Boy Scout Work Draws Interest Of City Youth

Foxy Howard Serving As Scoutmaster, With Roger Ward Serving As Assistant Scoutmaster

ELECT OFFICERS FOR TWO PATROLS

Camping Trip To Clear Lake Is Highlight Of Recent Activities Of Organization

Interest in Boy Scout activities rose to new heights in the Southport area recently with the reorganization of Scout Troop 239, sponsored by the Southport Baptist Church. A Scouting Committee was formed a few weeks ago and is headed by L. M. Pendergraph as the chairman. Other officials include A. L. Phelps, secretary-treasurer; H. T. Bowmer, outdoorsman; Davis C. Herring, committeeman for advancement; James Ward, committeeman for service; Sam Hewett, committeeman for health and safety; Al Martin, neighborhood commissioner; and Rev. Mark Owens, institutional representative. Foxy Howard is the Scoutmaster for Troop 239 and Roger Ward is assistant.

At a recent meeting of the troop the Scouts elected their own troop officers. Second Class Scout Doshier Ruark was elected junior assistant scoutmaster; First Class Scout George Savage is the senior patrol leader; Scout Jesse Howard was selected to be the assistant senior patrol leader; Scout Don Brown is patrol leader of the Flaming Arrow Patrol with Scout John Lee Hewett as the assistant patrol leader. The Flying Eagle Patrol has Scout Don Hardee as the patrol leader and Scout Bill Faulk is the assistant patrol leader. Scout Ralph Phelps is the troop scribe and Second Class Scout Harvey Prevatte is the quartermaster.

At a ceremony held week before last at the Cape Fear Council Offices in Wilmington, Scoutmaster Howard was presented with the Troop Charter and arrangements were made to hold the District Court of Honor in Southport in September. This will be the first time that this impressive ceremony has been conducted in this area in recent years and a large crowd of mothers, fathers and other interested spectators can be expected to be present when the local Scouts are bled forward to receive their badges for recent promotions and merit badge accomplishments.

Interest among the Scouts is at a new high. The Flaming Arrow and Flying Eagle Patrols have been presented their patrol flags by the scoutmaster and all of the Scouts are busy passing tests to make their patrol the top patrol of the troop and possibly in the council. Meetings are held each Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the old Baptist parsonage with the Men's Sunday School classroom being utilized as a meeting room until the upstairs area is wired for electricity and is turned over to the troop for a permanent headquarters. The Scouts will need one long council table, eight to ten feet in length; two round patrol tables that will seat eight boys each; and about twenty straight chairs. The scoutmaster has asked that anyone having old

Committee To Raise Funds For Campbell

H. Lyndon Clemmons Of Supply Is Heading A Committee For This Purpose In Brunswick

A citizen's committee for the Campbell College development program began a campaign in Brunswick County with a dinner meeting in Shallotte Point last Tuesday evening. Presiding was H. Lyndon Clemmons, retired farmer and timber cruiser of the Brunswick County drive.

The Brunswick effort is one of many local campaigns now going on across the state to raise the two million dollars Campbell needs in new building and endowment to become a four-year college.

Other local committeemen present Tuesday were J. H. Holden and Edwin Clemmons of Shallotte, S. J. Corbett, T. M. Corbett and J. D. Long of Leland, and J. J. Hardee of Supply. The group set as its goal $25,000 to be pledged now in Brunswick County for contribution to the Campbell development program over a five-year period.

The actual fund raising in Brunswick will begin, the committee decided, after a community meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m., July 26 in the First Baptist Church of Supply. The public is invited to this meeting, which will feature President L. H. Campbell and other representatives of the college as principal speakers.

Because of its already large establishment and its strategic location, Campbell, has been named by the State Baptist Convention to assume the role played in Eastern North Carolina by Wake Forest College before its removal to Winston-Salem.

At the meeting in Shallotte last

Opening Date Of Market Unsettled

Committee Charged With Responsibility For Making Decision Meeting Tomorrow (Thursday) Nite At Fairmont

AUGUST 11 BELIEVED TO BE PROBABLE DATE

Late Crop Has Resulted In Decision To Postpone The Opening Of The Border Belt Later Than Usual

A committee will meet tomorrow (Thursday) night in Fairmont to make a final decision on the opening date for the Border Belt tobacco market.

Late last week the Georgia-Florida belt announced it would open July 28th. Last week the South Carolina market or Pee Dee belt, as it is styled, says it will open August 11.

The August 11 date is one that has been generally rumored as the time the Border Belt would open also.

A meeting of the Border Belt warehousemen last Thursday night in Lumberton did not come up with any positive dates in view of the then lacking information about South Carolina.

The South Carolina market was reported meeting the same night to make its decision.

Under the Border belt plan set up last Thursday night, a special committee was to survey the situation then report back to the board of directors early this week.

The results of the survey are expected to give an indication of when the market date will be.

On the committee from this area are Buck Peay, Myrtle Beach, Whiteville warehouse operator and president of the Whiteville Tobacco Board of Trade; Dial Gray of Whiteville; Roscoe C. Coleman of Tabor City; J. F. Bullard of

Corporal Lynch Urges Safety

State Highway Patrolman Cites Tables Of Safety Governing Speed And Stopping Distance

Traffic safety is everybody's business, in the opinion of Corporal O. H. Lynch of the State Highway Patrol.

"Slow down and live" is the warning we have repeated over and over, said Corporal Lynch this week, "but that is not enough. The man or woman behind the wheel of an automobile or truck must watch the other motorists and the pedestrians."

Helicopter Is Used For Check

The helicopter arrived in the county on Sunday afternoon for the purpose of spot checking Brunswick County tobacco acreage. This job got underway Monday morning at around 5 a. m. It is not known at this time just which farms were spot checked. Each year the State ASC Office is required to spot check a certain percent of the tobacco farms in the State. The helicopter was used for this the first time in 1959 and proved to be the most economical and fastest way to do the job.

Issues Warning To Housewives

Social Security Reports And Payments For Domestic Servants Due This Month

Mrs. Doris Moss, Field Representative of the Social Security Office in Wilmington, reminds of housewives they must file social security reports by July 30, if they employed anyone in their private home and paid cash wages of $50 or more during April, May, and June, 1960.

Employers in this area send these reports, together with the proper amount of tax, to the District Director of Internal Revenue in Greensboro. These reports must be filed and the tax paid to provide these household workers with protection against total loss of income due to old age or disability and to provide some measure of income to their dependents in case of their death.

Mrs. Moss said the law places the responsibility for filing social security returns on the employer. It authorizes him to withhold three per cent from the employee's wages, and to pay an additional three per cent from his own funds. If he fails to deduct this from the worker's wage, he is still responsible for the full six per cent.

Failure to file these reports when due will add penalties and interest when paid at a later date, whether it is paid voluntarily or involuntarily. This is true even though an employee may object to the tax deduction. It is not optional for either the employer or the employee.

Social Security coverage was first extended to household employees in 1951. Since 1955, the law has required a non-farm employer to make quarterly reports and pay the social security tax on any household worker to whom he paid as much as $50 in cash wages within the three-month period. The only exception involves certain members of the employer's family.

Five Convicted Of Liquor Sales

Judge Earl Bellamy Makes This An Expensive Side-Line For Defendants In Recorder's Court Monday

Trial was held for six of the seven persons arrested by ABC undercover agents and Sheriff's Deputies two weeks ago in the weekly session of Brunswick county Recorder's court, and heavy fines were meted out by Judge Earl Bellamy to five who were convicted.

A nol pros was taken in the case against Leo Sellers and another defendant, Golic Lewis, asked for trial in Superior court. Bond was set at $200.

Harvey I. Chadwick was convicted of selling tax-paid whiskey and was given 9 months, suspended upon payment of a fine of $150 and costs, with two years good behavior.

John Garner received a similar sentence, with provision that the remaining stock be confiscated.

Horace Hewett was convicted of selling beer and was given 9 months, sentence suspended upon payment of costs and a fine of $150. His remaining stock was confiscated and his prescribed period of good behavior was 3 years.

Elmer Mooney was convicted for sale of tax-paid whiskey and

Col. Duffie Back On Duty After California Trip

Commanding Officer At Sunny Point Attended One Month Course At Stanford University

Lt. Col. Johnnie D. Duffie is back on duty as commanding officer of Sunny Point Army Terminal after spending one month in special study at Stanford University, in California.

Forty-nine transportation executives drawn from U. S. industry and military services attended the 1960 Transportation Management Program of Stanford University's Graduate School of Business.

The intensive four-week program, only one of its kind in the nation, is built around actual case problems taken from the various modes of transportation.

The course of study includes business policy, transportation economics, financial analysis, transportation management, and public speaking.

An additional feature is the "management game," in which the student-executives set up their own companies and compete in the manufacture and sale of a fictitious product.

By feeding their managerial decisions into a computer, the teams can determine effects of their decisions upon their share of the market and upon the profit potential of their companies. The computer makes it possible to simulate several years of competition in a few weeks.

Karl M. Ruppenthal, lecturer in transportation and management at Stanford, directed the program.

Reserve Officers At Sunny Point

Officers And Men From Mobile, Alabama, And Meridian, Mississippi, On Active Duty Here

USING PRACTICAL TRAINING METHOD

Counterpart Training Gives Reserve Officers Opportunity To Learn By Doing

Members of the Headquarters Transportation Ammunition Terminal of Mobile, Ala. and Meridian, Miss. are engaged this week in the first phase of their counterpart training program at Sunny Point Army Terminal. These men are on their annual two-weeks training program.

These men are working side by side with the regular working personnel at Sunny Point, and their training is being carried out by performing the duties to which they would be assigned if and when they are called to active duty.

The Sunny Point Army Terminal is the most modern ammunition terminal in the world, and is the only specialized terminal of its kind in the United States. During an inspection visit of this installation last week, Brig. Gen. James F. Tank, Commanding General of the U. S. Army Transportation Terminal Command, Atlantic, described Sunny Point as the safest and most modern ammunition terminal ever built.

The arrival of the training unit from Meridian and from Mobile coincided with a period of busy activity as shipping operations are now in progress at two berths. Another ship is expected to arrive during the coming weekend. The men are quartered in the batchelors officers quarters on the base and meals are served at the cafeteria.

Following is a roster of the officers and men from Meridian: Post Commander, Col. Oliver W. Brackman; Deputy Post Commander, Lt. Col. Warren E. Ragland; Comptroller, Lt. Col. Paul H. Bubeck; Director of Admin., Lt. Col. Theo G. Watson; Director of Operations, Major Charles E. Calloway; Director of Services, Lt. Col. George M. Green, Jr.; Gen. Supply Officer, Capt. Howard G. Secrest; Safety Officer, Major Ralph S. Treadwell; Finance Officer, Major John E. Crowe; Adjutant General, Capt. Paul D. Linnevoild; Civilian Personnel Officer, 1st Lt. Joseph E. Hinton; Chief of Staff, Capt. Asa D. Shirley; Chief of Division, Capt. Calvin E. Scarbrough; Chief Procurement, Major Albert B. Weddington, Jr.; Motor Transportation Officer, 1st Lt. James D. Williams; Field Trans. Officer, Capt. Ernest N. Bishop; Yardmaster, Capt. Claude A. Boutwell; Post Signal Officer, 1st Lt. Philip E. Emerson; Fire Protection Officer, 1st Lt. Harold E. Wright; Ch. Harbor Craft Opp. SP. 5 Kenneth C. Boardman; Adm. M/Sgt. (E-7) Cecil C. Germany.

TIME and TIDE

By JIMMIE HARKER

Our July 17 edition for the year 1935 announced that C. A. Ledford had been elected principal at Southport high school. Heavy rains had caused crop and road damage in Brunswick county, with a cave-in occurring on Highway No. 17 near Bolivia. Announcement was made that work was about to begin on the erection of a seafood freezing plant at Southport. A 6-foot alligator had been caught in a shrimp net while trawling operations were in progress in a creek near Southport; a mule belonging to a farmer in the Shallotte Village area had been struck and killed by lightning; and our community news coverage included correspondence from Grissettown, Shallotte Village, Town Creek, Winnabow and Supply Route No. 1.

Seven new historical markers had been erected in Brunswick, according to report in our July 17 edition for the year 1940. A Little Theatre group had been organized here and Lella Hubbard (Pigott) had been elected president. Homecoming services were being planned at New Hope Presbyterian church for the following Sunday.

Contract had been let for printing 15,000 advertising folders for Brunswick county; cottages were spring up at Long Beach, and one of our columnists had observed that "it is getting to be right much of a summer colony over there."

W. R. Lingle had resigned as principal at Southport high school and had accepted a similar position in Jacksonville. This news was contained in The Pilot for July 18, 1945. Business was slacking off at the Wilmington Shipyard, and the W. B. & S. had taken off their regular bus to that installation.

The war was still in progress, but Japan was being subjected to a merciless bombing by U. S. forces. A front page picture
