

Boosters Club Hears Report Of Progress On Athletic Field

The Southport Boosters Club met Tuesday night and during the meeting members received a report from the Taylor Memorial Stadium Committee and were assured that the new grandstand at Taylor Field will be ready in time for the first baseball game of the 1962 season.

The new grandstand will be 36 by 62 feet in size, and will be properly constructed with brick-pillar foundations and creosoted lumber wherever the lumber comes in contact with the ground. Present plans allow for two large dressing rooms and a stairwell between the two seating areas. The backstop will have a solid board foundation two to three feet in height and a heavy gauge wire will be stretched from the board foundation to the top of the grandstand the entire width of the seating area. A tin roof with a two foot overhand all around will be installed.

The lighting committee reported that the debt on the lights at Taylor Field has been reduced from $3,000 a year ago to $1,254 at the present time. A new call was issued by the committee for donations from interested persons in the Southport area who wish to help in the further reduction of this debt.

Members present voted to sponsor another Turkey Shoot on December 16 at Taylor Field from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Turkeys ranging in size from twelve to fourteen pounds will be given to the winner of each round and a special target will be set up for a Bicycle Shoot. The bicycle tar-

Southport Opens Cage Season In Two Twin Bills

Southport opens the basketball season with a bang here this weekend with double-headers on both Friday and Saturday nights.

The first pair of opponents will be the Dixon boys and girls, who open the season Friday night. The Dixon boys are coached by Tom Webb, former Southport High School principal.

On Saturday night the boys and girls from Hallsboro High School will be here for a double-header. This year the Southport girls are being coached by Clifford White, a new member of the faculty. He has missed several valuable players who graduated, but has tried to build his team around several girls who played

Bloomer Girls Steal Show As Old Folks Play The Youngsters

The Southport Black Bloomers used experience, questionable foul calls, and a ladder to play the Southport High School Dolphinettes to a 37-37 tie in the High School gymnasium Tuesday night.

With 12 seconds showing on the clock it looked like a sure victory for the Dolphinettes, but exte-nager Vera McKeithan calmly wiped the sweat from her nervous brow and tossed in a free throw to knot the score. Bloomer Girl Virginia Walton was clearly the outstanding player on the court. Twice the Black Bloomers used a ladder to make their goals, but well last season.

One of these is Sally Ward, a top scorer throughout last year's schedule. Also back at a forward berth is Jean Cochran, and teaming with this pair on the first team is Frances Smith, a freshman who demonstrated good scoring ability with the junior varsity last season. Brenda Jordan, another freshman, is sure to play some at forward, and Frances Edwards, a freshman candidate for guard, may also play some at the other end of the court.

Patty Jenkins is the only experienced guard returning, and Charlotte Evans and Frances Edwards have been running with her. Linda Spencer is another possible starter who is sure to get in plenty of playing time. Other guard candidates include Lydia Long, Martha Mallison and Reba Poindexter.

vided the margin of victory for the Dolphins.

"Pappy" Rogers did a good job of shaking the floorboards loose as he lumbered tirelessly up and down the court setting up plays and getting fouled. Little "Willie" Williams almost pulled the game out of fire for the "Dads" as he let loose a tremendous toss just after the final whistle from the opposite end of the court. The shot carried a good fifty feet and almost hit the backboard. "Slim" Murphy was also outstanding as he contained C. E. Jr., limiting him to only 30 points for the Dolphins. "Stump" Spencer's finesse with the basketball as he dribbled up and down the court (without ever taking a shot) also turned out to be a crowd pleaser. The Dolphins were obviously disappointed that they could not trim the Dads by a larger margin, but then they have never been up against opposition of that caliber before.

The Southport Boosters Club sponsored the games for the purpose of raising a necessary $200 for new uniforms for this year's Dolphins basketball teams. The proceeds from these two games, added to the proceeds from the 2nd Annual "Booster Bowl" football game, practically assures the Dolphins of their new uniforms before the first regularly scheduled basketball game rolls around.

HOUSEWARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Britt were honored at a housewarming party Friday night at Supply. The ladies of Supply gave the party to the newly-married couple on the occasion of their moving into their new home here, the former residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Parker.

get will be up all day and anyone who wishes may take a shot at it anytime while the Turkey Shoot is in progress. The winner will receive his choice of a boys or girls bicycle. The shoot this time will be expanded to include a series of rifle matches for those who contend that the element of luck is present with the shotgun and wish to prove their skill with a .22 caliber rifle.

The Boosters Club voted to present C. Ross Livingston with a life-time pass to all athletic games in Southport in recognition of his long years of contribution to the Booster Club effort. Thanks from the Southport Boosters Club also were voted to Colonel Johnnie D. Duffie and Captain Ralph Cammack for their cooperation.

Appreciation was expressed W. N. Williams and H. T. Sanders of the high school faculty and to Curt Williamson and Jojo Fullwood for their help on the gate at the athletic contests sponsored by the Boosters Club; and to Blake Builders Supply for their contribution of sound equipment for use at the football and baseball games and for their donation of lumber and other building supplies used in the construction of the refreshment stand.

The next Booster Club meeting will be held on January 23 at the Southport City Hall.

Coach Pete Lee has the unhappy assignment of defending the Brunswick county championship with a squad which lost four of its five starters, not to mention several strong replacements. Donald Dixon, 6-ft 3-in center, is the only regular back this year. With him will be C. E. Murphy and Frank Rogers, both 5-ft, 11-in; and 6-footers Rodney Garner and Clive Doshier, all of whom started in at least one game last season. Jerry Spencer is a classy 5-ft, 10-in prospect who is showing up well in his first year of cage play.

Wayne Austin, tallest man on the squad, is without prior experience but may develop into some first line help. The same can be said of Ed Harper, 6-ft, 2-in, freshman. Other squad members are Rip Howard, Kenneth Phelps, Mike Lee and Don Hardee.

The Dolphins received a blow this week when Foxy Howard, of whom much was expected this season, became a scholastic casualty.

Tobacco Survey Help To Farmer

Information Regarding Different Varieties Will Help Next Year; Tobacco Meeting Planned

According to a report just made available on a recent tobacco survey, farmers are doing well with disease resistant varieties that have been recently developed. A. S. Knowles, County Agricultural Agent, says that the majority of Brunswick County farmers still plant Hicks Broad Leaf, but the state-wide survey shows nearly a hundred dollars per acre more return on some of the disease resistant varieties than on Hicks.

This survey indicates that Coker 316 averaged 166 more pounds per acre than Hicks; that N. C. 95 averaged 187 more pounds than Hicks; and that McNair 10 averaged 147 pounds more per acre than Hicks.

These varieties and other production practices will be discussed at the Annual Winter Tobacco Meeting to be held at the auditorium of Shallotte High School on the night of December 13. All tobacco producers are invited to hear S. N. Hawks, Extension Agronomy Specialist, at that time.
