Making Plans For Band Work During Summer

Director W. W. Jacobus Is Planning To Continue Instruction During Vacation Period In Order To Be In Good Shape Next Fall

OUTSIDE STUDENTS URGED TO ENROLL

Director Jacobus Will Be Glad To Have Students From Other Hi Schools Enroll For Summer Training

The Shallotte Summer School for band members and other students desiring to have band training will open on June 3, the day before the scheduled marathon boat races from Southport to Myrtle Beach. Director W. W. Jacobus states that the appearance at Southport and other appearances during the summer will be part of the regular instruction work.

While the summer school is primarily for the students of Shallotte school who will form the regular organization at the opening of school next fall, Mr. Jacobus plans to extend all possible help to music teachers and students in other schools in Brunswick. It is understood that students of other schools with interest and musical qualifications for becoming members of a band may attend the summer school.

In a letter mailed to patrons of the Shallotte school this week Mr. Jacobus has the following to say with regard to the Summer Band School. It should interest students in other schools:

"Your son or daughter has indicated that he or she would like to participate in the Shallotte Summer School Band. This work is being carried on through the summer to give the students a year-round education in music. The work will also allow new students to join the group and get a start in music. Practice is the only answer to music and a summer school band provides the necessary activity to keep the student playing and learning new music.

"The school will be open to all students from next year's fourth grade through the High School, including the Seniors of this year. Classes will be held from 7:00 - 9:00 p. m., five nights a week, Monday through Friday. The registration fee, $5, is the only charge for band during the entire summer and includes all class lessons and all band trips. The band will be divided into two groups, "A" and "B". The "A" group will consist of advanced players, while the "B" group will have all beginners and students not quite up to the advanced members. The band director will place your son or daughter in the group for which he feels they are better qualified. They can advance themselves during the summer months.

"The schedule planned will give your child three nights of band each week, as follows:

Monday, 7:00 p. m. - "B" Trumpets and Clarinets and Saxophones. 8:00 p. m. - "A" Trumpets (Continued on Page Two)

Board Candidates Not On Ballots

County Attorney S. B. Frink Rules That No Vacancy Exists For Board Of Education In Three Districts In Brunswick

WACCAMAW MEN WILL MAKE RACE

Three Members Of Present Board Still Have Three Years, According To County Attorney

County Attorney S. B. Frink has ruled that no vacancy exists for the Board of Education in the three school districts whose members received a 4-year appointment at the last session of the North Carolina General Assembly.

As a result, members of the Brunswick County Board of Elections have ordered the county ballots printed with only the name of contestants for this office from the Waccamaw school district included. There has been one change in this district, with H. E. Gore having withdrawn as a candidate. This leaves Nelson Bennett, Corbett Coleman and Sinclair Gore as the three names on the ticket.

Since Herbert Long was unopposed for the Democratic nomination from Northwest Township, there is no contest there.

The three men who still have three years to serve as board members are Thomas St. George, Southport; Dr. M. H. Rourk, Shallotte, and G. K. Lewis, Bolivia.

Home Service Available To Service Men

County-Wide Organization Set Up With Object Of Being Able To Render Best Possible Assistance Through Red Cross

CONTACTS MAY BE MADE EVERYWHERE

Red Cross Chapter Without Funds For Other Than Routine Services, But Will Help With Those

The Red Cross Home Service Committee for the county has been announced by Mrs. Susan King, home service chairman, and is as follows:

Shalotte-Ash area, Robert H. Sellers, Shalotte.

Winnabow-Bolivia area, Mrs. Gilbert H. Reid, Winnabow.

Leland area, William C. Smith, Rt. 1, Box 55, Leland.

Orton-River Road area, Mrs. J. T. Ramseur, Winnabow.

Southport area, Mrs. Philip King, Long Beach.

The families of servicemen and servicewomen who are in need of Red Cross services should contact the Home Service Committee member nearest their place of residence. It is essential that they provide the committee member with the full military identification of the service person concerned, including name, rank, serial number, organization, post and mailing address. The return address on letters received from the serviceman or woman usually gives all the information. If there are forms to be filled out or instructions to follow, they also should be brought to the Red Cross worker at the same time of the initial visit.

Through the Red Cross Home Service Committee here it is possible to obtain the following:

A. S. Knowles, chairman of the fund drive, urges anyone who has unreported funds in his possession to turn them right away, either to him or to Miss McCracken.

More Money For Red Cross Fund

The total Red Cross funds for Brunswick county now stands at $1,189.76, according to Miss Ann McCracken, treasurer of the organization.

The increase includes $208.35 raised among the colored schools of Brunswick county and a check for $25 from the Royster Fertilizer Co. This latter donation raises the Leland total to $178.75.

A. S. Knowles, chairman of the fund drive, urges anyone who has unreported funds in his possession to turn them right away, either to him or to Miss McCracken.

Boat Races To Be Held June 4-10

Mid-Week Date Discovered To Suit Prospective Contestants Better Than The Week-End Schedule

The sounding out of prospective boat racers in the Southport to Myrtle Beach marathon that was set for May 10 has revealed that a large number prefer a midweek date, instead of on Saturday. Most of the entrants are young men who have to work on Saturday. Accordingly, the preliminary plans of President Stanley Edgeworth of the Myrtle Beach Club is to hold the event on Wednesday 4th event all right.

Director W. W. Jacobus of the Shallotte High School band, which is to be here for the starting ceremonies, states that he and his band will be back from their trip to New York on the 2nd of June and will get here for the 4th event all right.

The arrangements of the moment are for the fast little boats to be here by 10 a. m. June 4. They will stage a warming up shows and impromptu races on the harbor until the starting time for the light powered classes. The outlook is for more than a hundred boats to make the race this year. Previous races have held the number down to half a hundred each time. Many boat operators not being so enthusiastic about the early March event that sent them out in very cold weather.

Bolivia Betas Will Give Play

Members Of Honor Organization Will Present "Which Shall He Marry" On Friday Night, May 2

The Beta Club of Bolivia high school will present a play on Friday night, May 2, that promises to be well worth seeing. "Which Shall He Marry?" is the confusing experience of J. W. Wacott, who is trying to decide which girl his grandfather liked best, so that he can marry her and inherit $2,000.00.

To choose from he has Sylvia Leonard, the beauty of the family, Patsy Robinson, the athlete; Betty Johnson, who is too good to be true; and Doris Anderson, who has all the brains. The climax is surprising, to say the least.

Certain time is 8 o'clock. Also included in the cast is Ethel Purvis, Guy Willetts, Mary Jo Swain, and Rillie Jane Caison. Everybody is invited to come and enjoy an evening of good entertainment.

Congressman F. Ertel Carlisle, been assigned to Shallotte and will make his home there. The other night he came down 130 from Wilmington and stopped to ask us directions. We were waiting for some Standard Oil folks to show up to take us to the same place. Never liking to wait on anybody, we got aboard with Sgt. Deaton and set out for the neighboring town. During that trip it developed that the new-to-be resident of Shallotte knew Captain Ruffin Redwine of Shallotte quite well during World War II days. In fact, Sgt. Deaton was with Captain Redwine when Redwine was captured in Italy. Tax Collector Edward Redwine was in the same outfit but escaped from the trap.

Spawning Area On Waccamaw River

The established area for spawning fish in the Waccamaw river from the New Britain Bridge on Route 130 up stream to Inman's Landing will be closed according to custom to fishing on May 1 The down stream area from Gore's Lake to Reaves Ferry will be closed at the same time.

Game Protector Pawnes Formy Duval has announced that in accordance with previously arranged plans of the Wild Life Resources Commission 8,000 blue gills, averaging between one and two inches in length have been stocked in Town Creek.

These young fish are produced at the State Hatchery in Fayetteville. For their planting Game Protector Formy Duval solicited and obtained the assistance of local wildlife clubs and other interested sportsmen. Also participating in this stocking were Mrs. Muriel Evans, teacher, and the 5th grade students of the Waccamaw school.

Convention Of Postmasters Is Held Thursday

Movie Star Here For Short Visit

Actress Jennifer Jones Was Guest For Four Days Last Week At Camellia Inn In Southport

Mrs. David O. Selznick, left Jennifer Jones of the movies, left Southport Monday morning for Bluehall Airport in Wilmington, to fly to New York, where her husband, the famous producer is ill in a hospital.

Mrs. Selznick, Phyllis Isley before her marriage, flew to Wilmington last Thursday. She hired a car there and drove to Southport where she engaged rooms with Mrs. Ed Mallison of the Camellia Inn.

Her husband is ill in a New York hospital. Mrs. Selznick telephoned him twice daily during her four day stay here. Snatches of the conversation that were accidentally overheard by Mrs. Mallison led her to think that Jennifer Jones was in search of local color for a play, as frequent mention was made of play people and location.

Apparently not more than 32 years old and very beautiful, Jennifer Jones has two sons, David 12 and Michael 13 who are in school. She was thoroughly captivated by little Martha Mallison, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mallison and on one occasion she gave Martha a bubble bath.

So far as is known only two Southport people recognized Mrs. Selznick. Mrs. Ormond Leggett and Pat Arrington both tagged her, recognizing her from pictures she has appeared in.

Mrs. Selznick was riding in an ordinary car, which she had hired at the Wilmington airport on reaching there Thursday. The (Continued on page 4)

Southport Team Ties With Shallotte

Southport and Shallotte will meet tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at Bolivia to play off their tie for the baseball championship of Brunswick County, following a 7 to 7 tie yesterday at Shallotte. The teams have identical records of 5 and 2 in first round play for the Class A championship.

Yesterday Southport was off to a flying start and piled up a 7-run lead in the first two innings. Shallotte went to work in their half of the second and whittled away at the Southport score until the teams were tied at the end of the fifth inning. At this point rain interrupted, and the play-off contest was set for tomorrow on a neutral diamond.

Southport Glee Club In Program

Varied Program Presented Friday Evening By Members Of 52-Voice Group Under Direction Of Paul Pittinger

Members of the Southport high school glee club presented an enjoyable program here Friday evening under the direction of Paul Pittinger, music director for the high school.

The program included a song written by a Southport woman, Mrs. Bessie Cullis. Her song was "In A Sleepy Little Southern Town," and at its conclusion she was asked to take a bow. She received a good hand from the audience.

The numbers were well chosen, and showed the results of long, hard work. The complete program was as follows:

"Carolina In the Morning," Donald-Maclean; "Look for the Silver Lining," Kern; "Why Do I Love You," Kern; "Tell Me Why," Anonymous; Girls Glee Club.

"I Got Plenty o'Nuttin," Ira and George Gershwin; "In a Sleepy Little Southern Town," Cullis-Stoddard; solo, William Robbins; Quartet selections, Doug Watts, Roger Ward, Agnew Fulcher, Frankie Cox; "Till We Meet Again," Egan-Whiting, Duett, Trudy McNeil, William Robbins.

Teachers Hear Editor Outline School Program

Dr. W. Amos Abrams, Associate Editor Of North Carolina Education Magazine, Speaker At Annual Banquet

MRS. DENNING IS NEW PRESIDENT

Meeting Held In Lions Club Building At Leland And Featured Music By Leland High School Glee Club

Dr. W. Amos Abrams, associate editor of North Carolina Education, addressed Brunswick County teachers and their guests at their annual banquet last night at the Lions Club building in Leland and pointed out the importance of teachers knowing how to discuss intelligently the principal points included in the program of United Forces For Education.

In discussing the 5-point program, Dr. Abrams laid particular stress upon the importance of reducing the teacher load from the present minimum of 32 to 30 pupils. "I am not so much concerned with what this will do for the teacher as I am with what it will do for the child," he declared. He listed this as the most important sign objective of the program.

The speaker traced the educational situation as it exists in North Carolina, and showed how the proposals being sponsored by United Forces will tend to move this state up the education ladder.

Dr. Abrams concluded his address by reading his lead editorial from the forth coming edition of North Carolina Education, in which he urges the forces of education to get behind the candidates who promise to be leaders in improving the relative position of North Carolina in this field.

The speaker was introduced by J. T. Denning, superintendent of schools. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. H. C. Stone, president of the Brunswick county Unit of NCEA. An enjoyable feature of the opening program was a series of musical numbers by the Leland high school glee club.

At the conclusion of the program new officers of the organization were installed by Mrs. Stone. The incoming president is Mrs. J. T. Denning; vice president, Mrs. Phil Dodson; secretary, Mrs. Ann McCracken.

The organization heard former State President Thomas Banks speak on the program of United Forces for Education.

Those attending from this county include: Mrs. W. A. Kopp, Thomas St. George, Holland Manning, Dr. R. H. Holden and J. T. Denning.

County Farmers Welcome Rains

General Relief Felt From Mild Drought During The Week - End Throughout Most Of Farming Section

Good rains throughout the farming area of Brunswick Saturday were most beneficial in every way, as tobacco that had been set out in the fields and other growing crops were beginning to need the moisture badly.

With the rain came relief from forest fires for at least a short time. Several rather bad fires occurred in woodlands in various parts of the county during the several days preceding the rain.

By Monday of this week an almost magical change had taken place in the appearance of field crops and pastures. Everything had taken on new life. Many farmers could be seen cultivating corn and various other early crops and practically all tobacco growers who had not already finished transplanting were busy at the task. Provided there is not too much more rain, the end of this week will see all of (Continued on page 4)
