

Fuel Facilities Seen As Great Need For Port

Expected That Use Of Sunny Point Will Create Need For Large Fuel Storage Tanks And Docks For Servicing Ships

MAY BE LOCATED SOUTH OF AREA

It Appears Likely That These Services Will Be Needed By Ships Who Go Only As Far As Sunny Point

By W. B. KEZIAH

Not a task for the government, but still one of the most essential factors in the Sunny Point installation when it is completed will be oil storage and serving facilities. It appears logical that these facilities will be built south of the installation in the area to be opened by a 37-foot basin and channel to the sea.

This will not be a government installation. The government buys its fuel and other supplies through contracts with the lowest bidders. So far as is known, bids for fueling at Sunny Point have not yet been invited. For this reason it is impossible to say at this time which of the major oil companies may get the contract.

It appears likely that the contract will be for a long period. For one thing, the successful bidder will have to build a costly dock and huge store facilities. It is said that the big cargo vessels that will use Sunny Point will require approximately two hundred thousand gallons of fuel each loading. Sanitary boats, fire boats, tugs and countless other vessels must be supplied with fuel in addition to the big tankers that bring in the fuel and put it in the storage facilities which will have to have docking space continuously available.

Merchant ships not in the service of the government may also use the fuel service facilities. The fueling angle and that of providing water at the same time will be a tremendous item, according to one very reliable source.

Recently a railroad official advised the writer that he understood one of the major oil companies already has an option on land for the fueling installation. This option was bought without any definite assurance that the company in question will get the fueling contract. The company, however, is said to feel more than protected. If some other company outbids them for the fueling they should be able to sell their site option at a handsome profit.

The cost of reloading fuel on barges that would bring the fuel down from Wilmington to a waiting ship would be prohibitive expense. In addition, the ships that will have to be served here will have to have docks, apart from the three Sunny Point docks, where they can be moored for the taking on of their loads of fuel.

Toler Engages In Biblical Research

Pastor of Southport Baptist Church Finds Evidence To Substantiate Rovin' Reporter's Claim To A Name

By THOMAS D. TOLER, Jr.

Since the book of Job is one of my favorites, I had some time ago noted that the State Port Pilot's Roving Reporter had the same name as Job's second daughter, but I put it down as an entirely coincidence since the Scriptures describe Job's daughters as the fairest in the land. Job had seven sons who were not named. The name of one other daughter, Jemima, would be familiar to us from the pancake mix if we have never known anyone by that name, but you never hear Kerenhappuch's name given to anyone.

Now the Roving Reporter tells us that away back in 1062 an English gentleman was looking through the Holy Bible for a name for his family and when he got to the book of Job he adopted the name of one of Job's daughters. This writer thought it would be worth looking up, so he got out his concordance, his Hebrew Old Testament, a Bible dictionary, and both Hebrew and English dictionaries. Now we can take a look at the name Keziah. This is being done while the Roving Reporter is roving the sheets of Doshier Memorial Hospital.

Looking up the meaning of Keziah in Alexander Harkavy's Hebrew dictionary with black covers we find that it is cassia, an aromatic bark. (That's the bark of a tree, not of a dog.) Looking up Cassia in Webster we find that it is an inferior kind of cinnamon produced by trees of the genus Cinnamomum.

Spelling is a problem. Bill runs into Kissiahs, Kizziahs, and no telling what other variations. (This writer can sympathize because there are Tolars, Tollers, Towlers, and perhaps a few others, but he has all but given up hope of seeing his name spelled Toler in the State Port Pilot.) The King James version spells Job's daughter's name Kezia. The revised standard, over which there has been so much controversy, spells it Keziah, the

Third Sailfish Of Season Here

Bruce Stone Of Lumberton Fishing Aboard The Lady Lou With Captain Leo Dowling Sunday Brought In This Prize

BOATS HAVE GOOD RESULTS TUESDAY

Varied Catches Reported By Off-Shore Parties With Spanish Mackerel And Blues Plentiful On Shoals

The spotlight of sport fishing hit the Lady Lou Sunday when a party out with Capt. Leo Dowling aboard this craft brought in a beautiful sailfish which was 6 1/2 feet in length. Bruce Stone of Lumberton was the lucky fisherman, and he and other members of the party also had 347 other fish, mostly sea bass, with a few Spanish mackerel and red snappers in the lot. Otherwise the result of Sunday trips fell into 2 classifications. For the boats that went off shore, there were plenty of amberjack, but little else. These big fellows were never more plentiful, and several of them weighed 40 or more pounds.

The Monday trip for the Cadet of Captain Howard Victor was one of the best of the week. A party including Jim Gill and Dean Cromwell of Chapel Hill and Mr. Hooker and Mr. Shuler of Rich Square caught 155 bluefish and mackerel, 15 amberjack and 1 barracuda. Capt. Hulan Watts was off shore with the Idle-On III, and brought in 13 amberjack, 1 barracuda, 1 bonito, 4 king mackerel, 25 Spanish mackerel and 16 bluefish. The party included Dr. and Mrs. Rutham, Salisbury; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gallant of Charlotte. Their biggest thrill came not from the fish they caught but

Memorial Vase Donated Church

Large Brass Container For Flower Arrangements Given In Memory Of Late Dr. Roy C. Daniel

A brass vase bearing the inscription "In Loving Memory of Dr. Roy C. Daniel" has been given to the Southport Baptist Church by friends of the late dentist. Dr. Daniel had been a life-long member of the church and at the time of his death was a deacon.

The vase is about 10 inches in diameter, nine inches deep and stands on four feet in the form of lion's paws. Flowers molded in bas-relief are around the bottom, with four leaves at intervals on the sides. There is an aluminum insert to hold the flowers and the water.

In acknowledging the gift of the vase, the pastor called attention to Dr. Daniel's love of flowers and pointed out that Jesus called attention to flowers in teaching his disciples to have faith.

Progress Made In Planning To Celebrate 4th

Fireworks Display Expected To Be Attraction Again This Year For Celebration Being Planned By Club Women

PLANS FOR PARADE DEVELOPING NICELY

Preparations Being Made To Feed Large Crowd Of People At Lunch To Be Served By Southport Club Women

Plans for a gala celebration in Southport on the Fourth of July continue and it now appears certain that the day's festivities will be climaxed once more with a brilliant display of fireworks.

This plan was followed for the first time last year, but many of the hundreds of visitors had gone home without knowing about this attraction. For those who did remain the fireworks set off during the early evening was one of the most memorable features of the day's events.

Congressman F. Ertel Carlyle already has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker at a patriotic rally during the morning. This is expected to follow the parade, which will feature the Air Force Band from Pope Field.

Mrs. Ormond Leggett, who is in charge of the parade, reported this week that she believes that the parade this year should be even better than the one of last year. The floats are shaping up nicely.

The afternoon period will be devoted to games, contests, a band concert and water sports. A contest to crown the queen for the day's festivities began on Monday, with Mrs. Robert Thompson in charge. This is one of the most interesting events leading up to the celebration each year.

Extensive preparations are also being made to serve lunch to several hundred persons that day, and it is from this source that funds are expected to be realized to defray expenses of other parts of the program.

Bolivia Pastor Resigns Post

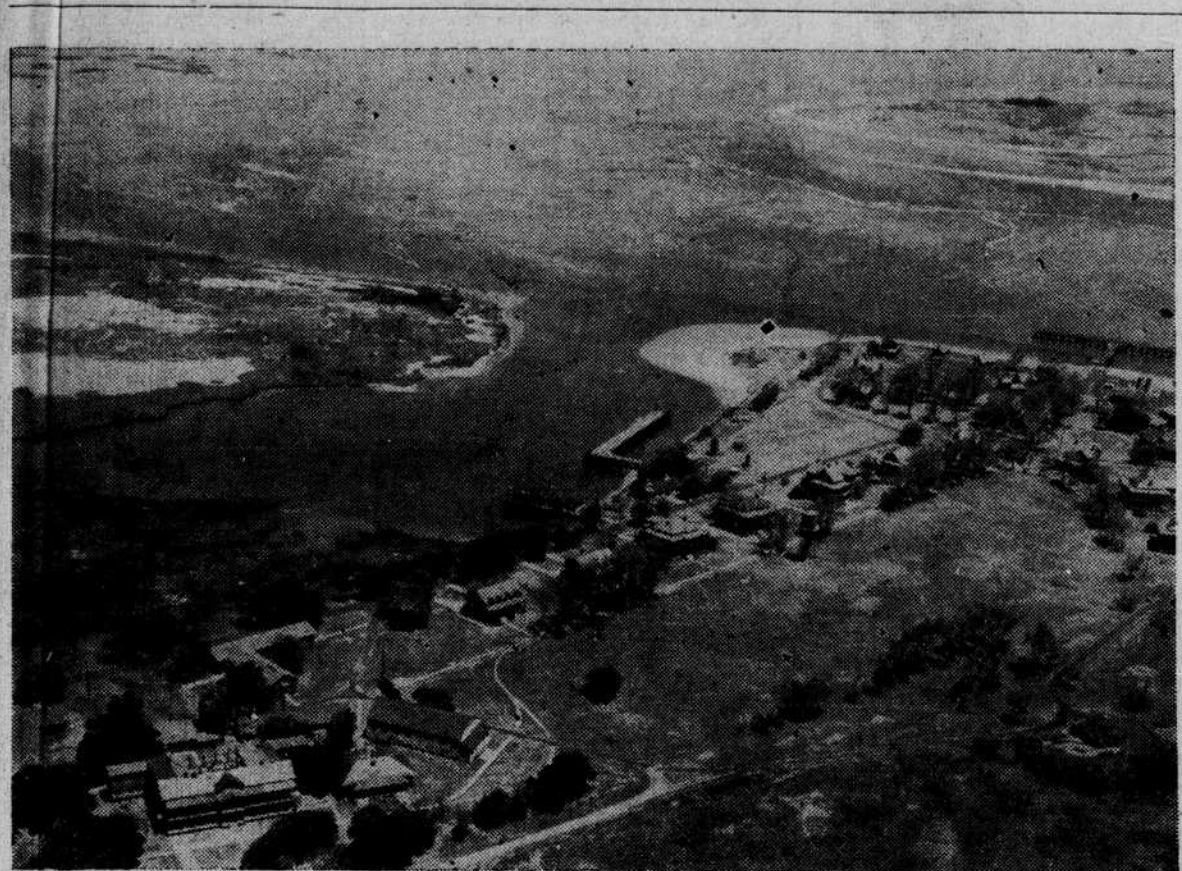

The Rev. W. R. Moorehead Has Been Serving As Part Time Pastor Of Church In That Community; Continues Church Interest

Rev. W. R. Moorehead, pastor of the Bolivia Baptist Church, has tendered his resignation effective the fourth Sunday in August.

The Rev. Mr. Moorehead, before taking this pastoral work, was the former field worker for the Brunswick Baptist Association of the county. He came to Brunswick over five years ago from Wingate Junior College upon graduation.

The Rev. Mr. Moorehead is on half-time basis with the Bolivia church, and since he has taken up work with a local concern in Wilmington, he says that he feels that it is best to allow the church to secure a pastor who can render the service the church requires. The Rev. Mr. Moorehead (Continued On Page Four)

Baptist Assembly Opens Monday

READY—Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Baptist Seaside Assembly at Ft. Caswell for the summer season. Already more than 1,100 reservations have been received, and this insures the largest crowd who ever has attended one of these sessions since the summer assembly has been located at Caswell.

Denning Resigns As Superintendent

General Bennett Guest Minister

Sunday, July 5, should attract the largest delegation of Brunswick County visitors of the year to the Baptist Seaside Assembly at Fort Caswell. On this occasion, the Chaplain, (Maj. Gen.) Ivan L. Bennett of the U. S. Army will preach. Chaplain Bennett is a native of North Carolina and of Brunswick County, as well as a graduate from Wake Forest College. His coming to Caswell Assembly to preach will be in a sense a homecoming for him. The director of the assembly, the Rev. Richard K. Redwine, extends a cordial invitation to the people of Brunswick County to come to the Assembly on July 5 to welcome back an honored son of Brunswick County.

Snappy New Hanover Drum And Bugle Corps Drops Close Decision To Gastonia In State Contest

The 40-piece Gastonia American Legion Drum Corps outplayed the Wilmington Drum Corps under the direction of W. W. Jacobus to win the Drum Corps Championship for the 5th straight time from the Wilmington corps.

The final scores were Gastonia 82.9 and Wilmington 78.6, a difference of 4.3 points which is a very close contest. The director of the Gastonia corps told Mr. Jacobus that this contest was (Continued on Page 4)

Jacobus Going To Georgetown

Former Shallotte Hi School Band Director Accepts Position As Tutor For Winyah High School Musicians Next Year

William W. Jacobus, former director of the Shallotte High School Band, has recently accepted an offer to instruct the Winyah High School Band at Georgetown, S. C.

Mr. Jacobus came to Shallotte in 1951 and organized the Shallotte Band which rehearsed through the first year on a part-time basis of three days a week. When the community of Shallotte saw the fine progress the band was making, they hired Mr. Jacobus on a full time basis in 1952.

Before long this group had become known all over the Eastern Seaboard of the United States. Trips were made to every state from New York to Georgia.

Mr. Jacobus stated that he has met the friendliest students in his teaching career at Shallotte and without this close feeling between him and his students, the success could not have been made possible. The cooperation of the majority of the people also helped to bring this band to the fame it reached, he said.

Mr. Jacobus will leave for Georgetown where his band will start their summer school in July. Mr. Jacobus expects to have a 42-piece high school band with a large number of reserves as well as a grammar school band. Winyah High School has had a concert band for the past three years and is looking forward to seeing a good marching group this year. They have 42 new red and white uniforms.

Bolivia Student W. C. Graduate

Miss Sammie Lane Mercer Is Member Of Graduating Class This Year And Included On Dean's List

Miss Sammie Lane Mercer, daughter of Mrs. Ed Mercer of Bolivia and the late Mr. Mercer, completed her four years of study at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, this month.

Miss Mercer is one of the few Brunswick County students so far who have chosen W. C. as their Alma Mater. As a student at Bolivia high school she was outstanding. She was valedictorian of her senior class and was crowned "Miss Brunswick County" during her last year at Bolivia. She was placed on the dean's list at W. C. this past year, and was complimented very highly for her student teaching.

The course of study taken by Miss Mercer included a major in home economics and a minor in science and French. She plans to start teaching near Raleigh this fall.

Miss Mercer is engaged to James P. Jocum of Winston-Salem, who is attending State College, Raleigh. The wedding is planned for late August.

Opening Session Is Scheduled For Caswell Baptists

First Of Three Training Union Sessions Scheduled For Caswell Baptist Assembly Next Week

VARIED PROGRAM HAS BEEN PLANNED

One Of Largest Crowds Of Season Expected For The Opening Session; Outstanding Leaders To Participate

The 1953 season at Caswell Baptist Assembly will get underway Monday with the first of three Training Union weeks to be held during the summer.

Following the custom of previous years, class periods will be held during the mornings, worship services at night, leaving the afternoons for recreation. The program is under direction of James P. Morgan, statewide secretary of the Baptist Training Union.

Classes will begin at 8:45 o'clock each morning, Tuesday through Saturday. The first period will be methods conferences. Mrs. Smoot Baker, of Lancaster, S. C., will lead the section for general officers. Adult sessions will be led by Mrs. L. E. McGovern, Howard Poshee, Troy Hamrick and Hannah Brummitt. There will be classes for junior and intermediates and for leaders of each age-group.

Following a break, the second class period will begin at 10:00 o'clock. This will be given to personal interests conferences. Two conferences will be held for adults. "The Christian in the Modern World" will be led by the Rev. Gilmer Cross, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Goldsboro. "Christ, the Christian and the Church" will be led by the Rev. G. W. Bullard, pastor of Temple Baptist Church of Raleigh. Mrs. J. Winston Pearce of Durham will lead the conference for young people. Mrs. Owen Herring will conduct a panel on "Teen-Age Problems" for intermediates. Other speakers will include Walter Anderson, prison director, and Dr. Elmer West of the Foreign Mission Board. There will be additional conferences for juniors. Conferences in church drama and church libraries will be led by Mildred Thomas and Kittie Sullivan, respectively.

At 11:45 o'clock each day the morning assembly will be held. Tuesday morning Dr. M. A. Huggins of Raleigh will speak on State Missions. Wednesday will be given to the junior memory work drill. Thursday Dr. Elmer West will speak on foreign missions. Friday will be given to intermediate emphasis. Dr. E. L. Spivey will address the closing session on Saturday.

Evening vesper will be held each day except Monday, at 7:00 o'clock, led by Mrs. J. Winston Pearce. The evening worship hour will be at 7 o'clock, with Dr. J. Winston Pearce, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Durham, preaching. Films on evangelism will be shown each evening following the worship services.

Song leader for the conference will be the Rev. Dennis Hockaday, associate pastor of the First Baptist Church of Durham. The junior pastor will be the Rev. W. P. Milne, Ahoskie.

Drawing what will perhaps be the largest crowd at the assembly during the entire summer will be the festival Saturday morning (Continued On Page Four)

Our ROVING Reporter

W. B. KEZIAH

Kind of sick for some time but keeping on our feet and likewise trying to keep ourself mentally alert, we suddenly found ourself in the Doshier Memorial Hospital in the first of last week. There John, the senior orderly, took over the problem of our circulation about, via his contrivance that nearly everybody rides on sooner or later. Instead of our having to do any thinking, Dr. F. M. Burdette, Dr. L. G. Brown and Dr. N. M. Hornstein all took over that worry for us. We were too tough an old bird to be flying about with the angels just yet. So they set to work to see we should have more seasoning. In five days they diagnosed our trouble with the X-ray and in the laboratory, filled us with glucose, drugs and penicillin and sent us home as good as new and just about as strong. We should, of course, add that the doctors had some mighty fine help from Mrs. Robert K. Godfrey, Mrs. Dan Shannon, Mrs. Betty Leggett and the whole nursing staff. Miss Janice Trunnel, who graduated at the high school this year and who was assisting Mrs. Leggett at the X-raying of our anatomy, was so sympathetic that she told us we ought to have a wife to take care of us. The whole trouble grew out of a couple of small kidney stones.

This week our farmer friends invariably smile when we ask them about their tobacco crops. The reason for the smiling is readily understood. Ten days ago the outlook for production was (Continued on Page 4)
