

Clark vs. Clark—

Local Midgets Get Win Over Leland

By FOXY HOWARD

The best ball game of the year was played at Taylor Field Thursday night to the delight of a stand-full of fans, but it wasn't the big boys that were playing.

The Southport and Leland Little Leaguers tied up in one of their famous duels with the Clark boys, Durwood for Leland and Roland for Southport, opposing each other on the mound; and like the last game, this one was tight all the way with Southport winning by a score of 6-5 to even things up for the one-run loss they suffered to Leland in their first game.

The two teams will play a rubber game Saturday afternoon at Leland for the unofficial Brunswick County Little-league Championship.

Stephen Parker started on the mound for Southport and gave up four runs on two hits, four walks, one error and three passed balls. Roland Clark took over the pitching duties mid-way the third inning and Gary Clark took over the catcher's position at the same time with Jim Manis going to second base for the remainder of the game. Clark finished up the eleven inning game to receive credit for the victory, striking out sixteen batters and walking two while giving up one run on three hits and one error.

starting pitcher for Leland but gave way to Durwood Clark at the start of the third inning after allowing one run on two hits and one walk while striking out three Southport batters. Clark pitched eight innings of good baseball but took the loss as he gave up five runs on eight hits while striking out thirteen and walking only four batters. Both of the finishing hurlers had good control all the way as they each struck out an average of about four men for every walk they gave up.

Leland's big inning was the first when they scored three runs. Mike Williams led off with a walk and was safe at second on J. V. Ganey's slow roller to the left of the pitcher's mound. Summerlin popped up to Gary Clark at second base for the initial out and Durwood forced Williams at third for the second out. A series of passed balls and a walk to Mike Holmes let Ganey and Clark in with the first two runs. M. B. Williams, the Leland catcher, singled in Holmes with the third tally. Bobby Williamson ended the inning as he rolled out to Chip Graham at first for the third out.

Southport came up with a big inning in the sixth when they scored three times. Pat Duffie led off with the second of his three singles for the night. Roland Clark drew a walk and Stephen Parker cleared the bases with a long triple into center field. Manis went down swinging for the first out. Bob Graham laid down a nice bunt single to bring in Parker with the tying

Boiling Springs May Draw Vet

Out-Of-State Lot Buyer Interested In Possibility In Brunswick For Full Time Veterinarian

Brunswick county's newest residential development may be the means for attracting the first resident veterinarian to practice here. Dr. J. E. Cochran of Plainfield, Ind., came into The Pilot office one day last week to ask about the prospects for a man of this profession in this county. He had seen an advertisement about Boiling Spring Lakes, had come down from a resort area up the coast for an on-the-scene inspection, and had liked what he saw.

"I have just purchased a couple of lots at Boiling Spring Lakes," he said, "and already I am interested in how to use them before I am ready to retire. I have a good practice, but I want to get away from the winters we have at my home. And I do not want to run right into the heat of Florida summers. I think I would like your year-round climate here in Southeastern North Carolina."

Dr. Cochran was informed that there is no veterinarian in Brunswick, but there are frequent needs for one. As for the best location for a residence, it was suggested that some point in the center of the county would be best. "How about Boiling Spring Lakes", he asked? He was told that this would appear to be a very desirable location, and that he would have the benefit of an unusually fine telephone network which connects every area of the county except Southport; and that Southern Bell served the county seat.

Dr. Cochran left for his trip back to Indiana, but promised that he would contact County Agent A. S. Knowles regarding the probable opportunities for a man in his profession. "I have lived and worked in North Carolina," he said wistfully as he departed, "and I sure do like the run to keep Southport in the game. Mike Parker fanned for the second out. Jack Duffie ended the inning as he looked at a called third strike.

Southport's winning tally came in the eleventh inning with nobody out when Chip Graham worked Clark for a walk and went to second on a passed ball. Gary Clark also drew a base on balls to set the stage for a successful double steal that went like clockwork. Pat Duffie ended things by smashing a hot grounder through the infield that Judson Croom stopped behind second base but could not get the ball into the plate in time to keep Graham from scoring the game-ending run.

Pat Parker, Chip Webb and Scooter Parker also broke into the line-up as pinch hitters and figured in the win as they kept the Leland pitchers from getting a rest on the mound.

Brunswick County Youth Attends Forestry Camp In Bladen County

Among the 90 boys attending the fifteenth annual North Carolina Forestry Training Camp for farm boys last week at Singletary Lake Group Camp near Elizabeth town was Ronald Clark Hewitt of Brunswick County.

The camp is sponsored by the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association in cooperation with the North Carolina Division of Forestry, Department of Conservation and Development. It is financed by the following member companies of the Association: Weyerhaeuser Company, North Carolina Div., Plymouth; Riegel Paper Corp., Bolton; The Champion Paper and Fibre Co., Canton; and International Paper Co., Raleigh, N. C.

According to Bert S. Hays, camp director and fire prevention forester with the North Carolina Division of Forestry, the boys will receive instruction in forest management, insect and disease, tree identification, fire control, timber estimating, and utilization. Foresters from the participating paper companies and foresters from the North Carolina Division of Forestry will be instructors at the camp.

In addition to the forestry courses the boys will also be given an opportunity to participate in various recreational activities such as swimming, softball, volleyball, and hiking.

At the conclusion of the camping period the boys will compete for prizes in tests and contests based on various phases of forestry and related courses. Awards also will be given to the three best campers based on their test grades, spirit of cooperation and over-all camping ability.

idea of coming back here to live some day. And the sooner it is the better I'll like it", he added.

Swine Show And Sale Next Week

County Agricultural Agent Passes Word To Farmers Of Brunswick Who May Be Interested

The Seventh Annual North Carolina Hog Show and Sale will be held in Wilmington on August 15-16 at the New Hanover Livestock Arena located at the county farm, reports A. S. Knowles, county agricultural agent.

The show and sale is open to both commercial and purebred breeders. There is also a junior and adult division. The purpose of this annual show is to teach swine producers throughout the state how to judge quality in their herds.

An individual may put in as many as 18 hogs in the show. The prices in past years have been a little over market prices in these shows. The light-weight class is 180-210 pounds, and the heavy-weight runs from 211-240 pounds.

Premiums are very good in the show. For individual hogs, the first place would earn $6 and the sixth place $1. In pens of 3 and 5 hogs first place would get $8 and sixth place $2. These premiums are the same for the junior and adult divisions, but they do not compete against each other. Those who have hogs of the
