick County Training School sponsored its first annual banquet in the school auditorium at Southport on June 18.

One hundred and fifty veterans and guests were present. The guest speaker was Dean J. C. McLaughlin, School of Agriculture, A. & T. College, Greensboro. Some of the main thoughts brought out in his speech were as follows: . . . In this great age, what will you be doing ten years hence? What are you contributing toward that future goal? We must develop that brotherly love incorporated with unity in order to achieve that brotherly love incorporated with unity in order to achieve success. Generally, we find what we look for. Set your goals high and start today, not tomorrow, or else we die with that hope of tomorrow that is never reached.

HEDRICK SEES POSSIBILITY OF OPENING DAY PRICE OF $56.50

Opening Day Price of $56 Marketing Specialist Discusses Outlook For Tobacco On Border Belt Markets

If the calculations of the State Department of Agriculture's top tobacco expert are correct leaf prices might hit a high of $56.50 per hundred pounds when the seven North Carolina Border Belt markets open sales Tuesday.

Marketing Specialist W. P. Hedrick bases his estimates on the opening prices at the Georgia-Florida Belt markets, where sales began last Thursday. Sales for the first two days showed an average of $52.53 at those centers, said Hedrick, and the government sets a price differential of 4 cents a pound between the Georgia-Florida and Border Belt tobacco. The reason for the difference is that tobacco offered for sale on the Border Belt is tied, whereas that sold in Georgia and Florida is not.

Thus, Hedrick figures, the averages on opening sales on the Border Belt probably will reach a figure around $56.50.

Calculating further, Hedrick figures that the entire season's average on the Border Belt might run around 34 per cent over the seasonal average of $42.59 per hundred recorded last year. He bases his estimate on a computation of last year's opening price and the season average and the expected opening price this year.

Hedrick declares, however, that there's always considerable danger in basing predictions on opening day averages. Initial sales seldom give a true picture of the situation, he says, and when the level-off comes after several days of sales the price picture might be changed considerably.

Hedrick figures that the State's flue-cured growers will produce about 24 per cent less tobacco this year than in 1947. Last year's production amounted to 892,205,000 pounds, while the best estimates place this year's crop at around 681,050,000 pounds. If predictions of a 34 per cent increase in prices hold true

Recruiting Not Affected By Law

The Army and the Air Force recruiting campaigns to enlist three-year volunteers will continue without let-up although draft legislation has been passed, Lieut. Charles J. Markus said here today.

The two Services will continue to rely on voluntary enlistments as the principal means of obtaining needed manpower, Lieut. Markus explained. The Selective Service Act will be used only to make up the difference between authorized strength and the number of volunteers.
