High Times

Bonjour! comment allez-vous? Fine we hope! Parlez-vous Francaise? (If not, too bad!)

Wow! If you didn't go to that game Friday night you really missed a winner! Our boys were really terrific! They have never played better! So, now we are in position to go to Kenansville. Isn't that wonderful?

As some of you probably know, a non-denominational youth fellowship has been started for all young people in Southport. The idea originated in October 1960 when Bethel Baptist Church had its revival. As its guest singer, a young man from Swansboro, was asked to come and lead the choir in his singing, and to lead our young people in some group gathering. Everyone enjoyed the meetings so much that Rev. Paul Odem, along with the help of parents, decided to start an organization for the purpose of providing clean, wholesome recreation for Southport's young people. Our meetings are held the second and fourth Sunday night of each month, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Larry Wolf is president of the fellowship and leads us in recreation. Mrs. Ann Price is our adult advisor. There are always some other parents at our meetings to help us out, and we appreciate it very much. We have an average attendance of 30-35 boys and girls each meeting. We hope that it will grow and that our organization will be a success. Be sure to let your friends know so they can come and join in the fun at our next meeting.

This week we decided to try something a little different for our column. We have interviewed several of the students on the question, "Do you believe there is life on other planets?" We hope to continue this every week, using a different question. We hope you like it!

"Do you Believe There Is Life On Other Planets?" as answered by the following students:

George Allen: "I don't know. I don't ever think about things like that. There might be."

Sally Ward: "I have no idea. I guess anything is possible, but

Sunday Ceremony

Kathryn Carson and Diane Carrier were honored at an impressive ceremony Sunday evening at Southport Baptist Church when they were crowned Queens of Girls Auxiliary.—(Neil Lewis Photo.)

Coronation Service Held For Intermediate Girls Auxiliary

Against a background of flowers and candles in green, white and gold, official colors of their organization, Kathryn Carson and Diane Carrier, members of the Carol Leigh Humphries Intermediate Girl Auxiliary of the Southport Baptist Church, were crowned Queens of Girls Auxiliary in an impressive ceremony on Sunday night, January 29, thus climaxed more than a year of intensive study by them.

Depicting the theme of the service, "A Story To Tell", the large pulpit Bible was used against a green drapery with letters beneath giving the theme, thus forming the center of interest.

The Queens entered the auditorium preceded by their crown bearer, Sharon Troll and Kelly Sue Johnson, as the organist, Mrs. A. E. Huntley, played the national hymn, "God of our Fathers". On reaching the stage each girl received her crown and charge from her mother, both of whom are counselors of their organization.

Others taking part in the service were Mrs. Larry McClure, soloist, and her accompanist, Miss Carolyn Seagraves; Mrs. M. T. McRacken, Association Missionary, who served as reader; Mrs. Fred Burdette, Jr., counselor of the Mildred Matthews Junior Girls Auxiliary, who gave the awards and charge to the Maidens; Mrs. Clinton Bellamy, assistant counselor; Mrs. L. M. Pendergraph, Director of Girls Auxiliary, who awarded and charged the Ladies-in-Waiting; and Mrs. Mark Owens who awarded and charged the Princesses.

Mrs. Roy Arntsen, President of the Southport W. M. U. gave the welcome, and the scripture was read by Mrs. Leroy Price, Associational W. M. U. president. Mrs. Thomas Young, Association G. A. Director, was also present for the occasion as was Miss Rachel Kye who has reached the highest step in Girls Auxiliary, that of Queen Regent-in-Service.

The ushers for the evening were Dickie Aldridge, Jesse Howard, Kenneth Phelps and Robert Clevenger. Members of the three Girls Auxiliaries taking part were: Maidens: Frances Edwards, Valerie Swain, Brenda Pendergraph, Diane Warth, Carole Kraun, Helen Faulk, Harriet St. George, Linda Poindexter, Sarah Barnes, Betty Sue Stidham, Kathy Poteet, Susan Bellamy, Debra Arntsen, Rachel Harrelson, Sallie Tomlinson, Vickie Smith and Joanne Gregory.

Ladies-in-Waiting: Zettie Marie Carrier, Jean Burdette, and Joyce Ward; Princesses: Leonne Arntsen and Brenda Jordan.

Following the coronation, a reception given by the Woman's Missionary Union was held at the home of Mrs. Burdette under the direction of Mrs. E. J. Prevatte, Mrs. L. J. Hardee, Mrs. E. B. Tomlinson, and Mrs. Laura Motley. The table setting featured a tiered cake by Mrs. H. A. Livingston in the colors of the Auxiliary and topped by a G. A. monogram.

SEEN AROUND: Everyone at the game Friday; . . . Some juniors planning a big weekend! . . . George, David Ray, Shaaron, Sally, and Chuck having a blast at the movie Saturday night. Right George? . . . Now is the time to: plan your vegetable garden; check the power mower; sharpen tools; repair hose, sprayers and dusters; examine the compost pile; order sufficient seed of adapted vegetable varieties to meet the needs of your family; and build a cold frame or hot bed. Your pruning chores should be completed.

The actual site of the garden is important but many gardeners have no choice in this respect. If you are lucky enough to have a choice of sites, choose one as near the house as possible. This is for convenience, protection and availability of water for irrigation.

Stay away from large trees for two reasons—they have extensive root systems which will compete with the vegetables for moisture, and they produce shade. Most vegetables like full sun.

Avoid soils which are poorly drained. If you have a new home, be on the look-out for mortar, brick, stumps and other debris that may have covered while establishing a final grade.

It is a good idea to plan your garden on paper. This will give an opportunity to locate all crops, arrange for succession plantings and assure a plentiful supply of vegetables for fresh use, freezing and canning.

Plant perennials along one side of the garden so they will be out of the way when you are working your annual crops. I'm speaking of such things as asparagus, rhubarb, strawberries, dewberries and raspberries.

Plan for continuous harvest by weekly plantings of such crops as

JOINT BIRTHDAYS
Basil Ray Watts and his sister, Mary Ellen Watts, observed their joint birthday on January 30 with a party at their home in Southport. He is 13 years of age and she is 7.

Refreshments were served to guests, who included Joyce, Kathy, Harriett and Julie St. George, Kyra Parker, Carol Hewett, Jenny King, Cornelia Bowman, Kathy Potter, Mrs. Donald St. George and Mrs. Hulian Watts.
