Southport Plays Host To Lejeune Friday Nite Here

Southport plays host to the powerful Camp Lejeune High School football team Friday night in a game which is scheduled for 8 o'clock at Taylor Field.

Coach Pete Lee has been drilling his squad this week for what will be their toughest assignment of the fall, and has found his thin ranks further reduced by injuries and academic deficiencies.

Chief victim on the first score is big Donald Dixon, a tower of strength in the Dolphin forward wall. He was in the hospital over the past weekend with a recurrence of a back injury suffered last season in basketball. He is out for the balance of the year.

James Huestess senior halfback is just getting over an ankle injury and is working out today for the first time in 10-days. Yesterday there was a report that Wade Beard, freshman lineman, had a sprained back.

Big Louis Clay Evans and Freddie Spencer were scholastic casualties, and loss of the latter will be a particularly bad blow since he had played every minute of every game this fall at end.

This leaves Coach Lee with very few and very light-weight reserves.

Coach Lee will start C. E. Murphy at quarterback, Huestess and Jerry Spencer at the halves; Rodney Garner, fullback; Mike Patterson and Bubba Rogers, ends; Bill Coring and Ed Harper, tackles; Jimmy Garner and Stacey Sellers, guards; Frankie Rogers, center. Replacements must come from Wade Beard, Rip Howard, Don Hardee and Mike Lee.

Uses Shotgun To Take Own Life

Supply Youth Dies Sunday Night Of Self-Inflicted Gunshot Wounds; Funeral Services Tuesday

An 18-year-old Supply youth ended his life Sunday night at the home of his parents, using a shotgun to destroy himself.

George Edward Lovett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhugh Lovett, was reported to have borrowed the weapon, a single-barreled 410-gauge shotgun, from a neighbor, saying that he wanted to go hunting the next day.

Waiting until about 8:30 p. m. Sunday, when members of his family were at church services, the distraught youth was said to have seated himself on the living room floor, placed the barrel of the borrowed gun against his stomach and pulled the trigger by the aid of a wooden yardstick.

Brunswick County Coroner Lowell Bennett said that death followed within a few minutes of the act and before assistance could be summoned. The coroner certified the death as due to "self-inflicted gunshot wound" and stated that no inquest will be conducted.

The dead youth left no notes. The dead boy's father is a semi-invalid as a result of a stroke suffered some time ago.

The body was removed to Powell's Funeral Home at Shallotte and funeral services were held Tuesday from the Supply Baptist Church, with burial in the Oak Grove cemetery.

VISITS SISTER

Mrs. Al Crumpler recently spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Lee Smith of Supply. Mrs. Crumpler was the former Vivian McKeithan of Shallotte.

CEMETERY WORK

The Galloway cemetery at Supply is open to any who wish to plant trees, shrubs and flowers, according to Mrs. Coyet H. Gray, who further informs that a well of fresh water is awaiting within the grounds. Mrs. Gray invites workers to come "help make the cemetery a still more beautiful and restful spot."

Interest Grows In Girl Scouts

Second Brownie Troop Is Added To Southport Girl Scout Organization

A second Brownie Troop has been added to Southport's Girl Scout organization, providing membership for all second and third grade girls on the waiting list, and with openings for four additional Brownies.

The new troops, is under the leadership of Mrs. Marion Pigott, with Mrs. Ellen Watts and Mrs. Lucy Southerland as Assistants. Mrs. Dorothy Glone will continue as leader of Troop 20 with assistance from Mrs. Hilda Styron, Mrs. Hilda Austin and Mrs. Alison Beasley.

Six girls were invited into the Brownie at their meeting on Monday, and eight new members were welcomed into the two troops. New members are Mary D. Swan, Telle Jo Mintz, Debbie Coleman, Alison Beasley, Jerra Poteet, June Mintz, Paula Davis and Judy Poindexter.

Those receiving their Brownie pins were Renee Horne, Mary Owens, Donna Hahn, Mary Ellen Watts, Johnnie Dowling and Sandy Allen Spencer.

Troop 20 will continue to meet on Mondays, with the time changed to 3:30 p. m. The new Troop will meet on Wednesdays at the same hour.

Parents who are interested in having girls, aged 8 to 10, join the new Brownie Troop, may make application, in writing, to Mrs. Ruby Bowman, Brownie Troops Chairman.
