

"Senator Graham Is Already There"

This interesting arrangement of senatorial campaign banners intrigued Young Democrats at their recent regional rally in Asheville. First, supporters of Willis Smith put up their sign. Soon, adherents of Bob Reynolds spread their banner above Smith's sign. A little later Senator Frank Graham's supporters topped them all with their slogan: "Frank Graham is Already There." Smith is the only one of the three who is not a native of North Carolina. Smith was born in Norfolk, Virginia.—(Photo courtesy of the Asheville Citizen-Times.)

Youth Association, will preside at this special meeting. One feature of the program will be a demonstration of the use of the motion picture for inspiration in the work of the church. The film selected for showing at that time is the life story of Dr. George W. Truett, the mountain boy from North Carolina whose influence girdled the globe.

A period of discussion will begin the program that night and a period of refreshment will bring the proceedings to an end. It is hoped that every church will be represented at this meeting. The time of the meeting is 7 o'clock.

Southport has played only one game thus far and lost to Shallotte by a score of 10 to 5. Coach Sanders has been hard at work with his squad since that encounter and believes that his boys are ready to give a good account of themselves Friday.

Gene Russ is expected to start on the mound, with Tommy Bowdell behind the bat. Billy McDowell will start at first, Elliott Hickman at second, Doug Watts at short and G. W. Fisher at third. The outfield will show Bobby Spencer, Gene Fulwood and Roger Ward.

The Pirate Log

By: The Three Buccaneers
(Kat, Jan and Peg.)

This has been quite a week, especially for the juniors. Every spare minute has been spent in making preparations for the banquet. But first let us tell you the news from the beginning.

Tuesday the Shallotte Pirates took over Southport by a score of 10 to 5. The game scheduled for Friday with the Wilmington Junior Varsity was postponed because of the banquet.

Several of the grammar grades had picnics this week.

Friday chapel was conducted by the sophomore girls. Rev. James Carroll, a Methodist minister, made a very enjoyable talk. From Monday until Friday evening the juniors spent their spare time getting moss, pine trees, palmetto trees, hanging streamers, making place cards, memory books and menus, getting straw and grass and making palmetto trees. Some of the palmetto trees were made and some were real.

Friday night was the big night. When the guests arrived they were surprised to see that the gymnasium had been made into a beautiful Hawaiian island. Yellow, blue, and orange streamers hung over the entrance with a background of moss. In the main part of the gym, streamers from all the sides met in the center. There was a white bulb, under which hung streamers, that hung where the paper met and reflected light on the multicolor of streamers. Along each side stood palm trees. Around them was moss, ivy, and fern. Dim lights cast shadows through them. At the end opposite the door was a hand painted underwater scene, which was painted by Miss Butler, a grammar grade teacher. Among the sea animals were fish, octopus, a treasure chest, and the most lovely of all, a mermaid. Around the painting were palm trees, grass and fern. Music was furnished by a juke box, which stood in one corner. The waitresses were dressed appropriately in grass skirts. The menu consisted of fruit juice, baked ham, pineapple, green beans, sweet potato, lettuce and tomato salad, hot rolls, butter, ambrosia, ice tea and lemon. On the program was toastmaster, Harold Gore; toast to seniors, Janis LeHue; toast to juniors, James Robbins; toast to school, Selene Register; toast to faculty, Billie Kate Leonard; address, H. C. Stone; poem, Rosalie Clemmons; prophecy, Audrey Milligan; class will, Geraldine Cox; and the dance.

Speaking in behalf of the junior class, we would like to thank Mr. Reese and Mrs. McKeithan and everyone who helped make this banquet possible. Also we would like to show our appreciation to Miss Butler and the other teachers who helped the juniors decorate.

Seen Around: Mark Gray back at school again. Jack Robinson, Jamie Hewett, Billie Gray, Albert Parker, Clarence Gray, Harold Gore, Eltheridge Stanley, and Homer Anderson going after trees for the banquet.

Mr. Reese Betty Grissett, Amelia Kirby, Hannah Tripp, James Herbert Robinson, Edna Mintz, and Kat Clemmons looking for moss. James Hubert Robinson working on the lights for the banquet. Betty Ruth Grissett, Edna Mintz, Carol Simmons, Marie Fulford, Jeanette Grissett, Mary Emma Mintz and Joan Fulford jitters about the banquet.

Teachers Attend Asheville Meet

Mrs. A. M. McFarland, Miss Mary Lillian Watts and Miss Noima Oliver represented Brunswick county teachers at the Association for Childhood Education International's Study Conference held in Asheville during the week of April 9-14.

The conference theme was "Using What We Know For Children in the School, the Home, the Community."

The background lectures were: "Child Growth and Development" by L. Thomas Hopkins, Teachers College, Columbia University and Willard C. Olson, University of Michigan; "School and Its Relation to Home and Family Life" by Wenifred E. Bain, Wheelock

College; "Organization of Time and Program" by Laura Zirbes, Ohio State University; "Social Living at School" by William H. Kilpatrick, Professor Emeritus of Education, Columbia University.

These lectures gave the background for thirty-one workshop classes which were held.

Outstanding trends were presented in lectures by Dr. E. T. McSwain in "The Child and His Future"; Dr. Ethel Alpenfels in "Needs of Children and the Social Emacts"; Dr. Leona Baumgartner in "A Good Life for Children"; and by Dr. Paul Smith in "International Understanding Begins with Children".

Delegates from twenty counties not counting the United States were represented at the Conference.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and at the time of the death of our beloved husband and father, George Verton Smith.

Candidate For Sheriff

Friends, the way I feel about it is this: As much as I would like to be Sheriff of Brunswick county I do not want the job bad enough to make promises and commitments that would make it impossible for me to do my duty after I am elected. The only promise I have made is the one I repeat now to all good citizens: If nominated and elected I will do everything in my power to give this county clean, impartial law enforcement.

Ed V. Leonard
