The location of the still was in Lockwoods Folly township, near where another big still was captured three years ago.

CAMPAIGN TO BE HELD IN JANUARY

Brunswick County Leader Expresses Appreciation For Cooperation She Has Had From Fellow Citizens

Mrs. M. H. Rourk of Shallotte has been appointed Brunswick County Director for the new March of Dimes for 1960, it was announced this week by William A. Creech, Campaign Chairman. The drive, which will be held in January, will help support the new and expanded program of The National Foundation, which is now attacking the crippling diseases of birth defects and arthritis just as it attacked the problem of polio.

Mrs. Rourk is a graduate of Woman's College. She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, P. T. A., and Association of University Women. She and Dr. Rourk are members of the Presbyterian Church of Myrtle Beach. She has been active in March of Dimes work for twelve years.

"The people of Brunswick County who helped make the Salk vaccine possible by previous March of Dimes contributions," Mrs. Rourk said, "have an even greater stake in this new March of Dimes, because one out of four families is affected by these three diseases—the nation's biggest cripples."

"The National Foundation," she continued, "is embarked on the largest and most ambitious program ever undertaken by a voluntary health agency, and needs your support more than ever. March of Dimes funds will be used to finance extensive medical scientific research, train young people in the health and medical professions, and provide better treatment for many crippled children." Whiteville Scene Of REA Meeting

L. Y. Ballentine, Commissioner of Agriculture, Will Be Principal Speaker For The Annual Membership Meeting Friday

A shorter program stripped of what have been called detracting exhibits and concessions, will be an innovation of the annual Brunswick Electric Membership Corp. meeting this year. The meet is scheduled for Liberty warehouse, Whiteville, Oct. 30. Registration opens at noon, with the meeting beginning at 1:30 p. m.

E. D. Bishop, co-op manager, says that the meeting, in the past an all-day affair, is being cut to half a day, and is also being stripped of its exhibits, demonstrations, and eating concessions.

He explained that the meeting's purpose is to give the members information about their business and that "about two-thirds of our members cannot hear the important factors of our program."

Key speaker for the 1959 meeting will be L. Y. Ballentine, North Carolina secretary of agriculture.

The program will be opened at 1 p. m. for a half hour of country music by Grandpa Jones and his Grand Old Apry aggregation. There will be the business reports as presented by the officers, and the members will also name a new board of directors.

Welfare Official Cites Program

R. Eugene Brown, Director Of Public Assistance For State Board Of Public Welfare, Spoke Thursday Night In Southport

R. Eugene Brown, director of public assistance for the North Carolina Department of Public Welfare, was speaker at a meeting in Southport Thursday evening.

The State official, speaking before an audience which included many of the public officials of Brunswick county, outlined the many services provided by the Welfare Department and told of the history of the development of this program in North Carolina. He pointed out that an act passed in 1917 set up the first welfare organization as such, and he praised the thinking and planning that went into this legislation. The handicap for many years, he said, was lack of funds; and he told how the conditions in this field have changed.

He said that, in this connection, there appears to be no way to escape a reduction in payments after January 1 to persons receiving checks through the Old Age Assistance program. The State contribution to the total amount of these payments will be reduced from 85-percent to 80-percent. He said that the State contribution to the total amount of these payments will be reduced from 80-percent to 75-percent in checks to the Permanently and Totally Disabled.

Brown expressed the belief that too much criticism has been leveled at the Aid to Dependent Children program, saying that no public funds are expanded for the care of about 92-percent of all illegitimate children born in North Carolina.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. H. Arrington, chairman of the Brunswick County Welfare Board. Earl Bellamy, judge of Brunswick county Recorder's court, introduced the (Continued On Page 4)

Trick Or Treat Will Have New Twist In Town

Members Of The Methodist Youth Fellowship Will Visit Homes On Thursday Evening For UNICEF

OTHER CONVENTIONAL ACTIVITIES PLANNED

Schools Of County Following Long-Established Custom Of Raising Needed Funds At Carnival

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship in Southport will follow a new pattern with their "trick or treat" activities this year when on Thursday night they collect funds for UNICEF.

Instead of candy and other goodies, children of members of the MYF will collect "treats" in form of pennies, nickels and dimes for the world's needy children.

The "treats" will go to United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) to help needy children all over the world.

UNICEF was started nine years ago when a small Sunday school decided on Halloween to do something for the world's needy children. Today that small organization has grown to over 10,000 communities participating and more than two million contributing.

Mrs. Bridges said: "Last year UNICEF benefited more than 50 million children and mothers. We are happy to say that our contributions last year helped aid that many people in our small way and we are looking forward again to another good drive. The children will be carrying milk cartons with orange and black UNICEF bands around them when they start their campaign Thursday night."

Mrs. Bridges gave the following data as to how pennies would help. "The price of a small piece of chewing gum represents the price of vaccine against tuberculosis. The price of a three cent stamp will provide a needy child with a glass of milk a day for two weeks."

"The cost of daily newspaper means the pencil to cure a child of yaws, a tropical disease which cripples and maims. For the cost of a gallon of gas, a child can be successfully treated for trachoma, an eye disease which often leads to blindness."

"These are but a few of the ways UNICEF helps. We of Southport are very lucky that we live in a land of plenty, and I hope everyone will contribute a little to help those in need."

The plan is to organize a group of volunteer firemen who will be able to offer fire protection in a radius of 3-miles of Winnabow. It is pointed out that this will result in a reduction in insurance rates covering property in this area.

TIME and TIDE

By JIMMIE HARPER

It was October 25, 1939, and Henry Stone, principal at Shallotte High School, had recently completed work for his master's degree at Duke University. Formerly he had been principal at Supply. An English sparrow, making a rest stop on Frying Pan Lightship, had been captured some two weeks before and subsequently released ashore in Southport. Due to the unsettled condition of the international situation, plans for a Navy Day celebration in Southport had been abandoned; the old, four-story hotel structure on Bald Head Island had been deserted by fire; and the homes of H. S. Smith and Capt. Fred Willing were being repaired and painted.

According to a headline, the Venus Flytrap was the strangest form of plant life known to man. Whether this plant deserved this highest honor is not known, but there was an interesting feature on these botanical carnivores that week. The lady hypnotist-swindlers reported the week before had moved on to Columbus County; Harry Sells had been chased by a wild boar and black bear, alternately, through most of the woods (a lot) north and east of town; and Robert Willis had gone to work with a Chadbourne drug concern.

It was October 25, 1944, and over two hundred persons had attended the 50th anniversary homecoming at New Hope Presbyterian Church. Harold Aldridge was serving with an artillery outfit in England; the Southport school was planning a Halloween Carnival; the hurricane of the preceding week had failed to reach the Brunswick area; Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Goodman had announced the birth of a son; and a Home Demonstration Club was to be set up in the Funston section. (Continued On Page Four)
