

W.S.C.S. Group Holds Meeting

Mrs. W. E. Swain and Mrs. R. D. White, Jr., were Co-Hostesses At November Meeting Of Organization

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Camp Methodist Church, Shallotte, met in the home of Mrs. W. E. Swain Tuesday evening. Mrs. Swain and Mrs. R. D. White, Jr., were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Henry Stone, president, announced the topic for the evening, "Health in the Rural Community". Miss Corinne Greene led the devotional which consisted of a hymn, scripture reading and prayer.

Mrs. Talmadge Sellers was program leader and she began the program by giving a talk which pictured the ideal rural home today with all the modern equipment.

Mrs. David Carmichael in taking the part of the rural worker told of some of the problems a person in the position meets.

Mrs. Guy McKeithan led an interesting discussion on the needs of the rural health program. Members of the society asked her questions and she, in taking the part of a health officer, answered them.

Mrs. Boyd Robinson, county nurse, was asked to be present and make a talk. She was unable to attend, but sent in suggestions of the foremost needs of the community and county.

During the business session plans were discussed for organizing a circle within the society. A meeting at the church this week was scheduled for the purpose of organizing this circle.

Reports were made by the chairman of the various committees.

After the meeting was adjourned the members enjoyed a delightful social hour, at which time the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

The members present were: Mrs. Henry Stone, Mrs. Fred Mintz, Mrs. Charlie Arnold, Mrs. H. F. Kiser, Mrs. R. S. White, Mrs. Charles Russ, Mrs. Talmadge Sellers, Mrs. S. T. Russ, Mrs. Bemon Sellers, Mrs. M. H. Rourke, Mrs. R. D. White, Sr., Mrs. J. H. Canady, Mrs. Guy McKeithan, Mrs. David Carmichael, Mrs. J. E. Cooke, Miss Corinne Greene, Miss McLaurin, Mrs. Bailey Russ, Mrs. R. D. White, Jr., and Mrs. W. E. Swain.

Nurse Tells How Hadacol Was So Helpful To Her

Supplied Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin Which Her System Lacked

Mrs. Jennie Lee Adele, 412 N. 27 St., East St. Louis, Ill., a nurse, says she wishes she had found out about HADACOL sooner because since taking HADACOL she feels so good. Mrs. Adele was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Adele's own statement: "I have been a nurse for over 14 years. My food never seemed to agree with me. I heard one day how so many folks were being helped because of HADACOL. I tried it and after 3 bottles I could tell a big improvement. Now I eat anything I want—sleep well and I am full of energy."

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of aches and pains in the shoulders, legs and arms, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down weakened condition due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus

Sight-Seeing

GUIDE—Mayor H. A. Livingston took great pleasure in showing Mrs. Mae Bamer, visiting council woman from Southport, England, some of the more interesting sights about Southport during her visit here last week. Above he is explaining the legend of the Indian Trail Tree.—(Wilmington News Cut.)

Mrs. Reid Hostess To Winnabow Club

The Winnabow Home Demonstration Club met last week with Mrs. Gilbert Reid. The president, Mrs. Ruth Kye, called the meeting to order. The roll call and minutes were read by Miss Josie Reid. Only five members were present.

Members, missed having the home agent with them for this meeting. The garden leader gave the demonstration on "Character, How It Grows".

Plans were discussed for the Christmas party next month.

The hostess and her daughters, Betty and Jean Reid, served delicious refreshments during the social hour. The club adjourned until next month.

The October meeting was at the home of Mrs. Inez Clarke and eight members were present.

ter her arrival here was told by Mr. Daniels. He said that during the terrible blitz on London, when bombs rained down hour after hour and day after day, Mrs. Bamber left her comparatively safe Southport and went to London to assist in evacuating women and children.

After the blitz was over and American forces began swarming in, Mrs. Bamber put on 1200 shows for the entertainment of the American forces. It is not unlikely that a many Brunswick men, and thousands of other North Carolinians attended the shows she put on for the American forces in Britain.

Arriving at the Virginia-Carolina line on Route 86, Tuesday of last week, she was met by Highway Patrolmen Lieut. Lewis, commander of the Fayetteville District, and Sgt. Clark of the Wilmington district. These two officers escorted her to Duke University, where she made a brief visit. Afterward they continued the escort until she arrived at her hotel in Raleigh.

Wednesday morning, with Carl Goerch and other prominent capitol folks looking after the arrangements, the visitors were received by Governor Scott. Afterwards she spoke over Radio Station WPTF by invitation of Graham Poyer and over Radio Station WRAL through the invitation of Fred Fletcher.

Leaving Raleigh Wednesday afternoon, the two patrol officers again swung out in front as an official escort to Fort Bragg and then on to Southport. Near Southport, Patrolman J. C. Taylor was advised just when the party would arrive here. He advised the reception committee of the time and then his car and another patrol car added themselves to the escort that came down from Raleigh.

Shortly after the arrival of the visitors they were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Burdette, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lewis of Caswell also being guests.

Thursday morning Mayor Livingston and the City Aldermen received the visitors and Mrs. Bamber presented the greetings and invitations from Southport, England. Photographers Hugh Morton of Wilmington and Art Newton of Southport covered these proceedings. In addition to these pictures being circulated extensively among North Carolina and other newspapers, Mrs. Bamber will get some of them to take home to, the English newspapers.

At one o'clock Thursday the visitors were guests of the Southport Lions Club at dinner. Phil Wright and his staff photographer from the Wilmington News, covered this meeting.

At four o'clock Mrs. Bamber was back at the community building as a guest of the Southport Woman's Club at an informal tea and was greeted by Mrs. H. T. St. George, the vice-president. Following this tea she went to Shallotte as a guest of the Shallotte Lions Club. After speaking briefly there she was rushed back to Southport where she and a number of others were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Arrington at 8:30.

Friday morning the visitor from Southport, England, pleased the students of the Southport high school with one of her witty and engaging talks. Leaving the school with Mayor Livingston and W. B. Keziah as an escort, the three visitors were taken to St. Phillips church at Orton. There Keziah pointed out the spot where: "We licked the British," many years ago. His sarcasm was received with smiles.

Continuing on to Orton they visited the beautiful garden and grounds. Incidentally, Southport, England, is known as the Garden City of Britain. One of the hobbies of the visiting councilwoman is flowers and flowers shows in her beautiful city.

Going from Orton to Wilmington at the invitation of Mayor Royce McClelland and Hugh Morton, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, the party visited the office of the Star-News and were shown over the various departments by Manager Rye Page and most of the editorial and news staff. Afterwards, in company with Phil Wright, State News Editor of the News, they visited several places in Wilmington, including the Wilmington post office, and there met Post Master Wilbur Doshier, who is a native of this city.

Then John Farrell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, took over. Mrs. Bamber, Mrs. Daniels and Keziah were given a complete automobile tour of Wilmington, while Mayor Livingston and Mr. Daniels returned to Southport to get something in the way of overcoats for the night and the football game.

At seven o'clock Mayor and Mrs. McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morton and John Fox, president of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, were hosts to Mrs. Bamber at the Cape Fear Club. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, Mayor and Mrs. Livingston, W. B. Keziah and Mrs. Susan Jones, society editor of the Star.

Following the dinner, with a motorcycle police escort to the Legion Stadium, they were guests at the football game and had the pleasure of seeing the boys of neighboring city give Raleigh a rather good drubbing. During this game Mrs. Bamber's presence was announced over the loud speaker. She was also interviewed by Foster Edwards over the radio during half-time ceremonies.

Saturday morning, accompanied by Rev. H. M. Baker and Mayor Livingston, the visitors went to Durham. From there they had a State Highway Patrol escort to Wake Forest where Mrs. Bamber and her companions were guests of Dr. Harold Tribble, president of Wake Forest College, in his box at the Wake Forest-State College football game. Mrs. Bamber was introduced over the loud speaker at the half and also spoke over the radio.

After visiting Caswell Branch Assembly and the beach at Brunswick county Sunday morning and in the early afternoon the party was entertained at late lunch at Mack's Cafe, courtesy of the owner, before their departure.

Poultry Hints For November

County Agent A. S. Knowles Gives Timely Advice As To Proper Care Of Poultry Flocks At This Season

County Agent A. S. Knowles offers eleven reminders to poultry producers for November.

1. Check the pullets for good body weight.
2. Cull the old hens as they go out of production.
3. Control lice and mites. Don't let them rob you of a profit.
4. Check the ventilation in the laying house and be sure to avoid drafts. All windows should be closed in cold weather except those on the south or southern exposure.
5. Prevent cannibalism by allowing adequate floor space for each layer. Use tar or an antipick salve at the first sign of pecking.
6. Be sure to sow a grazing crop for next year.
7. Make sure there is plenty of clean litter in the nests.
8. Late hatched pullets and the slower maturing ones left on range should be housed this month.
9. Provide plenty of fresh clean water for your layers.
10. Collect eggs 3 to 6 times each day. Hold in a cool, moist place and market once a week.
11. Plan to start two or more broods of chicks for layers in 1951. Markets want eggs twelve months in the year. Usually egg prices are highest from June 1st to December 31, so plan to have one group of pullets laying during this period.

A WANT-AD Did it!

Everything TO THE FARM

Everything FROM THE FARM BY TRUCK

Today your fruits, vegetables, and dairy products bring a "premium price" because trucks deliver them overnight, country fresh, to big city markets.

Many North Carolina communities are growing entirely new crops because of the modern, field-to-city transportation. Our huge strawberry and peach crops are a direct result of truck service.

Trucks not only speed your crops to market. They deliver what you need, where and when you need it. Trucks deliver to your door almost anything that is made or grown anywhere in the world—so economically that one-time luxuries have become today's necessities.

North Carolina farmers are strong for the motor carrier. They know it has brought them extra conveniences, larger incomes, and better living.

Without it, more than 1,800 North Carolina communities would be without any kind of commercial transportation.

With it, every Tar Heel farm is on the Main Line!
