Eunice Holden, a flight instructor for the government in Washington for several years, is returning the last of this month. With Mrs. Holden he will return to Brunswick county and construct a permanent home at Holden Beach. Mr. Holden is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Holden. His father served for many years as rural mail carrier from the Supply office.

THOUGHT UNUSUAL
The Charlotte Observer carried a story Sunday detailing the unusual in a few camellia bushes blooming there in the open. A few bushes blooming in the open at Charlotte during this season of the year would not be thought remarkable by any one who sees thousands of bushes blooming in Southport and at Orton.

Transaction Completed During Past Week-End Resulted In Transfer Of Attractive Long Beach Residence

T. J. Smith of St. Pauls, owner and operator of a tobacco warehouse at Lumberton, purchased the Felton Garner home at Long Beach this week and is preparing to spend the summer there with his family. The deal was made through Charles Trott, real estate operator at the beach. Mr. Garner plans to begin immediate construction of two new homes on property he owns at the beach, according to information. He has built and sold three nice homes there in the past three years. Owner of the Bolivia Lumber Company at Bolivia and also the Wilmington Pine Company at Navassa, Mr. Garner is said to have found the construction of beach homes a profitable side line. Mr. Smith is a friend of John P. Stedman, president of the Scottish Ban of Lumberton. The Stedman family has owned a nice home at the beach for the past few years. Mr. Thorne, president of the ban of Roanoke Rapids, is another prominent North Carolina banker who owns a summer home at Long Beach.

Have you heard of "Hadaool" lately? Everything that happens at school someone says "Take Hadaool". To top it all off the cheer leaders came up with a new yell called the "Hadaool Yell". It is really cute, so listen for it at the next game.

Friday 13th really seemed to be unlucky for the Pirates. The Leland girls won over Shallotte 33 to 26 while the Leland boys won by a score of 40 to 27.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION
Protestants And Catholics Unite In Prayer
During the week beginning January 18, Protestants and Catholics throughout the world will be praying for Church Unity—"that there may be one flock and one shepherd." And never was there more need for presenting a united front of prayer to Almighty God than right now.

This week of prayer—the Church Unity Octave, as it is called—originated in the Protestant Church about 50 years ago. It started with a group of devout Episcopalians who were saddened at the frightful sight of a Christianity torn to shreds by contradicting beliefs. Looking around, they saw the Catholic Church with its 365 million communicants throughout the world; they saw it as the largest, the most ancient, the most efficiently organized, and the most powerful church claiming to teach God's truth.

Because they remembered the words of Jesus to the Apostle Peter—"And I say also unto thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this rock will build my Church." . . . And I will give unto thee the Keys of the Kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven" (Matt. 16: 18-19)—because they knew that the Holy Father is the only living man who claims to be Peter's successor as the head of Christ's Church, they resolved to pray for guidance during the week included between these dates: January 18, the Feast of St. Peter's Chair at Rome, and January 25, the Feast of St. Paul's Conversion.

Catholics soon took up the practice, together with their Protestant brethren. So that on the morning of the Eighteenth, our Holy Father the Pope will offer his Mass for Church Unity, together with the hundreds of millions of Catholics all over the earth—not only Latin Catholics, but Greek, Syrian, and Armenian Catholics, together with a number of Greek Orthodox, as well.

In 1950, over 1,500 Anglican ministers joined in prayer, and 40 of their religious communities. In Northern Europe—before the war, at least—there was a small but increasing number of Lutheran pastors praying along. The Executive Committee of the World Conference for Faith and Order, meeting at Stockholm, Lausanne, and Geneva, passed a resolution of commendation.

Join your prayers with those of your fellow Christians. Learn to say each night:
Lord, if I am right, Thy grace impart,
Still in the right to stay;
If I am wrong, then guide my heart,
To find a better way.

The Pirate Log

By: The Three Buccaneers
(Kat, Jan and Peg.)

It was with much regret that we learned of the death of one of our faculty members, Mrs. Ruby Johnson of Elkin. Mrs. Johnson was accidentally killed by a car last Friday night in South Carolina. She was a person who was dearly loved by all who knew her.

At last, we can breathe easily. Exams are over! Monday we began taking our exams for the half-year. They lasted until Thursday. Since there was a ball game Tuesday night, some of the teachers gave us a day more to study.

The Myrtle Beach teams were the opponents for the Pirates Tuesday night. At the half of the girls game the score was 16 to 22 in favor of Shallotte, but the score ended with a 41 to 39 lead for Myrtle Beach. The boys score was 42 to 20 in favor of Myrtle Beach.

The Jolly Roger staff received a notice this week to have the annual finished by January 20. All the week they worked like mad on it. Friday evening they received another notice that they had two more weeks grace.

The Block "S" members met Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of last week. They voted in some new members, discussed plans for making money, planned the football banquet, ordered sweaters and pins and of all things, dis-

HAVING POOR LUCK
Several Southport boats operating further north for food fish are said to have been meeting with rather poor luck. Bad weather has been keeping them in. On top of this the catches are small when they do get out.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY
There will be a meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. B. Smith. All members are urged to attend.

obtained a file. With this they fashioned a couple of crude keys that unlocked a door to a store room in the jail. In this room they obtained a crowbar and other implements and proceeded to dig a hole through the brick walls underneath a widow. All four crawled out through this opening and were gone when Deputy Sheriff G. D. Robinson carried breakfast to the jail Monday morning.

All other officers had to attend court at Southport Monday morning, so Deputy Bland went on a still hunt for Bozeman at his home near Shallotte. He spotted Bozeman near the house and ran him down at the end of a touch race. Bozeman was still carrying 3 quarts of whiskey that he had taken from the store-room in jail when he was recaptured.

Turning Bozeman over to the sheriff, who brought him back to jail, Bland launched out in a hunt for the others. He struck the trail of Long and aided by dogs that he had obtained from the State Prison camp at Shallotte, ran him until 2 o'clock. Some ten miles were covered by the officer and fleeing man in this chase and the dogs finally lost the trail.

Joined late in the afternoon by State Highway Patrolman J. C. Pierce and Deputy C. O. Blanton, Bland again picked up the trail of the negro and the three officers finally caught him at a point between Supply and Bolivia. This second capture was made at 5:30 o'clock.

When the three officers returned the second man to jail, Deputy Bland was barefooted. The reason was readily apparent. He had blistered both heels during his prolonged and vigorous efforts to capture the two men.

Jordan was recaptured at his home in Conway, S. C., and returned her to jail Tuesday.

farmer his fair share of the available market and to stimulate shifts in production which keep supplies in line with consumer needs.

The combined programs of conservation and price supports, to assure abundant, balanced production, also help to stabilize consumer prices. "Certainly this balanced abundance results in a more favorable price level to consumers," says the chairman, "than when there is far too much of one product and too little of another. If farmers were forced to resort to scarcity programs to maintain price levels it would mean that there would be too little to go around. The farm program is in fact a farmer-consumer program to assure continued, abundant, balanced production."
