

SUMMER SNOOPER

BY LOLA MAE GORE

"Come on Baby, Let's do the Twist", and that sure sounds like a good deal to me! How about you? That song has really made a hit with the majority of us, as the beat is great to dance to. It sure has been played a few times in the last two weeks at the pavilion along with "All For The Love of a Girl", "Endlessly", "Personality", "It's All In The Game", "Say Bossman", "Sonic Cruise" and many other favorites. While on the subject of music, I would like to say that this week-end was really a success! Friday and Saturday nights were swinging with almost everyone present. I heard quite a few comments that this week-end was the best yet, and I agree. I hope it continues to be like this for the next 3 months.

Sunday night was in many ways one of the most entertaining we've had in a long time. About 9 o'clock everyone was sitting around gabbing when in walked 4 strangers. Pretty soon the place was "reeling and rocking" as they were really putting on a show for us. It seems that they are Marines stationed at Lejeune and they are entertainers and put on shows for the troops. It appeared that they were all from New York, and after a few laughs Butch went over to the juke box and played "Yankee Go Home".

They were very nice and they liked quaint little Southport and good rocking Long Beach so much they intend to visit regularly.

Sunday afternoon proved very interesting, too. Donna, Leda and I were sitting on the beach when up walked Puddinhead, Harrison and Skeeter. Before long they were out in the Atlantic drifting South. After a while they docked and captured Leda. She had to ride on the new invention. For some unknown reason the boat kept turning over and when Leda finally returned about an hour later she was ice blue. The last we saw of the boys they were headed for Bermuda. The question still remains: What will they think of next?

SNOOPIN' AROUND: Jerome enjoying each week-end more and more... Harry D. we just aren't as young as we use to be... Congratulations to Froggy on his new rating... Where's my yo-yo?... Larry wondering about the fishing business... Joan, it's gonna be a great summer after all... Nice having Zona and Becky home for the summer... Swain, had any sleep lately?... "From the Halls of Montezuma"... I'm Just A Lonely Boy... Sure hate to see Bill leave... The very best of luck goes to Norman and Doug in Miami... Harrison, say you need 20c... Glad to have Jimmy Albright and Phil Yount from Bolivia down... "Imitation of Life" will be coming soon. Don't miss it. Its terrific... Congratulations to Hilda King, Dairy Queen.

Well gotta run for now. Sure hope you enjoyed this week's news. All you good friends out there be good, and especially careful. Until this week-end at the pavilion, "So Long".

off Long Beach and Yaupon piers. On Long Beach pier one day last week it reminded one of fall when people were pulling in their lines with a spot on every hook. Long Beach equipment working to make the sand dunes higher and more protective. The sprayer is on full time duty controlling insects. Telephones have "come inside" as the News and Observer stated some time ago. Residents can now get telephones inside their homes or businesses, now connected to the Southport exchange. Everything will be better this summer for the people who have moved in for the season and for those who rent by the week or night. The weather has been good, the water fine and plenty of shells for the shell collectors.

New summer residents on the beach are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Inels and children Betty and Jim of Winston-Salem. They are staying in the Stovall cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Jones and sons, Butch and Vennie, and daughter, Mickie, have moved over to Hurricane Court for the summer.

The N. P. Matthews family of Charlotte is on vacation in the "Last Resort". Mrs. Matthews' sister, Mrs. Milton V. Weise and family of Winston-Salem is in the "Sandwood", and another sister, Mrs. W. B. Granger with family from Charlotte are in the Granger cottage. Looks like Long Beach is the scene of another family reunion.

New property owners on Long Beach are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hammond, who purchased a cottage here last week.
