

The B-Hive

By: Lee and Mandy
Well, folks here we are to tell you what has been happening around old Bolivia high during the last few weeks.

The basketball teams are still running to the office every few minutes to see if the trophies are still there. (They are!) The girls' team is awaiting the arrival of their Championship Trophy, of which they are very proud. The boys are still getting admiring glances and handshakes from their fellow students for winning the sportsmanship trophy. We are also very proud of Sylvia Leonard for coming up with the gold cup which she won in the free throw contest.

Although the basketball season has come to an end in Brunswick county for this year, our teams are looking forward to success in the Star News Tourney in Wilmington. Teams, we wish you

ATTENTION! Brunswick County Voters

As a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff, I am inviting the men and women voters of Brunswick to investigate my record as a law enforcement officer. I have served as an officer for a total of eighteen years. All of this time has been served in Brunswick county expect 2 years as Deputy Sheriff in New Hanover county under the late Sheriff David Jones.

I refer the voters to the books in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court at Southport. I think that an investigation of those books will show that I have served more warrants against law violators during that time than any other Brunswick County officer.

If you are looking for a candidate for Sheriff who has both experience and actual performance of duty, I am sure that an investigation of my record will show you that I am deserving of your vote.

I am not affiliated with any of the different factions, am strictly on my own in efforts for law enforcement. Wish to say if I have the honor of being elected by the voters of Brunswick County it will be my greatest desire to continue to give the people the best and fairest law enforcement possible. I humbly ask for your vote in the May primary election.

Well, news seems to be a bit scarce, so we'll run along. Until next week, then, 'Bye.

Herlevich Cites Danger Of Fire

District Forester Requests Motorists, Farmers, Hunters And Woods Workers To Be Careful

District Forester Joe Herlevich of the N. C. Dept. of Conservation and Development, Whiteville, issued a warning today to all farmers, woods workers, hunters and motorists that the forests of this area are tinder dry. Herlevich says that because of the recent dry windy weather, the underbrush and grass has become explosive, and a spark might set off a serious forest fire.

Herlevich asks everyone to cooperate with the County Forest Warden by practicing the following rules: Crush your cigarettes before discarding it, and break your match before throwing it away. Motorists, please use your ash tray and do not throw lighted cigarettes out of your car windows. Burn brush carefully and do not fail to get your brush burning permit required by law. Hunters, make sure your campfires are dead out before leaving them.

"Every spring we have several bad forest fires," said the district forester, "all caused by carelessness on somebody's part. This spring the danger is greater than it has been for several years because of the unseasonable winter. Remember, any forest fire is your fire, your trees, and your loss."

Series Strawberry Circulars Printed

A series of seven new circulars on strawberry production was published this week by the State College Extension Service. The publications are intended primarily for commercial growers of strawberries, but anyone interested may obtain single copies or copies of all seven free of charge.

The bulletins are issued under the general designation of Extension Circular No. 336. The sub-numbers and titles are: 336 (A), "Strawberry Varieties for North Carolina"; 336 (B), "Cultural and Training Systems for Strawberries"; 336 (C), "The Strawberry Weevil"; 336 (D), "The Strawberry Spider Mite"; 336 (E), "The Strawberry Rootworm"; 336 (F), "Land Preparation and Fertilization for Strawberries"; 336 (G), "Scorch and Leaf Spot of Strawberries."

Full-color photographs are used on the cover of each bulletin to facilitate identification of insects and diseases. Concise treatment of the subject matter makes the bulletin ideal for reference use.

Persons desiring copies should see their local county agent or write the Agricultural Editor, State College Station, Raleigh, specifying the number and title of each circular desired.

Willis Smith Comes Out Against Graham

Former Speaker Of House Of Representatives And Former American Bar Association Files For U. S. Senator; Robert R. Reynolds Is Third Candidate In Field

RALEIGH—A three-way race for the U. S. Senate became a certainty Friday when Willis Smith of Raleigh announced he would seek the seat now held by Senator Frank P. Graham.

Smith, a prominent lawyer and former speaker of the State House of Representatives, ended several days of intense speculation over his intentions by appearing at the state board of elections to pay a filing fee of $125 as a candidate for the Democratic Senatorial nomination in the primary of May 27.

Graham, who was appointed to the Senate by Governor Scott and who has the governor's blessing, already is actively campaigning for the unexpired term of the late Senator J. Melville Broughton. He has opened campaign headquarters here, and former Superior Court Judge Jeff Johnson, who managed Broughton's successful campaign in 1948, is Graham's campaign manager.

A third leading contender for the Democratic nomination is former Senator Robert Rice Reynolds of Asheville, who stepped down from the Senate in 1944.

Other candidates are Manley Dunaway of Charlotte and Olla Ray Body of Pinetown.

Graham, former President of the University of North Carolina, long has been considered as a leading southern liberal. Smith and Reynolds are regarded as much more conservative in their leanings.

Smith, who heads one of Raleigh's leading law firms, is a former president of the American Bar Association and is chairman of the board of trustees of Duke university. He served as an observer at the Nuremberg trial of war criminals in 1946 and was on the president's amnesty board of 1947.

He represented Wake county in the State House of Representatives in 1927, '29 and '31. He was elected speaker in 1931 and presided over the House through the longest session in the history of the state legislature.

At 62 years old, he is tall and vigorous—he is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs about 190 pounds.

Stone-Like Spud Located In Seed

"I don't think it will grow" was the comment of W. B.

Ward of Nakina when he found a quarter-pound stone in a bag of seed potatoes he purchased last week. What made the discovery interesting was the remarkable similarity between the stone and an actual Irish spud. It had the eyes and other characteristics of a potato.
