War II there have been no funds appropriated for the construction of Post Office buildings, but serious conditions have and are still being remedied by encouraging private interests to build and lease to the government, or to provide other suitable quarters. Shown the letter from the Congressman, Postmaster Russ said that he felt that by waiting a couple of months or so he could obtain much more definite information as to future needs. He therefore plans to wait and watch the rapidly developing situation for a while longer before he takes up the matter of the future needs with Assistant Postmaster General Kish.

resort and the public in general are very much pleased with the four-car arrangement. They are expecting the new beach to develop rapidly and the highway commission, evidently agreed with them on this point and decided that the 4-car ferry would best serve the needs of growth.

Ocean Isle is across from Brick Landing and is easily reached from both Shallotte and Grissetown. It is known as one of the best fishing and oystering spots on the coast and has a beautiful sheltered strand and beach. A huge sum has already been spent by Williamson and Gore in buying the property and bringing it up to the present stage of development.

bove Bethel Baptist church. It is supposed that the administration building area will also have shops, cafeteria and other facilities that are needed for the operation of the installation, including a number of barracks for the two hundred or so Army Transport personnel and officers who will manage the installation. The soundings being taken for buildings are all in the administrative building area.

In addition to the above work the men have also been taking soundings, testing soils, etc., for the installation highway system. It is said that 30 miles of beautiful roads will be built, all having strong foundations and hard-surface. The soundings for the roads may indicate that strong foundations will be required.

DEAVER RECEIVES

to have advanced on the occupants with a drawn gun. Sellers got out of the car and fled. Deaver, apparently insane at the moment with rage, fired five shots into the body of his wife.

Deaver was of a prominent Tennessee family that had not heard from him in years. Following his trouble they rallied to his aid, employing lawyers and standing by to give all help. Deaver, however, elected to plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court. The whole proceedings lasted hardly more than 10 minutes.

Had the case come to trial it would probably have consumed 3 days, in the opinion of Judge Martin, who said that much estimated time had been allotted for its hearing. With it out of the way the long docket may be cleared by Thursday night. The work of the Judge and Solicitor has been described by lawyers as being very fast.

In addition to the Deaver case the following matters had been handled up to last night:

David C. Robinson, larceny, one year on roads, suspended on payment of court costs and $100 to John Webb.

Jasper Bellam, receiving stolen property, one year on roads, 2nd case one year on roads at expiration of first term and cost costs amounting to $200 for the two cases.

W. C. Funk, speeding, remanded to Recorder's court for judgment.

Mary Lee Bulard, failing to report an accident, jail six months, suspended on payment of costs, good behavior for two years and defendant not to operate a motor vehicle for one year.

Mary Lee Bullard, assault, public drunkenness, 30 days in jail.

Mary Lee Ballard, reckless operation, assault, no operators license, no pros with leave.

Elmer Creech, larceny of automobile, two year jail sentence suspended on payment of $450 to Wm. Oberjohn, and costs.

Frankie Byrnes, breaking and entering and larceny, not less than one year or more than 2 years, placed on probation for 4 years and required to pay costs and $129 to Dr. Smith for restitution.

Dewey Edwards, Peeping Tom, on year on roads and fine of $50 and costs. Prison sentence suspended on condition that he not be convicted of any general misdemeanor in Brunswick during the next two years.

Mary Rivenbark, et als, neglect, no pros with leave.

Henry Auss Williamson, drunk driving, improper registration, carrying concealed weapons, no pros with leave.

Corbett Simmons, disposing of mortgaged property, six months on roads, suspended for two years on payment of costs and the sum of $259.71 for Randolph Long.

Alma Goodman Caviness, speeding, fined $25 and costs.

M. L. Bellamy and Al Workman, kidnapping, no pros with leave.

Gus Bland, possession, not guilty.

Otto Harper, public drunkenness, fined $10 and costs.

James William Green, drunken driving, fined $100 and costs.

Archie Babson, assault with deadly weapon, not guilty.

Colon Eagles and George Arnold, trespass, not a true bill.

Carlton Hedgecock, reckless operation, not guilty.

The trial of James A. Trotter, elderly white man who has been at liberty for two years on bond, and who is charged with the slaying of his wife was scheduled to begin this morning.

but claims to be a Southerner because he was raised and went to school in South Carolina. He moved to North Carolina at the beginning of his business career. After the Army in World War I, he returned to work with the electric power company in Asheville which later was merged with Carolina Power & Light Company. He has progressed up the ladder to the position of assistant treasurer with this organization. He transferred from Asheville to the principal office of the company in 1937.

He is a past president of the Raleigh Little Theatre, a past president of the Raleigh Chapter of National Office Management Association, and was formerly a national director and holder of the Merit Award of that organization. He is an active worker with civic and church clubs.

Formerly a church and radio singer, his current hobbies are public speaking and bridge. His speaking engagements have called him to most of the larger cities, and he is much in demand as an inspirational and humorous after-dinner speaker before civic clubs and business conventions.

agitation over the misunderstanding, with the result that the Friday night meeting has been called.

Whereas only a small handful of voters were present at most of the precinct organization meetings, a large crowd is expected to attend this special session at Hickman's Crossroads Friday night.

One of the major items of business to come before the county convention Saturday is the election of a party chairman to serve during the coming two years.

SPORT FISHING

The best bluefish catch reported thus far was made Friday by a shoals party out with Capt. Leon McKeithan aboard the Botfly. They had 105 nice blues, and the reports are that there are plenty of these fish out there.

The party boat captains report that there is an unusually heavy demand for charters for this early in the season, and they credit the discovery of the king mackerel for much of this good business.

A report from the Sunday trip of the Bon-Jon of Shallotte Point showed 19 king mackerel, 5 amberjack, one big dolphin and one bonita.

BENEFIT SUPPER

There will be a barbecue supper served at Zion Methodist Church on Saturday from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. All proceeds will go to the Building Fund.

CANDIDATE for SHERIFF

During all of the years that I was away from home in the Marine Corps and in the Federal Bureau of Investigation it was my intention to return to Brunswick to live. In the meantime, I gained some valuable experience in Law Enforcement which I believe has qualified me to fill the High Office of Sheriff of Brunswick County. I can think of no greater honor than to be nominated and elected by my fellow citizens to this position.

Candidate For Sheriff
I have had a lot of experience dealing with people both in and out of service, and I honestly do not believe there is any phase of the duties of the Sheriff Department that I cannot handle. I am honest, and I am not afraid of anybody. I am a friend to everybody, but that will not keep me from performing my duty. --- AND I SHALL HAVE NO FAVORITES.
