

Attend Funeral Of Capt. Jones

Mrs. Grace Ford and Mrs. Marcellas Cox attended the funeral services of Captain Lester Jones, an outstanding member of the State Highway Patrol, in Greenville Monday. They were accompanied by the Rev. H. M. Baker, pastor of Southport Baptist church.

Captain Jones was one of the original members of the highway patrol and was a group commander. His funeral was attended by a large delegation from the organization. Captain Jones was married to the former Sadie Piver of Southport. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. A. Neilson.

Photographers In Town On Visit

Charlotte Photographic Society Had Several Members In Southport For Week-End Excursion To Points Of Interest

Seven members of the Charlotte Photographic Society spent Saturday and Sunday here, and despite rather cloudy weather one day and cold the next they were very much pleased and declared their intention of returning in the summer.

The society has 52 members. The organization owns its own laboratory and most of the men are skilled in developing in addition to photography. All members are professional men of some sort and have photography as their hobby. As a result they probably give more care to their hobby than the average professional cameraman does.

None of the society's members making the trip here were kids. Serious minded when at their work of making pictures, they still had a great deal of fun out of their trip and declared they were returning in the summer. Their trip will probably result in the whole membership of the society coming down here some time.

Louis Waller, who in everyday life is head of Associated Transport, Inc., in Charlotte, said: "From Norfolk, Va., to Savannah, Ga., Southport and Brunswick county offer more photogenic possibilities than are to be found anywhere else along the coast."

Joe Rhyne, part of the top brass for the Standard Oil Company for North and South Carolina with headquarters at Charlotte, was very much pleased. He said he wanted to bring his family to Brunswick this summer and see what he could do with his hobby while they were vacationing.

Johnny Pierce of the Akers Motor Lines, Inc.; Reid Waltz, Royal Typewriter Company; Louis Hover, Pittsburg Plate Glass Company; Walter R. Dixon, Jr., J. D. Miston, Inc.; and Hoyt Roush of Hoyt Roush Accountants, Inc., composed the balance of the party. All were genuinely pleased at what they knew they got in the way of pictures. As a matter of fact, they found subjects for their cameras so abundant that they did not get into half of the program that had been tentatively arranged for them by W. B. Keziah.

Saturday morning was devoted to scenes in Southport while waiting lunch. The afternoon saw them bound up the River Road to Orton and other points for flower pictures in colors and other scenes. The plans for Sunday were to shoot everything interesting from Fort Caswell down the Brunswick county beach line. The weather sort of interfered. The fellows were up and had breakfast at six o'clock. The weather at that time convinced them that beach pictures were out of order. So they hired a boat and went to Bald Head island, where the weather was reported to be sub-tropical.

They will be here again for those beaches, sometime when it will be warm enough for pretty girls in bathing suits to pose as models. They did not even get to Fort Caswell this time.

Thank You for closing the jaws of the bad dog that was supposed to bite but let me pass. Lord bless all those poor souls who had so many symptoms and restore them to health. Help me to rightly divide the truth when the old man and the old lady can't agree on how many hogs he sold and what he got for them. I thank Thee I didn't break my legs or catch my death of cold when I climbed over the mud banks in front of the houses where the road is graded. I thank Thee, Lord, for blessing the people with so many eggs and chickens but please, Lord, help them to remember how many they sold last year. Thank Thee for every leader to overlook it if we're cranky. Lord, I thank Thee for all those good people who hurried to open their doors that I might be sheltered from the cold wind. Last but not least, I thank Thee that the census is only once in 10 years and, Lord, if you'll help me, I promise I'll never do it again.—Mrs. E. V. Fites in Raleigh News and Observer.
