Shallotte High School Faculty Now Completed

Principal A. A. White Announces Names Of Teachers Comprising Faculty For This Year At Brunswick's Largest Consolidated School

SCHOOL GAINS ANOTHER TEACHER

This Brings To 40 The Total Number Of Teachers Allotted To Shallotte; Principal Cites Attendance Drive Last Year

SHALLOTTE—The state department of Public Instruction has allotted the Shallotte elementary school an additional teacher for the coming school term, according to an announcement by the school's principal, A. A. White.

For the coming school term the local elementary school will have a total of 27 teachers and the high school a total of 13, making a total of 40 for the local schools. In releasing a complete list of members of the schools' faculty, Mr. White explained that special emphasis was placed on attendance during the last school term. He said perfect attendance certificates were given those students who did not miss a day from school during the year and free motion pictures were shown those students with perfect attendance for a month.

In the primary department of the school this year will be Miss Frances Galloway, Bolivia; Mrs. Katherine R. White, Mrs. Beatrice Sabiston and Mrs. Mildred Milligan, all of Shallotte, first grade; Mrs. Ruth Galloway, Shallotte; Mrs. Jesse Hales, Supply; Mrs. Edna P. Bellamy, Little River, S. C., 2nd grade. Mrs. Paul Brummett, Shallotte, 2nd and 3rd grade.

In the grammar grades are: Mrs. Clara Russ, Mrs. Otis Russ, of Shallotte and Mrs. Lillian Hewett, Supply, 3rd grade. Mrs. Lila Shay, Ocean Drive, S. C.; Miss Brightie Holden and Mrs. Jewel I. New Equipment Clears The Road

A new piece of special equipment featured at the terminal this past week is a large road magnet used to keep SPAT roadways and working areas free from nails and metal debris.

This special piece of equipment is especially useful in the lumber reclamation area and in the wharf loading area. Its use is expected to reduce to a large degree the number of tire failures occurring within the confines of the base.

Rapid Growth Is Shown In History Of Supply Church

Dedication Ceremonies For Church And Pastorium Of Supply Baptist Church Observed Sunday

By J. J. HAWES

On the first Sunday morning in January 1948 twenty persons of the Supply community assembled in the then vacant store building of J. J. Hawes and organized a Sunday school. A goodly number of persons assembled again in the evening and organized a Baptist Training Union. J. J. Hawes was elected to serve as the first Sunday School Superintendent, and the late V. E. Galloway, Sr., was elected Baptist Training Union Director. These two organizations functioned very effectively and the desire and interest for the establishment of a church grew. A committee was appointed and a church organization program was set in motion on March 21, 1948, at which time Supply Baptist church was constituted.

There were nineteen charter members.

The first church conference was held on March 28, 1948, with Dennis R. Hewett serving as moderator. The following officers were elected: Church clerk, Mrs. Earl Thompson; deacons, V. E. Galloway, Sr., Carl Hewett and Dennis R. Hewett; trustees, J. J. Hawes, Clarence Lannon and V. E. Galloway, Jr.; custodian, J. J. Hawes; pianist, Mrs. J. J. Hawes; chorister, Dennis R. Hewett; publicity chairman, Mrs. Frank Lannon; pulpit committee, V. E. Galloway, Sr., J. J. Hawes and Mrs. J. J. Hawes; finance committee, Mrs. Lucy Lannon, Mrs. Bessie Hewett and Mrs. Thelma Galloway; building committee, Dennis R. Hewett, J. J. Hawes and Clarence Lannon; Sunday school officers committee, Mrs. Earl Thompson, Mrs. J. J. Hawes and Mrs. Bessie Hewett.

Fishing Results Good During Week

Men Report On Nature In Raw

From Ralph Varnum, Supply man who is working with the U. S. Army Engineers on a snag boat up the Northeast River comes a strange story of nature in the raw, observed while he and Earl Kirby, also of Supply, were at work recently.

Varnum says that they observed a 2-foot water rattler catch and fight a big freshwater catfish for about 10 minutes, when the fish finally gave up and was carried to the bank. The men killed the snake as it reached the bank, and the fish floated away, apparently lifeless. Gradually he revived, and finally swam away. Meanwhile, a large turtle spotted the dead snake and lumbered out of the water, picked up his body and made off with an easy meal.

The men say that it is not uncommon to see snakes while engaged in their operation, and they have killed as high as 11 in one day. Most of them are cottonmouth moccasins and copperheads.

Small Conference Group At Caswell During The Week

Invitation Extended To Residents Of Surrounding Area To Attend Morning And Evening Sessions At Baptist Assembly

SPECIAL APPEAL TO FAMILY GROUPS

Speaker Last Week Waged Attack Upon Growing Use Of Alcohol As Social Beverage

Evening and morning services at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly at Fort Caswell this week are open to the public. For the first time since 1953, meals are being served family style in the assembly hotel this week. A small conference, featuring fellowship and inspiration, is being held during Preaching and Christian Home Week, according to Fred J. Smith, assembly manager. Rev. James S. Potter, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church, Raleigh, is preaching each evening, and Dr. Ralph E. McLain, head of the department of religion of Meredith College, is teaching a Bible class each morning.

The Rev. Mr. Potter is a lesson writer for the Baptist Sunday School Board and is currently preparing lessons for the young people's publications for the Southern Baptist Convention. A native of Wilmington, he is a graduate of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky. Before coming to his present pastorate, he served the First Baptist Church, Statesville, as minister.

Professor McLain, also an alumnus of Southern Seminary, taught at Shorter College, Rome, Ga., before coming to the Baptist senior college for women in Raleigh. As a speaker he is in great demand and has served as interim pastor for several congregations near the capital city. He is especially popular with students of the Bible at the college and was this year cited by the student-body as one of the three faculty members who had made the greatest contribution to student life during the year.

Dairy Farmers To Meet Monday

Brunswick Dairymen Association Will Hold Meeting Monday Night At Bolivia

Brunswick County Dairymen will meet at Mae's Cafe in Bolivia Monday night at 8 o'clock to consider further the program of artificial breeding their herds of cattle, according to Herbert Swain, Jr., president, Brunswick Dairymen Association. Plans are progressing to receive semen through the Columbus-Bladen Breeding Association.

It is expected that final plans will be completed at this meeting in order for the program to begin in September. R. R. Rich, Extension Dairy Specialist, and A. S. Knowles, County Agent, will be present to assist the group.

Carl Lewis of Winnabow will be the instructor for the Brunswick dairymen. He attended a school at N. C. State College about 2 years ago and returned last week for a refresher course.

Study Continues On Clearance Job

District Engineers Report That Figures On This Work Should Be Available Early In October

Final reports on civil defense stream clearance work applied for by 26 counties and two towns in the coastal area are scheduled to be completed in early October, the Corps of Engineers District office announced this week.

So far, reports Col. H. C. Rowland, Jr., District Engineer, survey work on streams in 11 counties and one town—Clinton—has been completed. The counties are: New Hanover, Brunswick, Columbus, Bladen, Pender, Sampson, Duplin, Onslow, Carteret, Craven and Pamlico.

The District's six 2-man crews are scheduled to survey streams in Jones, Lenoir, Wayne, Wilson, Green and Beaufort counties, during the two weeks ending August 16.

Final reports on New Hanover, Pender and Sampson counties and Clinton have been submitted to the Federal Civil Defense Administration's FCDA Regional office at Thomasville, Ga. Reports (Continued on Page Four)

Livestock Show And Sale Plans Are Announced

Bolivia Lions Club Will Sponsor Event To Be Held In That Community On August 30

The Bolivia Lions Club will sponsor its second annual Youth Livestock Day at Elmore's Car Lot in Bolivia on August 30. 4-H and F. F. A. youth will show swine, beef and dairy animals. The Sears Roebuck Foundation Pullet Show and Sale will also be held in connection with the show. Purebred Hampshire pigs will be offered at auction. This should be an excellent chance for farmers to pick up some good breeding stock.

A beauty contest for girls will be sponsored by the home demonstration club women of the county.

An added attraction will be a greasy pig race for the youth. The purpose of the show is to provide an opportunity for Brunswick county boys and girls to learn leadership and showmanship. (Continued On Page Four)

Southport Voters Approve ABC Store

Citizens Of This Community Approve Establishment Of Alcoholic Beverage Control Store By Margin Of Better Than 3 To 1

ALDERMEN WILL NAME ABC BOARD

That Group Will Have Responsibility Of Hiring Store Manager, Obtaining Building And Providing Location

Southport voters went to the polls yesterday and by a margin of more than 3 to 1 voted in favor of the establishment of legal sales of alcoholic beverage here. The final vote was 474 for and 145 against.

The greatest margin was piled up in the first ward, where there were 214 votes for and 45 against. The vote in the second ward was closest, with 76 voting in favor of legal sales and 53 against. In ward three the vote was 180 for and 47 against.

Tonight members of the board of aldermen are holding a special meeting for the purpose of naming a 3-man ABC board and setting the salary of men who fill these positions. After that all decisions regarding selection of personnel and setting of salaries will be up to that board.

One of the first jobs will be to select a manager for the ABC store. Another problem will be to Continued On Page Four

Find Turtle Nest Inside The City

Southport's recent growing pains notwithstanding, the fact remains that there are stretches along the waterfront that are wild and woolly enough for a sea turtle to come ashore and make her nest.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hood discovered the tell-tale tracks coming out of the water while walking up the beach at Deepwater Heights last week. They followed them to the nest, and unearthed a cache of round white eggs. They left them undisturbed, and hope that before long they will be able report a large new family up in that community.

Mrs. Hood's father, Capt. C. N. Swan, who has helped to locate hundreds of turtle nests in his day, declared this to be the first he has ever known of within the city limits of Southport.

Music School Is Being Planned

Brunswick Baptist Association Will Sponsor Training School At Supply Baptist Church Beginning On August 26

Again this year the 29 churches of the Brunswick Baptist Association are participating in a School of Music, which will begin Monday night, August 26, at 7:15 o'clock with the Rev. Avery Lunsden as leader.

Four courses will be offered to all interested in better music. Those helping with the teaching and directing of these courses are: Rev. Preston Lawrence, Temple Baptist Church, Wilmington; Mrs. Sylvia Moore; Mrs. Avery Lunsden; Miss Elizabeth Hewett; Mrs. A. S. Knowles; Rev. and Mrs. Luther Hawkins.

Preston Lawrence is to organize and direct an associational choir for the Brunswick county. Men, women, girls and boys from age 12 on up who are interested in music are urged to attend. Books for the courses will be for sale at the church.

The pastors of the Brunswick Baptist Association will lead each (Continued On Page Four)

TIME and TIDE

By JIMMIE HARPER

The time was August 18, 1937, and the topic for all citizens of Southport still was the Sailing Regatta, whose Class A trophy was won by the Geachie of Savannah, Ga. Interest in this 3-day event had been a-building for several weeks, and the Friday afternoon show more than lived up to expectations, as no less than seven boats capsized during heats run that afternoon. So, it came as an anti-climax on Saturday when there was practically no wind at all and the boats were becalmed throughout most of the afternoon. But it was a gala occasion; and a good time was had by all.

Not to be crowded out by all this excitement was news of a heroic rescue made by Johnnie Varnum, who saved four persons from drowning while he was working at a fishing camp operated that season at Holden Beach by the N. C. Prison Department.

Even the conservative headlines in the August 19, 1942, issue of The Pilot gave insistent reminders that the war was on. Mrs. L. C. Fergus was head of the Red Cross Disaster Committee; Tom Morgan was operating the projector for showing movies at the USO; a Red Cross First Aid Class had been organized; and plans were being made to use Mrs. J. W. Ruark as executive secretary for the American
