Prominent Speakers Appear In Brunswick

Republicans Have Already Brought Three Candidates For State Office Into County For Speeches

JOHN WILKINSON TO WACCAMAW

Democrats Have Asked For Personal Appearance Of Two Prominent State Officials As Campaign Gets Hot

Politics holds the spotlight in Brunswick county as the general election campaign moves into its final three-week period, and both the Democrats and the Republicans are unlimbering their big guns for a final assault upon the voters.

Already the Republicans have had their candidate for governor, for congress and for the State Treasurer appear in the county for speaking engagements, and on Friday, October 22, they will have John Wilkinson, their candidate for the United States Senate at Waccamaw school. A program of speaking engagements covering the entire county will be found elsewhere in today's paper.

The Democrats, too, have lined up a county-wide tour of speaking engagements and this list also appears in the advertising section of today's paper. One of these meetings will be a fishery at Winnabow. Bert Frink, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, has asked for two prominent state officials to appear in Brunswick during the next two weeks. Further announcement regarding the appearance of these men will appear in another issue.

Beach Building Still Going On

Several Property Owners At Holden Beach Getting Cottages Ready For Use Next Summer

Knowing that October and November usually bring more pretty working days than any other time of the year, several property owners at Holden Beach are making preparations to construct new homes.

The near completion of the road already in use for its entire distance from Route 17 should speed up things at this beach. Frank Love of Evergreen, Norman eal of Chadbourne and L. S. Holden, one of the beach owners, are preparing to start work on houses right away, as is a party from Florence, S. C., whose name has not been learned.

Several other residential lot owners from out of state, their names likewise not being available at this time, are also said to be preparing to build. John and Kemp Holden, still operating their store at the beach are planning to close up about the last of the month and devote their time entirely to building until late in the spring.

Several of the Holden Beach property owners stated Saturday that they believe heartily that any and all building construction carried on now and through the winter months would lead to a still greater volume of construction in the spring and summer. The new road, too, they think will be a great factor in development from now on.

3-Day Program To Begin With Parade At 1:15

J. Bayard Clark Will Preside And Gubernatorial Nominee Scott Will Deliver Address

F. ERTEL CARLYLE WILL CROWN QUEEN

Yam Ball On Opening Night Will Feature Music Of Larry Clinton's Orchestra

TABOR CITY, Oct. 11—A gaily decorated Tabor City today awaited the opening of the three-day Carolina Yam Festival on Thursday.

Flags, bunting and banners lent a holiday atmosphere to the "sweet potato capital of the world."

The greatest crowd in Tabor City's history is expected for the festival inaugural when Governor-Nominee W. Kerr Scott will deliver an address. The future Governor will be accompanied here by Lieutenant-Governor L. Y. (Stag) Ballentine who is to be the next Commissioner of Agriculture.

Festivities will get underway Thursday at 1:15 p. m. with a parade and the speaking will follow. Congressman J. Bayard Clark will be in charge and will introduce numerous dignitaries, including Nominee Scott.

The afternoon program will include a visit to the exhibit hall in the New Farmers Warehouse where booths have been set up. This is the educational feature which should not be passed up by festival visitors, according to County Agent Charles D. Raper who supervised the arrangements.

The Yam Ball, featuring the music of Larry Clinton and His Orchestra, will be held at Garrett's Warehouse. The Sweet Potato Queen will be selected at 10 p. m. and will receive her crown from House Nominee F. Ertel Carlyle of Lumberton.

Shalotte Boy Attends Races

Halstead Holden Decided Not To Turn Out For Cross Country Team This Season

Returning to the University this fall, Halstead Holden, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Holden of Shallotte and Holden Beach, failed to go out for track team in order to devote more time to his studies. In the University Annual last spring Halstead was one of the four outstanding cross country runners.

Now a Lieutenant, JG, in the N. R. O. T. C. of the University, this young Brunswick county man spent all summer on a cruise on an aircraft carrier. On this cruise his mark was 3.8.

Since his return to the University he has made sub-commander of Company I. The University has 3 companies with about 84 men in each. His record at the University is unusually good. He is a member of the Monogram Club and is on the art staff of the Carolina Quarterly, a new magazine stated this year.

Inside Fishing Holds Sporting Spotlight

Fishermen Who Like To Follow Their Sport In Quiet Waters Of Inlets And Bays Having Fun

From the standpoint of the men and women who like to go out in a small boat and fish the river inlets and waterway the past week has been one of the best in a long time all along the coast of Brunswick county.

From Seaside, Gause Landing, Shallotte Village Point, Holden Beach, Howell's Point, Long Beach and Caswell Beach and Southport come reports of great catches being made. Small fish, especially spots have been taken by the bushels. These fish, not very large nor very good for shipping, are termed the most delicious when cooked fresh. A freshly caught string of spots is not to be sneezed at by anybody.

At Holden Beach Saturday Oscar High, prominent Whiteville merchant, was seen leaving for home with three water buckets full of them.

In addition to spots, the folks fishing along the shore and in the inlets have been making fine catches of flounders, some trout, many bluefish and all sorts of eating fish. Shrimp is the generally preferred bait.

With things edging towards a full moon on October 17 the next several days should see even better sport for the inshore anglers. All sorts of fish usually bite better when a full moon period is approaching.

Magazine Writer Is Invited For Bear Hunt

First Indications On October 31st

Mrs. Joe Young, Jr., secretary to the Brunswick County Selective Service Board, states that the first Brunswick county induction into the service under the present registration will be on October 21st.

For that date six young Brunswick men have been called to report, to be sent to Fort Bragg the same day. Mrs. Young says that up to the present time 1080 young men have registered under the peace-time selective service act. The small number being called is largely due to the fact that the quota from Brunswick county is almost filled by voluntary enlistment in the various branches of the service.

Sailfish Gives Zezefellis Thrill

Mike Zezefellis, a regular Monday customer of Captain Hulan Watts on the Idle On, had his bid thrill this week when he landed a 7-ft., 1 1/2 in. sailfish. This was the first sail caught off Southport during October this year.

In addition to the sailfish, Mike and his party caught 7 amberjack, 2 king mackerel and about 100 lbs. of seabass.

E. O. Ferrabee and party of Salisbury caught 140 blues, 7 amberjack and 2 king mackerel Sunday. On that same day Dr. Rod King and party from Wilmington caught 150 blues while fishing aboard the Bokfy.

Saturday Evening Post Feature Writer Assigned To Do Bear Hunting Story In North Carolina

KEZIAH INVITES HIM TO BRUNSWICK

Green Swamp Area And Experienced Hunters Would Insure Success Of Expedition To County

Harold Martin of the Saturday Evening Post staff has been assigned to do a bear hunting story with the local somewhere in North Carolina.

At the conference of executives of the magazine, at which time the assignment was made, some of the executives suggested that the bear hunting story might turn out to be a meeting of a group of men of distinction, dressed in Abercrombie and Fitch sport clothing and doing nothing but lynching hard-working bears with bazookas at 500 yards.

"Not at all," said writer Martin, who has been on hunting stories in North Carolina before this, "why, sometimes you can't even tell the hunters from the bears."

Following up the above information covering Martin's coming to North Carolina for the bear hunting story for the Post, W. B. Keziah has written Bill Sharpe of the State News Bureau at Raleigh, asking that Martin be sent to Brunswick county.

With the assistance of John Farnside, Homer Phelps and other Brunswick bear hunters and their dogs, Keziah is promising some real bear hunting for Martin if he comes to Brunswick county.

The hunting season opens Friday with bear and deer being among the animals that may be killed that day and thereafter while the season is open. Brunswick county has plenty of both deer and bear, but bears attract fewer hunters.

Bears are the most numerous in the Great Green Swamp and Little Green Swamp areas, but like the deer they can be found all over the county. They are so numerous in the Great Green Swamp that for the past few years the Reigel Paper company has been encouraging bear hunters to come in from Tennessee and Kentucky for annual bear hunts.

Such hunts usually result in around a score of bear hounds being down in the Green Swamp in Waccamaw township at a time. Each year a considerable number of bears are killed by these hunters from other states. The Reigel people encourage these hunters to come in owing to the fact that the raising of cattle is now carried on extensively at Honey Island.

New Hanover Zone Meeting Of Woman's Society Of Christian Service Held At The Trinity Methodist Church

ALL-DAY PROGRAM FOR DELEGATES

Luncheon Served By Ladies Of Church At Noon Hour; Interesting Meeting Reported

Trinity Methodist church in Southport was the scene of the New Hanover Zone meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service yesterday, with about eighty delegates in attendance.

The program began at 10 o'clock with an organ prelude by Mrs. J. W. Ruark, followed by the devotional by Mrs. W. C. Davis. Visitors were extended a welcome by Mrs. E. H. Arrington, president of the Woman's Society of Trinity Methodist church, and response was by Mrs. George Cannon, president of the Woman's Society at Trinity Methodist church, Wilmington.

"The Status of Women" was discussed by Mrs. McLamb, then "Ways of Teaching Parliamentary Laws," by Mrs. A. D. Craig. The principal address of the morning was delivered by Mrs. E. L. Hillman, whose topic was "Advantage of Christ and His Church."

At this point there was a pleasant musical interlude when members of the Southport Woman's Club Chorus sang "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Lunch was served in the church annex by members of the local organization. In the afternoon program "Springboard Ideas In Workshops" were discussed by district officers. Among the departmental secretaries, Mrs. L. D. Hayman of Southport is the head of Missionary Education.

Contract Is Let For Fire Tower

J. D. Peterson Of Bolton Will Erect 120-Foot Steel Tower For State Forest Service

Contract has been let by the State Department of Conservation and Development for the erection of a 120-foot steel tower on the Reigel Association 10 miles Southeast of Bolton.

Joe Herlevich, district forester with headquarters in Whiteville, said the contract was awarded to J. D. Peterson of Bolton.

Construction of the tower is expected to be started within the next few days. Radio communication which cut down on the time required to marshal a fire-fighting force is contemplated and may be installed shortly after the tower is erected.

Little Business For Examiner

State Driving License Examiner Had Practically No Work To Do At Southport Monday

State auto license examiner N. S. Hudson is reported to have had nothing at all to do while filling his appointment here Monday. There just did not seem to be any E. F. G. folks in the county.

But it was the beginning of the month. Later on as he approaches the deadline for people whose names begin with those letters he will be swamped.

The worst for the examiner will come when he gets around to H. There are hundreds of families named Hewett in Brunswick likewise a lot of Holden's. The folks will make things busy for the examiner.

Whiteville To Balboa Heights

"Ham" radio communication between Whiteville and the Canal Zone in Panama was established Saturday when relatives of First Sergeant L. E. Harrelson, now stationed in Panama, talked with him. Sergeant Harrelson communicated with his son, Jeff Harrelson, mother, Mrs. Sallie Harrelson, and sister, Mrs. A. Egan Powell, Jr. The "ham" radio sets of Sellers, Jr. of Whiteville and KZZBT, Balboa Heights, were employed.

Fast To That Which Good" Is Plea Of Candidate For House Of Representatives

ECHOES HIS CRY OF LIBERALISM

Democratic Meeting Indicated Leaders And People Are Behind Entire Democratic Ticket

Nominate W. Kerr Scott and his campaign cry liberalism and Democratic candidates of North Carolina called party members for continued support of the Democratic ticket at a Seventh Party rally here Thursday afternoon.

F. Ertel Carlyle of Lumberton, candidate for the House seat made the voluntary retirement of J. Bayard Clark, soundly keynote when he addressed the people of the Seventh Party and the State as a whole fast to that which is here firmly resolve the splendid structure of Democratic party shall not be destroyed or destroyed by confused but misguided people." Lumberton man declared in support of unity.

He almost stole the show by mentioning of his name drew applause throughout the party nominees for offices and many local leaders in the Seventh District here for the gathering. Chairman Capus Waynes presided.

Nominate J. M. Broughton continued the "hold fast to that which is good" theme when he made numerous references to the Democratic ticket and the welfare of the farmers. "Where would we be if we didn't have a farm program?" he inquired.

How the party had dared to forward with rural election, federal deposit insurance for the aged, lunches for school children and employment security.

Reference was made to Democrats who were obnoxious in the mind of Carlyle for continuance of the splendid structure of the Democratic party. It was made by all speakers that they will be behind President Scott for reelection.

Distinguished Senator Hoye frankly admitted he didn't like everything President had done but that they must look at the record rather than a single act. In favor of everybody vote for him for awhile and then see if he is fit for another term. He said he never scratched a vote in his life except on occasion long ago when I voted for the "itch." he remarked jokingly.

Brief News Flashes

Our ROVING Reporter

W. B. KEZIAH

The hunting season opens Friday of this week and there are a good many people in Brunswick who can help us and themselves. We refer to the folks who own deer and bear hounds and other hunting dogs and who make a practice of taking out hunting parties. If these folks will write us of where they live, how many hunting dogs they have, what kind of hunting they take parties out for and where those parties can get eating and sleeping accommodations the matter they send us will make good publicity for the senders and Brunswick county in general. Write us such information today. Bill Sharpe of the State News Bureau in Raleigh has made a hurried request for all such information. We have supplied a list of all the guides we know and places where parties can get accommodations. There are probably a good many more guides and we want information on them. Good clear hunting and fishing pictures are also wanted with information about them. Smoky or dull finished picture will not make newspaper cuts. A few years ago Mr. and Mrs. Joel Long, an elderly couple, operated a small cafe at Bolivia. Mrs. Long really fed her folks for their money and she had a bunch of regular customers for years. But Mr. Long died and after a couple of years the work grew too hard on Mrs. Long. She sold out and went to live with relatives down in Lockwoods Folly township. We had not seen or heard anything about her in three years and were wondering what had become of her when we met her on the street at Shallotte (Continued On Page Four)
