Annual Flower Show Scheduled Here On Friday

Sponsoring Group For This Year's Event Is Live Oak Garden Club, But Public Invited To Participate

"EARTH'S TREASURES" THEME OF THE SHOW

Several Special Classifications Expected To Add Interest To The Show This Year

"Earth's Treasures" will be the theme of the annual Flower Show to be held at the Community Building in Southport on Saturday at 3 o'clock, sponsored by the Live Oak Garden Club.

General chairmen of the Show are Mrs. Basil Watts, Mrs. Tom Clert and Mrs. Anson Lewis. Clerks will be Mrs. Donald St. George, Mrs. A. A. Dixon, Mrs. P. D. Leggett and Mrs. Reece Swin.

There will be two divisions, horticulture and artistic arrangements, and officials would like to emphasize the fact that entries are open to the public with the exception of the tables and niches, which are by invitation only. All persons who have flowers blooming at this time are encouraged to participate in either or both divisions. In the horticulture division, the entry must be grown by the exhibitor.

Prizes for the first five sweepstakes in artistic arrangements and prizes for the first five sweepstakes in horticulture will be presented. One prize for tricolor in the arrangement class and one prize for award of merit in horticulture.

The Junior Garden Club classes will be as follows:
Horticulture: Class 1—One annual—one bloom or spray; class 2—One potted plant.

Arrangement classes: Class 1—One arrangement in a sea shell; class 2—One arrangement for a coffee table.

There will be a special exhibit of rocks and minerals and of African violet culture. The chairman request that all entries be removed by 8 o'clock because of the dance sponsored by the Lions Club. They will not be responsible for material and containers that are left in the building.

Commissioner Contest May Result In Protest

Dr. Earl I. Brown Is Going To Duke

Nephew Of Col. Earl I. Brown Of Southport Will Be Chairman Of Civil Engineering Department At Duke

DR. BROWN

Dr. Earl I. Brown, II, assistant dean of the School of Engineering, Auburn University, will leave his post August 31, to accept the J. A. Jones professorship of civil engineering at Duke University. In addition he will serve as chairman of that department.

Dr. Brown presently serves as assistant director of Auburn's Engineering Experiment Station in connection with his other duties.

"We do not have in mind a successor for Dr. Brown as yet," states Fred H. Pumphrey, dean of the School of Engineering. "I want to take a study of the duties involved in the position before making recommendations for a replacement."

As an engineering educator, Dr. Brown taught civil engineering at North Carolina State College and Georgia Institute of Technology. In 1954 he accepted the position of head of the Auburn University civil engineering department. He became assistant dean of the School of Engineering in 1958.

A native of Carrollton, Ga., Dr. Brown is a graduate of Virginia

Military Institute. He received the master's degree in civil engineering from North Carolina State College and the Ph. D. degree from the University of Texas.

Since coming to Auburn, he has served as a member of the graduate council and four campus committees. For four years he was secretary of the board of directors of the Auburn Research Foundation.

F. Herbert Swain Is Only Democratic Candidate In This Race Who Obtained Clear Majority Saturday

SANFORD LEADER IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

Frink Is Winner In Race For Representative; Clark Is Nominee For Registrar Deeds; Bellamy For Judge

F. Herbert Swain is the only man in the field of 16 candidates for the five nominations on the Democrat ticket to receive a clear majority in Saturday's primary election, and a major controversy looms as a possibility in settling the other four places.

This afternoon members of the Brunswick County Board of Elections voted to certify R. E. Bellamy, D. Bert Frink, Ira D. Butler and Ira L. Chadwick as high men, with Lowell B. Bennett, H. Coretz Ward, Leo Medlin and G. Kenney Lewis eligible to call for a run-off race.

Bennett said this morning that regardless of the decision reached by the board of elections that he would not be a candidate in the second primary.

Action of the board failed to heed the advice of Assistant Attorney General Glenn Hooper, who in a Western-Union day letter today advised that Swain, Bellamy and Butler should be certified as winners of nominations for their respective townships, with Frink and Ward as high men in their two townships. The letter said that R. Eugene Blair, second high man in Shallotte township, would have the right to call Frink; and that Parley Formyduval would have the right to call Ward in Waccamaw township.

Whether the decisions of the election board will be contested before the State election board remains to be seen. It is understood that Hooper is the attorney for the State board.

The commissioners received the following vote: Swain, 2006; R. E. Bellamy, 1815; Frink, 1746; Butler, 1735; Chadwick, 1535; Bennett, 1430; Ward, 1191; Medlin, 1165; Lewis, 1075; Blair, 978; Formyduval, 971; Ed Ganey, 956; Otho Bellamy, 822; P. E. Allen, 485; Robert Jones, 479; Leon L. Tripp, 468.

The biggest vote-getter on the county ticket was S. Bunn Frink, who piled up 3614 votes to 756 for J. Worth Stanley for Representative. Earl Bellamy was second high man in the county race, with a vote of 2855 against 1659 for Joe C. Stanaland in their contest for the nomination as Judge of Recorder's court. Durwood Clark had 2472 votes for Register of Deeds to defeat H. G. Ratcliffe, who polled 2030.

In the race for the two highest places for preferential vote for member of the board of education the high man was Howard Williamson, who had 2351 votes to 1222 for Sam J. Corbett, Sr., for Leland School District. In the race for member from Waccamaw School District Corbett Coleman polled 2351 votes to 1217 for Garland Long.

Terry Sanford not only led the voting for governor in Brunswick county, he actually had a majority over the other three candidates.

Funds Available For Inlets Study

Engineer

Congressman Alton Lennon Has Been Advised Funds Available For Lockwoods Folly And Shallotte Inlet

PAUL MERRITT MOORE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Moore of Southport, graduated from N. C. State College Sunday with a degree in Mechanical Engineering. He is a member of Pi Kappa Phi. He has accepted a position with Newport News Shipbuilding Co. and will report for work next Monday.

Congressman Alton A. Lennon has written this newspaper to report that funds for continuation of the study of Lockwoods Folly and Shallotte inlets apparently will be made available by action of this session of Congress.

Text of his letter follows: "In late January and again in February of this year, I formally requested the Subcommittee on Appropriations for Public Works to include an additional $15,000 for Fiscal Year 1961 for the continuing survey study and report of the Lockwood Folly River and Inlet, as well as the Shallotte River and Inlet. I am advised that amount is sufficient to complete the necessary surveys on these two important projects in our area.

"On Friday, May 20, the full House Committee on Appropriations approved this request. The House of Representatives passed the Public Works Appropriations Bill for FY 1961, which includes the additional $15,000 item. If Senate approval for this appropriation is voted, I certainly hope
