Brimley Speaks At Waccamaw Finals Program

Member Of Faculty At East Carolina College Delivers Graduation Address Friday Evening

By JIGGS POWERS

ASH—Hard work, optimism, a education were the main essentials pointed out to Waccamaw High School's graduates as necessities for happy and successful futures at their graduation exercises held here, Friday night. Dr. Ralph Brimley of East Carolina College told them they would need to continue to "work hard, just as you've been doing the past years, particularly as you've been doing the past few weeks, and you'll go far on the road to success."

He also told the local seniors they had to be optimists, "look for, and find, the good things in life; not the bad things." He also told them they didn't need to go to college, even to business school, but "whatever you decide to do in life, secure the very best training possible in it. All these things will go together to bring success and happiness."

Dr. Brimley was the speaker at the 1960 WHS graduation exercises, at which 30 members of the class received diplomas and Bibles from Principal Neil Singletary, Board Chairman J. B. Ward, Jr. and Brunswick County Board of Education Chairman Corbett Y. Coleman.

The exercise was opened with the processional, "Largo", followed by the invocation given by the Rev. Earl Lester. Luella Hughes, the class salutatorian, gave the welcome address, "Yesterday's Dreams—Tomorrow's Goals". David Stansland presented the senior gift to the school and it was accepted by Principal Singletary. Following the valedictory address by the top honor student of the class, Carol Jean Bennette, entitled, "Our Hopes For Tomorrow", Singletary introduced the speaker.

Visiting Minister Holds Conference

The Rev. Lawrence Bridges Performs This Function Sunday Evening At Yaupon Methodist Church

The fourth and last quarterly conference for the Methodist Church at Yaupon Beach was conducted under the supervision of the Rev. Lawrence Bridges Sunday evening. The Rev. Bridges substituted as District Superintendent in the absence of Dr. J. E. Garlington, now on leave because of illness. He conducted the service and then presided at the session of the quarterly conference.

The pastor, the Rev. L. D. Hayman, and his official board had ready every report for presentation as the presiding officer called for them. These reports reflected church has made since its doors were opened for worship on November 15 less than a year ago.

The membership now stands at 104 members. The value of the city block lot, the completed church with new Hammond organ, piano, and church furniture, has an conservative, appraised value to report to the annual conference in the amount of $48,000. All reports show progress in each department of activity. The treasurer's report shows the entire budget, local and conference-wide, paid in full. There have been 33 members received into the church. With the session of the conference Continued On Page 4

Both Democrats And Republicans Will Participate In Voting In Brunswick County Saturday

MUCH INTEREST IN STATE CONTESTS

Large Turn-Out Of Voters Expected With Governor And U.S. Senator Candidates Running

A political campaign which was slow to create much interest now is going full blast, and prospects now are that a record vote will be cast in the primary election Saturday.

Both Democrats and Republicans are running on the county ticket, and in addition there is much interest in the race for Democratic nomination for governor, for U. S. Senate and for other State offices.

The polls open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m.

As usual, however, chief interest centers in local races.

A full slate of candidates at the office they seek appears elsewhere in today's paper. There has been much controversy about the 5-man board of county commissioners and the possible complications of nominating five men from separate townships on both tickets. There is a good chance that the board of elections may have a knotty problem on its hands when canvass time comes.

Following is the text of the law covering election of the 5-man board: "An act to increase the membership of the Board of County Commissioners of Brunswick County, North Carolina." Continued On Page 4

Text Of Grand Jury Findings

Report Submitted To Judge R. I. Mintz At Conclusion Of Last Week's Session Very Brief

Following is the text of the report of the grand jury, returned before Judge R. I. Mintz here last week at the conclusion of the May term of Superior court for trial of criminal cases: "We the Grand Jury of May term of court 1960 have examined thirteen (13) bills. We have found thirteen true bills and no non-true bills. "We would like to commend the Board of Education for the work done on the sewerage lines at Leland School and other improvement on all the county schools. We would like to commend the Board of County Commissioners for work on the county jail. "Supt. of County schools Mr. Long said that he would look into the matter of a stove being mis- Continued On Page 4

New Agriculture Building Started

Simple Ground-Breaking Ceremony Thursday In Recognition Of Services Of Home Demonstration Club Women

NEW FACILITIES BADLY NEEDED

New Structure Located On U.S. Highway 17 On Property Donated My Mr. And Mrs. J. J. Hawes

A ground-breaking ceremony was held Thursday morning at Supply as work began on construction of the new Brunswick county agriculture building.

Participating were representatives of the Brunswick County Home Demonstration Clubs, whose members were largely instrumental in persuading members of the board of county commissioners to undertake this building project.

The contract for the new building has been awarded Cecil Hewett, who was low bidder. The site is on U. S. Highway No. 17 and was donated by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hawes.

The one-story building of eight-inch solite block will be 60 by 72 feet and will face Highway 17 near the junction with Highway 130.

The new building will include six office rooms and an auditorium with capacity for seating 150 people.

The present extension staff includes County Agricultural Agent A. S. Knowles, James Goff, assistant county agent; Mrs. Thelma Upchurch, home economics agent, and Mrs. Linda Varnum. Continued On Page 4

TIME and TIDE

By JIMMIE HARPER

MAY 22, 1935—One of the most significant meetings held in recent years at Southport had been the Eastern North Carolina Hospital Association in the Masonic Hall. Dr. W. S. Rankin, head of the Duke Hospital Endowment, had paid high tribute to the Brunswick County Hospital and to Dr. J. Arthur Doshier. "Right here," Dr. Rankin said during the course of his talk, "I want to pay tribute to one man, Dr. Arthur Doshier. The Brunswick County Hospital is built around him, and without him could not function. I am not discrediting the work of his fine young assistant, Dr. William Doshier, nor of his colleague of many years standing, Dr. William Goley; but this hospital is built around one man. It is a real pleasure and inspiration to see work like this going on."

MAY 22, 1940—Brunswick county voters were getting ready for a primary election on the coming Saturday. S. B. Frink had been named one of the N. C. Delegates to the National Democratic Convention. And there were reports of commencement exercises.

Movies had been taken of the birds on Battery Island; gala amusements were being talked of for Long Beach; and a local minister had preached a sermon at the funeral of a murder and suicide victim at one of the county churches. "Best chance I had ever had to get some of those folks in church," he explained.

MAY 23, 1945—Even though V-E Day had come and gone, there still was a war going on. There was news of foreign service, commendations and of a new draft quota. There was activity on the waterfront, as shrimpers got ready for the season and commercial fishing boats made their first catches of the year.

This was the season for school commencements, and there Continued On Page Four
