Visiting X-Ray Units

SURVEY

Beginning on Tuesday of next week five mobile units will make regular scheduled stops about the county in connection with the Mass X-Ray Survey for Brunswick. All citizens are urged to get their free chest X-ray as early as possible, then get out and help to round up the stragglers.

Hayman Named Chairman Red Cross Chapter

Pastor Of Trinity Methodist Church Will Undertake Reorganization Of Brun- swick County Unit

Rev. L. D. Hayman, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, has been named chairman of the Brunswick County Chapter, American Red Cross, according to Mrs. Marion Everett, general field representative, American National Red Cross.

The Rev. Mr. Hayman will organize the county-wide chapter on a district organization plan, with key workers at Bolivia, Winnabow, Leland, Shallotte, Southport and Lonwood.

"Because of the Rev. Mr. Hayman's wide experience in Red Cross work during the last war we are so glad to have his valuable services at this time," said Mrs. Everett.

Sports Fishing Is Victim Of Storm

While No Force Of Tropical Hurricane Was Felt In Southport The Aftermath Was Bad For Fishing

SWELLS AND ROUGH WEATHER PREVAILED

Worst Result Was Stirred Up Water, Resulting In Bad Fishing Conditions; Prospects Better For This Week

News of sport fishing at Southport during the past week is conspicuous by its absence, as local boatmen and their parties felt victim of the by-products of a tropical hurricane which didn't blow hard enough along this section of the coast to ruffle a feather.

These troubles came principally from swells, rough seas and water churned up from the disturbance. And all of these things conspired to make for poor fishing, or for no fishing at all.

Captain Victor Lance reported a nice catch last Thursday for a Myrtle Beach and Columbia, S. C., party. They had 15 mackerel, 1 king mackerel, 3 albacore, 3 baracuda and 2 amberjack. In this group were Dr. and Mrs. G. P. Joseph, William Atkinson, Charlie Joseph and F. A. Genova.

Parties going out Monday encountered unfavorable conditions and came in without fishing. On Tuesday only the Botly stayed out, and it was back shortly after noon with only one baracuda to report.

All boatmen say that conditions are right now for some of the best fishing of the season, just as soon as the water calms down so as to permit operations.

Brunswick Basin Tempting Target

Plans Being Made To Dis- perse Some Of Ships Now In Mothball Fleet In This County

Governor Kerr Scott indicated in Washington last week that a surplus Navy floating dry-dock would be brought to Wilmington soon by the State Ports Authority and leased to a private company for ship maintenance work.

Scott quoted Federal Maritime Board officials as stating that many of the approximately 400 World War II cargo ships now in the Reserve Fleet at Wilmington would be towed to other localities "for security reasons."

Vice-Admiral E. L. Cochrane, chairman of the board, and other officials at the conference Scott attended evidently feel that such a concentration of reserve ships makes too attractive a bombing target for a potential enemy.

The board already has ordered has ordered 14 of the ships at Wilmington "demothballed" or made ready for use.

Present plans call for the dry-docking part of the demothballing to be done at Charleston or

Tobacco Market Still Sells Leaf At $55 Average

Neilson Reminds Growers Local Market Is Issuing Only Official Figures On Dollars And Pounds

WAREHOUSES ARE FILLED EACH DAY

Second Million Pound Day Of Season Chalked Up For Market On Last Friday

The Whiteville tobacco market averaged $55.13 per hundred pounds during the 14 operating days of the first three weeks of the 1950 season, it was shown today when official figures were released.

Up to Friday night, 9,886,264 pounds had been sold for $544,646.64.

The closing day of the third week was the second million-pound day of the season and was one of the better price-average days. A total of 1,059,336 pounds was marketed for $594,618.90—an average of $56.18.

Close to a million pounds—985,688 pounds—was sold Thursday. The day's offerings brought a total of $543,781.87 for an average of $55.16.

Sales Supervisor Dave S. Neilson reminded that the market was reporting official figures in compliance with the recommendation of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association. He said that no estimates, guesses or "padding" reports were being issued, and he requested that growers take this information into consideration when comparing the local average with other markets which might not be following this policy.

Road Projects Being Advertised

Paving Of Road From Old Dock Through Freeland And From Supply To Var- num Town Will Require 17.91 Miles Of Paving

Two new road projects will get under way shortly in Brunswick county, the State Highway Commission announced today. The projects will be let to contract on August 29 and 31.

One project, a combined one with Columbus county, calls for the grading and paving on 8.41 miles from a point on NC 130 at Old Dock east and southeast crossing Juniper Creek at the Brunswick county line beginning of pavement.

The second, part of the $200,000,000 secondary road program, involves the hard-surfacing of 9.5 miles from Supply at old post office to Holden Beach Road and from Hinson's Store to Varnum Point.

Specifications have also been advertised on 53 other road jobs throughout the state, some on the secondary road system.

More road projects are under construction at the present time than at any similar time in the Highway Commission's history, according to Highway Chairman Henry W. Jordan. "If weather conditions continue to be good, 1950 will be North Carolina's greatest year of roadbuilding," Dr. Jordan said.

About 20 per cent of the $200,000,000 secondary road program

Robert Ruark Is Visiting Southport

Robert Ruark, Wilmington native who spent much of his boyhood in Southport, has been spending the past few days here at his home which he purchased several months ago and upon which he since has made extensive repairs.

Now rated one of the Nation's top-flight newspaper columnists, Ruark did an appealing piece about his purchase of his grandfather's old place, and this wound up in Reader's Digest.

Ruark has a free rein and travels wherever he chooses, both in the United States and abroad. A naval lieutenant during World War II, he declared last week that thus far he has developed no yen to become a war correspondent.

Fishing Flashes

BLUEGILL
Lepomis macrochirus

Among anglers who pursue the sport of panfishing, the unanimous choice, for both scrap and downright good eating, is the bluegill. Just as the largemouth black bass is appropriately called the king of American gamefishes, the bluegill certainly rates as the prince of panfishes.

Nearly every angler fondly recalls barefoot boyhood days when a joint to the "ol' fishing hole" seldom failed to produce a dandy string of bluegills. Co-operation seems to be the characteristic of this piscatorial bantamweight.

Be it a bent pin with a piece of sandwich meat, dangling from

Wilmington Man Is Honored By Service

Lt. Comdr. Louis A. Hanson Becomes Only Coast Guard Reserve Officer In History To Retire

(By Robert G. Miller)
WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 19.—Lt. Comdr. Louis A. Hanson, brother of E. J. Hanson, retired Southport lawyer, has become the only Coast Guard Reserve officer in the United States to retire.

Comdr. Hanson, former director of the Sixth Coast Guard Reserve district, recently culminated a 25-year Reserve career when he received his retirement papers from the Norfolk headquarters.

It was under Comdr. Hanson's direction that the auxiliary in this district grew to be a worthy organization that the regular Coast Guard could depend on in its versatile duties during National emergencies.

Military service for the 60-year-old native Wilmington began in May of 1917 when he joined the North Carolina National Guard as a private. Almost immediately he entered the Army and shortly afterwards went to officer's training school where he received his commission in October, 1918.

Soon the war ended, and to the disappointment of Lt. Hanson he did not engage in actual battle. In January of 1919 he was discharged and joined the Army Reserves with a first Lieutenant's rating. In 1937 he received his discharge with the rank of captain.

During the time that he was affiliated with the Reserves he operated his private business and remained active in civic and

Compromise Indicated In School Dispute

Hearing Before Judge Claw- son Williams In Wilming- ton Yesterday Reveals His Interest In Compromise

ONE MORE WEEK TO SETTLE ROW

Indications Point To Willing- ness Of Contesting Fac- tions To Reach Agree- ment On New Build- ing Site

A second hearing before Judge Clawson Williams in Wilmington yesterday on the dispute over the Union Colored School site in the Shallotte area resulted in the belief that a compromise agreement will be worked out within the week.

Another hearing has been set for next Wednesday afternoon before Judge Williams in Whiteville, and in anticipation that all difficulties will have been ironed out before that time, the Brunswick county board of education is holding a special meeting that evening. This is being done in order that the board may complete the necessary business of starting the contracting firm of Rogers and Devaughn to work on construction of the 12-room building.

Recorder Holds Routine Session

Usual Variety Of Cases Dis- posed Of Here Monday Before Judge W. J. Mc- Lamb In County Court

Willie Keith was fined $10.00 and costs for public drunkenness. Harry Lee Patrick was given 30 days for assault, judgment being suspended upon payment of costs and 2 years good behavior.

T. M. Ludlum asked for jury trial on charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

J. P. Grant was fined $10.00

Brunswick County Health Department In Cooperation With State Board Of Health Making Free X- Ray Possible

ALL PERSONS OVER 15 TO BE X-RAYED

Five Mobile Units Will Cov- er Territory During 10- Day Period With Stops Scheduled Over County

The most dramatic battle ever fought with tuberculosis in Brunswick county will begin tomorrow.

From Aug. 29 through Sept. 9, five mobile units from the State Board of Health will be situated at strategic centers in the county to give the free two-minute chest X-ray service which is the key to the mass survey.

The importance of full participation in the mass chest X-ray survey was stressed today by Dr. Floyd Johnson, health officer for the county, who reiterated four points previously emphasized:

1. That the chest X-ray is entirely free.
2. That it is unnecessary to undress for the X-ray.
3. That the X-ray actually takes no more than two minutes from door to door.
4. That each person with indication of a positive case will be given a confidential report.

The veteran health officer continued:

"We wish to discover all cases of tuberculosis existing in Brunswick county, but this will be possible only if every person eligible for the X-ray takes advantage of this opportunity to find out easily and at no cost about the condition of his chest. We do not know how much tuberculosis there is here, but in other counties the mass surveys have shown that about one person per thousand had an active case of tuberculosis and needed sanatorium treatment.

"In our county, there are approximately 13,500 persons who are 15 years of age or over. We may, therefore, expect to find in the neighborhood of 13 persons with active disease. Of these, many will be in the early stage. When tuberculosis is readily curable, and in a comparatively short time. Obviously, we will not find these cases unless people come in for the X-ray service."

With reference to early discovery, Dr. Johnson added:

"I should like to stress the importance of finding a case early before there are any symptoms of the disease, and before the person feels sick. At the early stage, tuberculosis is curable in 90 percent of the cases. It takes about 8-10 months to be cured. When the disease goes undetected until it is moderately advanced, chance of cure is only about 50 percent and the time moves up to from 10 to 15 months. If the disease is not found until it is far advanced, the chance of recovery falls to 25 percent and the length of time extends to from 15 months to four years.

"From these figures, it is apparent that tuberculosis needs to be found early, and there is no
