Dredging Will Be First Work At Sunny Point

Government Expected To Use Own Dredges On The First Phase Of Project If Private Bids Run Too High

DELAY OCCURS IN COMPLETING PLANS

Care With Which Each Detail Is Considered May Delay Major Construction Work Until Fall

By W. B. KEZIAH

Unless plans are materially changed the first actual construction work relative to Sunny Point will come in the shape of dredging the river. This first dredging will clean out the entire river from the present channel to the line that the three huge docks will make. Dredging will be to a depth of 32 feet, same depth as the channel now is. It will cover a huge area in itself, but it is said that this work is not to be confused with all of the dredging that will ultimately figure in the construction of Sunny Point.

No definite date has been set for the start of this dredging work, but it is said to be near. The engineers are said to be ready or about ready to call for bids. If the bids from private interests do not come within the estimates of cost made by the engineers the work will be done by government dredges.

In a recent interview Colonel Roland C. Brown of the Corps of Engineers stated that the plans for the railroad will be completed in the near future. For the river piers and trestles, there has been a delay and plans should be ready in August. Plans for utilities and buildings are also behind schedule owing to necessity to wait on reviews from other and higher offices.

September should see great activity on several phases of construction work. Necessary for the bringing in of steel and other material, the railroad building will be rushed as soon as all plans can be completed. The railroad will skirt the southwestern area of the reservation and will turn down towards the river from a point near Bethel Baptist Church. The administration building will be located near this turn of the railroad towards the river.

Brief News Flashes

RECEIVING TREATMENT

WCUN GRADUATE

Miss Mary Lou Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hanson of Southport, graduated last week from Woman's College, University of North Carolina, in Greensboro. She received a B. S. degree in Secretarial Administration.

AT LOUISBURG

Miss Carolyn Smith of Hickman's Crossroads and Miss Joan Bennett of Southport are spending this week at Louisburg College, which they plan to enter for the fall session. Both are graduates of Shallotte high school this spring. Miss Bennett plans to study for missionary work.

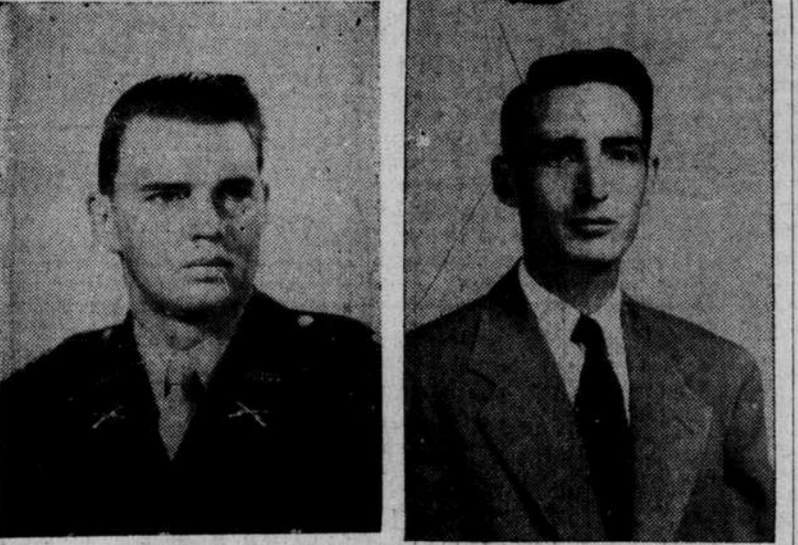

CANCER FILM

A film showing steps in the early detection of cancer will be shown in the auditorium of the Southport high school at 4:00 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. The program is being jointly sponsored by the Southport Home Demonstration Club and the Cape Fear Home Demonstration Club. The film will be shown by Hugh Cherry as a public service feature from the Brunswick Rural Electric Membership Corporation.

GRAIN DRYING

Grain growers who are planning to store grain in bulk, whether in metal bins, wooden structure, or otherwise, ought to see to it that 12.5% moisture or less is obtained for safe storage according to County Agent A. S. Knowles. Several farmers have arranged to erect bulk storage for this year's crop, but as yet have not arranged for adequate drying facilities to go along with the bulk storage facilities. Bulk storage is dangerous without drying facilities to prevent losses due to high moisture.

State College Graduates

FINISH—Francis Herbert Swain, Jr., left, received his B.S. degree last week from N. C. State College and on the same day was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserve. He specialized in Dairy Management. On the right is James Desmond Simmons, who received a degree in Civil Engineering. He has a job in Water Control Problems with T.V.A.

PROCEEDS GO TO FIRE TRUCK FUND

Live Oak Festival Will Have All Trimmings Of Old-Fashioned Fourth Of July Celebration

Plans are shaping up well for Live Oak Festival, the annual 4th of July event for Southport that is sponsored by the Home Demonstration Club.

The features of the event will be the parade at 10 o'clock, followed by an address by Congressman F. Eitel Carlyle and possibly by Col. R. C. Brown of the Corps of Army Engineers, who is expected to say a few words on Sunny Point.

The speaking will be followed by serving of dinner, all proceeds to go to the Volunteer Fire Department's Fire Truck Fund.

In the afternoon there will be various athletic events, a parade by bands and display of equipment, Battery A, 725, AAA AW Battalion.

Boat races, fire works and a dance at night, preceded by the crowning of a queen, will round up the day's events.

Redwine Heads Carlyle Group

Edward H. Redwine, Brunswick County tax collector, has been named chairman of the Brunswick County Committee for Carlyle, and with the aid of an enthusiastic band of supporters from every section of the county, has launched a vigorous campaign to assure a strong vote for the incumbent Congressman in the second primary election on June 28.

Brunswick County Tax Collector Will Serve As County Manager In Effort To Promote Political Fortunes Of Carlyle

This appears to be the big political news of the week, with most of the arrangements for this new movement for Congressman Carlyle being completed on Monday. Chairman Redwine agreed to head this movement when it was made clear that it is a county-wide effort on the part of the friends of the present Congressman.

"I have had messages from folks in every precinct, who say they are ready to get out and fight for Carlyle in the second primary," said Redwine this morning. "Some of them are former Tally supporters who believe that the man lost his golden opportunity when he ran second to Congressman Carlyle in the first primary."

"We welcome their support, and we want to go all out to show Congressman Carlyle that we appreciate his efforts in getting favorable consideration of a huge government project in Brunswick County."

10-20 Per Cent In Leaf Quotas Appears Likely

Tobacco Men Of Five States In Flue-Cured Area Indicate Preference For Sizeable Reduction In 1953

ANNOUNCEMENT MAY BE MADE JULY 1ST

Probable Date Of Referendum On Continuance Of Quotas For Three Years Is July 19th

A reduction of from 10 to 20 per cent in next year's flue-cured tobacco quotas became likely on Thursday after a full-scale discussion of the situation at a meeting in Raleigh.

Tobacco men from the five states growing flue-cured leaf favored such a reduction as they met with officials of the U. S. Production and Marketing Administration to give their views on the size of the 1953 crop.

A reduction in the '53 crop seems to be indicated. Director James E. Thigpen of the FMA's tobacco branch told the group of 75 persons. He said that flue-cured stocks, which were abnormally low, had been built up last year and will be increased further this year.

Thigpen said he expects domestic consumption to continue upward, with exports dropping somewhat. Thus, he said, a reduction of the '53 crop in line with the new demands seems to be indicated.

A majority of the group seemed to favor a drop of from 10 to 20 per cent, depending on how much tobacco is harvested this year, leaf officials said.

Meanwhile, the board of directors of the North Carolina Farm Bureau went on record for a reduction of not more than 15 per cent. The Bright Belt Warehouse Association had called for a 20 per cent cut, and the South Carolina Association had asked for no more than a 10 per cent drop, if a reduction must be made.

Fred S. Royster of Henderson, president of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association, said the majority sentiment at the meeting seemed to favor a slash of about 15 per cent by Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan.

Brannan probably will announce the '53 acreage quotas around July 1, Thigpen said. After the quota is proclaimed, but not reduced.

Wildlife Group Releases Game-Hunting Dates

Hunting Laws Governing All Types Of Game Set By Wildlife Resources Commission Last Week

A recent announcement by the N. C. State Wildlife Resources Commission was released, which gave uniform hunting seasons for wild turkey, quail, rabbit and squirrel.

The commission also set other hunting dates and adopted a budget.

For turkey, quail and rabbit, the season will open as usual on Thanksgiving Day, this year Nov. 27, and continue through Jan. 31. The rabbit bag limit was fixed at five a day, 10 in possession, 100 per season. Turkey (gobblers) only — one day, two in possession, and three a season.

The squirrel season will open in 45 Eastern counties Oct. 15 and continue through Jan. 15, in 25 Piedmont counties from Nov. 27 to Jan. 15, and in 30 mountain counties Oct. 1 to Jan. 1. With minor local exceptions, the big limit was set at eight squirrels per day, 16 in possession, 100 a season.

For deer, the season in 30 Eastern counties will be Oct. 15 through Jan. 1. For most of the rest of the State the season will open Nov. 17 with split seasons. The limit was fixed at one deer a day and two a season.

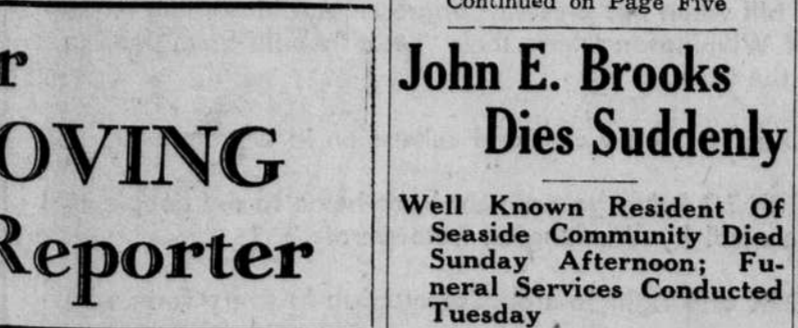

The raccoon and possum season opens Oct. 15 and ends Feb. 14, Continued on Page Five

Everything Set For Conference Series At Fort

Baptist Assembly Due For Big Season With First Conference Slated For Monday

PROGRAM CONTINUES THROUGH AUGUST 24

Facilities Greatly Enlarged Since Last Year And Larger Crowds Can Be Accommodated Each Week

Dr. Richard K. Redwine, director of the Caswell Baptist Assembly, is now engaged in final operations of getting the buildings and grounds in readiness for the opening of the summer season Monday, June 23.

Last year Caswell accommodated 1,100 people for its weekly sessions. For this year the facilities have been enlarged. In addition to the regular delegates and conference attendees the hotel and big cafeteria will cater to the regular run of summer visitors. There is but one restriction on the public: The religious atmosphere of the place is expected to be observed and intoxicants are not to be brought on the grounds, or unseemly behavior indulged in.

Next weeks conferences will be that of the Baptist Training union which drew one of the biggest crowds in 1951 and is expected to do so again this year. Conferences will be held daily from the 23rd through the 29th, and on that date the young folks will move out to make room for the delegates to another week of activities.

The second week will run from June 30 through July 6. During this week four different groups will have daily conferences at separate times or places. Family Week, Deacons' Conference, Brotherhood Meetings and Junior State R.A. Camp are all to be in session during this week. The Family Week is rated by Dr. Redwine as one of the more important gatherings of the year. It is intended for whole families and its plans are for all ages.

The summer session extends from June 23 through August 24. Reservations for the various weeks are already flooding the office. Many persons with religious inclinations are also seeking vacation accommodations. It should be noted that the gates to Caswell close at 11 a. m. and do not reopen until 8 a. m.

ATU Officers In Brunswick Raid

One Of Biggest Hauls In Recent Years Made Last Week At Calabash By Federal Agents

ATU officers made what is said to have been the biggest local still, liquor and men seizures on record last week. The outfit was composed of four 500-gallon stills, 157 gallons of liquor, 2000 pounds of mash, a truck and three men.

Captured with the outfit was Murry Bowman Brown, said to have been the owner of the outfit. The outfit was located at Calabash and Hollis Adrian Gause, Shallotte Negro, and Ben Frank Kendrick of Greensboro were captured along with Brown.

All three of the men were carrying

Supply Citizen Killed By Tree

Grover T. Holden Killed Monday Afternoon When Struck By Falling Tree During Lumbering Operation

Grover T. Holden, prominent Supply resident, was killed Monday afternoon when hit by a tree during a lumbering operation near his home. The men who saw the tree did not see the victim, nor did they know the tree had struck and killed him until the body was discovered at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning following an all-night search.

According to Coroner John G. Caison, who investigated the accident, Mr. Holden apparently had gone into the woods to visit the lumbering operations, and two men using a power saw, cut a tree just as he came up to where they were cutting. The two men were Winston Hewett and Leon Hewett, and both were unaware of the accident in which they had figured until more than 12 hours later.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Minnie C. Holden; two daughters, Mrs. Rotha Cheers, Shallotte, and Mrs. M. E. Smith, Wilmington; V. J. Holden and Grover H. Holden, both of Supply; one sister, Mrs. Irota McMillan, Parkton; three brothers, Dr. R. H. Holden of Shallotte, Luther Holden, Bolivia, and Edgar Holden, Wilmington; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted from the graveside in Chapel Hill Cemetery, near Shallotte, Wednesday at 3 o'clock, with Rev. B. Bennett officiating.
