

Wolfpack Leading WAA Title Race

Like other teams of Southeastern North Carolina, the members of the new Waccamaw Athletic Conference have met exceedingly rough going in playing their 1958 baseball schedule this Spring. Up to the "cease fire" for the Easter holidays, just one-half, or four of eight slated contests had been played in the five-school conference. It is made up of Whiteville, Elizabethtown, Chadbourne, Shallotte and Tabor City.

And, as the holiday lull came, Whiteville's Wolfpack was in top-spot in the conference with a 2-0 mark, having beaten Chadbourne, 20-0, on Tuesday night and following it up with an 18-1 shellacking of Shallotte on Wednesday afternoon.

Chadbourne broke into the win-column with a Wednesday afternoon conquest of Tabor City, 8-3, and Shallotte nipped Elizabethtown, 2-1, in an 8-inning battle played Thursday.

Carson Etheridge has been the winning pitcher for Whiteville in both outings, though he received good help from Freshman Clarence Inman. Both foes received but 4 hits apiece off the local moundmen. Doug Miller hit 4 for 4 at Shallotte and Etheridge had 3 for 3 against Chadbourne.

Joe Nance, who hit 2 for 4 against both Whiteville and Tabor City was Chadbourne's top man. Gene Todd hurled the win for the Panthers at TC. Henry Neil Wright had 2 for 4 against Chadbourne for Tabor. Both Gordon Gore of Shallotte and Bobby Cain of ETown hurled 3-hitters, but Steve Gore singled, stole 2nd and home, to give the Bucs their overtime victory.

Games slated during this week include: TUESDAY—ETown at

CARSON ETHERIDGE

Chadbourne, Whiteville at Tabor City; FRIDAY—Chadbourne at Shallotte. All are at 3:15 p. m.

Games to be re-scheduled, because of the inclement weather since the middle of March are the following (with dates originally booked in parentheses): Shallotte at Chadbourne (March 21), Whiteville at ETown (March 25), Whiteville at Tabor City (March 28). No dates had been set on these at the Easter halt.

Gordon Gore of the winners and ETown's Bobby Cain each allowed 3 hits, but Gore fanned 12, including 9 in a row, and walked five in claiming the win.

Discount Variety Ban Continues

Growers Being Urged To Refrain From Planting Certain Types Of Flue-Cured Tobacco This Year

Administrative regulations for the already announced 50 percent discount in price support loans for Coker 139, Coker 140, and Dixie Bright 244 varieties of 1958-crop flue-cured tobacco were made public last week by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. At the same time, the Department advised growers that no special pool arrangements will be made for discount varieties of tobacco from this year's crop.

Flue-cured tobacco is grown principally in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

Reduced price supports for the "undesirable" varieties of flue-cured tobacco, in force the first time in 1957, were announced for this year's crop last November. Strongly supported by the fluecured tobacco trade and flue-cured growers, the action taken last year sharply reduced production of the discount varieties and did much to restore international confidence in the traditional flavor and aroma of U. S. flue-cured tobacco, the Department pointed out.

Production of the three discount varieties reached a peak in 1956, causing a serious problem in the flue-cured tobacco trade. All segments of the industry joined to discourage their production and urged the Department to adjust loan rates downward on the undesirable tobaccos. Beginning with the 1957 crop, the Department did so.

As a result, less than one-half of 1 percent of last year's total flue-cured tobacco production was of the discount varieties, reflecting a strong support of the program by the majority of flue-cured tobacco growers, the Department explained. Most of the "undesirable" tobacco that was produced was not grown intentionally.

Department officials said that the same close cooperation on the part of growers is expected again this year. At the same time, they praised the conscientious work done in the flue-cured area by State and county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices in explaining and administering the program last year.

Applications are now being accepted for this position in the State ASC Office and will be accepted until April 21. Applicants will be thoroughly screened by the State ASC Committee before being employed.

Applications for Tobacco Variety Identification Specialists, GS-9, must be filed on a Standard Form 57, which may be obtained at local Post Offices, Civil Service Offices, and the State ASC Office. These applications must be filed in the State ASC Office not later than April 21, 1958. Applicants should stress their tobacco growing experience, particularly during the past five years, when completing Standard Form 57.

Contract Awarded For Building Job

An apparent low bid of $46,800 for construction of a building addition to Air Force facilities in the vicinity of Fort Fisher was submitted by the Cape Fear Construction Company of Fayetteville.

The bid opening was held in the Corps of Engineers Wilmington District office.

Col. H. C. Rowland, Jr., District Engineer, reported that this masonry addition to the Operations Building will contain approximately 1450 square feet of floor space. It will house automatic equipment not available when the original building was constructed and will complete the Operations Building.

Other features of the work include air-conditioning, heating and electrical work, and grading and sidewalks.

Coast Guard Has Several Openings

The local Coast Guard Reserve recruiter for the Southeastern North Carolina area, W. A. Stanley, BMI, has been trying to make personnel contact with many young men between 17 and 21 years old as possible.

The Coast Guard Organized Reserve Port Security Unit in Wilmington has openings now for these young men to fill their six month active duty billets.

A young man can fulfill his military obligation in the Coast Guard Reserve by joining now.

Southport Bride Has Sports Thrill

Mrs. Roy Daniel of Southport has been awarded a "Jumpmaster" certificate by Marine Studios, Florida's renowned oceanarium. Visitors from all parts of the country can earn this title at Marineland by feeding the famous jumping porpoises by hand.

Mrs. Daniel received the award after successfully coaxing three of the large aquatic mammals to leap completely out of the water to take fish from her fingers.

Following the porpoise feeding, Mrs. Daniel stayed to witness the entire program, in which a staff diver entered the two oceanariums to hand-feed the thousands of marine specimens, and the "educated" porpoises perform their amazing feats in the new 1,000-seat Porpoise Stadium.

U. S. Navy Commander Robert E. Peary became the first living person in world history to reach the top of the world when he planted the "Stars and Stripes" there April 6, 1909.

ASC Jobs Open On Part Time

The State ASC Committee plans to employ approximately 100 men who will be trained as Tobacco Variety Identification Specialists.
