Farrell Here For Few Days

Southport Booster Of Long Standing Returns For Brief Vacation Trip With His Wife

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farrell of Greensboro are spending some time here at the Camellia Inn. Mr. Farrell underwent a serious operation last year and has not yet completely recovered. Both Mr. and Mrs. Farrell are experienced commercial photo-graphers. Their Art Shop in Greensboro is one of the major businesses of the kind in the state. It is learned that they may lease this business and buy or build a home in or near South-

A number of years ago Mr. Farrell was a frequent visitor to Southport. Intensely interested in the fishing and shrimping industry, he has made hundreds of outstanding photographs, showing fishing, shrimping, way, Orton and other scenes in fourth of an acre in these berries

On two occasions before the war when the officials of the Outdoor Writers Association of America met here, Mr. Farrell came down from Greensboro, stuck with the party and pictured about everything worth while that happened during their stay.
